

Younkin Family News Bulletin 1937-1941

From 1934 to 1941, pioneering Younkin cousins joined together to conduct the annual Younkin national reunions in Somerset County, Pennsylvania. In 1934, the Younkin Family Association elected its first officers, president Otto Roosevelt Younkin, Vice President Frederick E. Younkin, secretary Charles Arthur Younkin, treasurer Milton Bruce Younkin, and assistant secretary Nellie B. Wiley. The first Younkin National Homecoming Reunion was in September 1934 at the Kingwood Picnic Grove. To celebrate these first national reunions, Author and genealogist Mark A. Miner created an online archive titled "Younkin Reunion Archives 1934 to 1941" available at: www.minerd.com/yfnb.htm.

Charles Arthur Younkin aka "Charleroi Charley", printed the first Younkin Family News Bulletin (YFNB) in 1937, from his home in Charleroi, Pennsylvania. Charles produced and distributed eight (8) YFNB issues to families across the nation. Miner reprinted the bulletin in a printed booklet available for purchase. Miner's article titled "Charleroi Charley's Prolific Pen" describes how influential Charles Arthur Younkin and the YFNB were to the Younkin family genealogy. The following link is to Miner's article on Charles Arthur Younkin: https://www.minerd.com/bio-younkin,_charlesarthur.htm. Charles considered it his "sacred duty" to help other cousins to discover family roots. By 1934, Charles had found that the Younkin ancestors were German and had first arrived in America in 1737.

Charles Younkin
1880-1950

In a letter to an Iowa cousin, Charles writes: "My heart is with all you fine Younkin folks in any move to help bind this great family more closely together." Charles and other Younkin cousin's pioneering genealogy grew to a national reunion with up to 1500 cousins attending, a phenomenon Miner called the "Great Younkin Awakening." Charles Younkin published his latest news bulletin in June 1941. The last national reunion occurred on Sunday, 10 August 1941, with 1000 relatives attending. Charles' YFNB efforts set the stage for the renewed interest in Younkin family connections today. The following is a list of the eight (8) published YFNB issues:

- Younkin Family News Bulletin - Volume 1, Number 1, Christmas 1937
- Younkin Family News Bulletin - Volume 1, Number 2, April 30, 1938
- Younkin Family News Bulletin - Volume 1, Number 3, August 5, 1938
- Younkin Family News Bulletin - Volume 1, Number 4, December 20, 1938
- Younkin Family News Bulletin - Volume 2, Number 1 & 2, August 10, 1939
- Younkin Family News Bulletin - Volume 2, Number 3 & 4, March 15, 1940
- Younkin Family News Bulletin - Volume 3, Number 1 & 2, September 25, 1940
- Younkin Family News Bulletin - Volume 3, Number 3 & 4, June 30, 1941

In January 2025, Mark A. Miner provided Mark T. Youngkin with 27 image files of the YFNB issues. Youngkin converted and combined the images into a single PDF file for easier reading. Youngkin added a cover page, table of contents, and surname index to the combined volume of news bulletins.

Many Attend Annual Reunion At I. O. O. F. Grove, In W. Va.

Kingwood, W. Va., Was The Scene Of A Great Multitude Of 1000 Relatives And Friends of the Younklin Family Group

Persons near 1000 in number gathered at the beautiful I. O. O. F. Grove at Kingwood, Pa., Sunday, August 22, 1937 to attend the 4th Annual Reunion of this great Younklin Family group. Through the day was anything but pleasant for a gathering of this nature, as it rained continuously all day long, but the spirit of this great family group is not easily broken, as was shown on this day, it takes more than a rainy day to keep the folks away from this great annual event. Early in the day a continuous stream of cars began to arrive and continued to do so for past mid-day. The spacious pavilion was quickly filled to capacity and the new recently erected pavilion was also filled, and all other buildings were quickly taken up. Many hundreds of the folks kept to their cars, owing to the lack of other shelter. The usual visiting which is one of the main features of this great annual gathering was somewhat marred, but all was taken with a wonderful spirit which is always present at these gatherings. The morning program a short one of music and song, then a bounteous noonday meal was spread (owing to the weather the many tables under the trees in the spacious grove could not be used), in the cars parked near by in the two large pavilions, seats were arranged boards and plank were placed over the backs, every available space was quickly taken, many having to wait their turn, and food fit for the gods, and enough for an army. You of this great Younklin group at least showed know Younklin hospitality. The spirit of fine Younklin women is clearly shown by the abundance of food prepared for this annual feast, at least I have first hand information that your secretary is not the only one that has worked all night, in order that this should come about, but that the noble and grand mother, of our worthy presiding, working all night baking and preparing that nobody should go hungry, if there is any finer spirit, I have never known of it. As I the writer have traveled and visited in my research no less among these fine Younklin folks and find a wonderful friendly spirit which is universal in every instance, and truthfully saying there was plenty for all and much to be taken back home. The afternoon program, much musical (on the piano recently purchased for these annual gatherings) several numbers were rendered by violinist, Fred Younklin, accompanied by Mrs. Lucella Shepard on piano. Master Tommy Younklin with his cornet rendered several fine selections, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Otto Younklin on the piano. Otto R. Younklin gave a short address of welcome, and told of the Pioneer of 1737, Johan Herman Junghen, on this date paying honor to the first Younklin in America. Dr. Noble Younklin gave a fine talk in English, Holland Dutch, and German. Also told of the origin of the family name of A. D. 814, also telling of the origin of the Royal Coat of Arms, an exact copy of which was on display. A work of art shown for the first time, this contribution was furnished by Dr. Noble Younklin of Decatur, Ind. A novel feature of the program was a tap dance act of several numbers rendered by the Lincoln Sisters of Connelville, Pa., who incidentally are grandchildren of one time Prof. Younklin, famous Ventriloquist of 50 years gone by, he, near 85 years of age Colwell S. Younklin, of Confluence, Pa., also a tap dance act by Pauline Younklin, dressed as little Uncle Sam. Representative groups were present, who are descendants of the Pioneer Johan Herman Junghen of 1733, Johan Johannes Junghen of 1753, Johan Johannes Junghen of 1754, Henrich Junghen of 1806, and possibly of Peter Junghen of 1753. A representation of all the variations of present day spelling were present, the Younklin family of Sullivan Co., Pa., the Younklin family of Western, Pa., the Younklin family of Western, Pa., and many other places, the Younghen family of Eastern, Pa., the Younklin family of Cambria Co., Pa., and the Younklin of Butler Co., Pa., and Maryland and a little explanation of who they are, the Younklin family are of Henrich Junghen of 1806, the Younkens are of George Younklin of Somerset Co., Pa., the Younkens are descendants of Johan Henrich Junghen of 1753, and of Johan Johannes Junghen of 1753 and of Johan Johannes Junghen of 1754, the Younghen, are John Herman Junghen of 1753, the Younklin, are of Johan Henrich Junghen of 1753, and the Younklin, of Maryland of 1753, and the Younklin, of Maryland are possibly of Johan Johannes Junghen, of 1754, the newly organized Kansas Auxiliary group being represented by their Pres. Grover C. Younklin, of Wichita, and many others from his state, this newly formed group held their first Reunion, April 11-37, an article which appears in this issue gives a full account representative groups were present from many states, including Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kansas, Georgia, Maryland, West Va., New Jersey, and others, from Ohio, the following were present, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Younklin, Postoria, Phillip F. Younklin, Haskins, Mrs. H. E. Brim, Bowling Green, Wm. Black, Belmont, Mrs. Margaret and John Black, East Fultonham, Calvin Black, Delta, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Yeager, Chillicothe, Fred and Howard Younklin, and sons, Ashville, Rev. and Mrs. L. J. Ramsey, Mt. Vernon, Mrs. Emma and Alfred Younklin, and Mrs. Joseph Rogers and sons, Akron. From West Va., J. C. Junghen Family In Bucks Co.

In the Eighteenth Century, among the many German families who emigrated to America from the Palatinate, there were not a few of the name of JUNGHEN, JUNCKEN, JUNG, or JUNCKER, all of them in the second or third generation becoming YOUNGKIN, in various spellings. There was, however, a definite distinction in the use of the name by the Pioneer generation. The emigrants with whom we are concerned spelled it always JUNGHEN, and of this we have many proofs, possessing original signatures, and in the case of Henry, the inscription on his tombstone. The old form of the name can be traced to an ancient family of Lubek, and the Coat of Arms is from the Seal of STEPHEN JUNGHEN on a document of 1411.

The first of this family to arrive was JOHANN HERMAN JUNGHEN, on the Ship Charming Nancy, Oct. 8th, 1737. As usually found, his life for the first five years is unknown. We must realize that a large majority of our German ancestors were forced to work out their passage money after arrival. This was not through fault of their own. They started the journey with what seemed sufficient funds and provisions, but the trip down the Rhine took most of those. The wait for a ship at Rotterdam exhausted their resources and they were then at the mercy of the Ship agents, who induced them to sign contracts in a foreign tongue. When they finally after a tedious voyage came to Philadelphia, they found themselves forced to work three, four or five years as indentured servants to those who had hired them by paying the passage money. In the case of a young single man, as we may suppose Herman Junghen was, this was perhaps not a handicap. He had a chance to learn English and the ways of the country, and if he had a trade he was ready at the end of his service to settle permanently where he chose. But in the case of families, it resulted in separation and often entire loss of identity.

Herman Junghen however had no trade except that of farmer. He remained in Philadelphia County for some years and we suppose that he was free about 1742 and married at that time. His wife was named Magdalena and there is a definite tradition in the family, coming through her daughter, that she was of noble French blood and a Huguenot. However that may be, we know that she was not a member of the Lutheran Church as her husband was, since she did not stand sponsor for her children, and her only daughter was not confirmed till after marriage.

Their oldest son, John, was probably born in Philadelphia in 1743. In April of that year, Herman Junghen was naturalized, this being the prerequisite to the ownership of property. He then went

Margaret Booth, North Charleroi Girl, Victim Of Heart Attack

CHARLEROI, PA., Nov. 24th, 1937

Shumping over suddenly in an automobile in which she was riding with a friend, Miss Margaret Levine Booth, of 433 Center Avenue, North Charleroi, was stricken with a heart attack, succumbing a few minutes later. She had been ill for several years.

The pair was headed for a picture show in Belle Vernon at 6 o'clock last night. The car had reached a point just off the bridge in Belle Vernon when the North Charleroi girl suddenly knelt over. She was removed to a physician's office where she was pronounced dead.

Her many friends were shocked at the suddenness of her death and many expressions of sympathy have been sent to the family.

Deceased was 26 years of age and was born in North Charleroi July 24, 1911. She as a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Booth; and besides her parents is survived by two sisters and four brothers: Bernice at home; Mrs. William Scheffbauer, Rice's Landing; Clarence of Belle Vernon; Alfred at Detroit, and Kenneth and Walter at home.

Funeral services will be held Friday, November 26th, at 2:30 o'clock from the late home at 432 Center Avenue, with interment to follow in Menomahela Cemetery.

to Bucks County, buying at that time the plantation in Tinticum Township which became the Homestead. His second son was baptized in Bucks County in 1745. Some years later, in 1759, he invested in two tracts in Nockamixon Township, later sold to his oldest son John, also in 1768, the mill property in Springfield Township, which he soon sold to his son in law, and which became the Haupt Homestead.

Three other sons and a daughter were born by the time he bought the later tracts of land, thinking doubtless that there must be a portion of land for each son. His wife, Magdalena, died about 1788 and he married again, a widow by the name of Eva Shill, and by her he had one child, Kilian Junghen. Herman Junghen died when this boy was eight years old and Kilian was raised under the guardianship of his brother-in-law, Henry Haupt.

In connection with the arrival of Herman's brother, JOHANN HEINRICH JUNGHEN, in 1750, we might pause to comment on the really astonishing way in which the emigrants contrived to keep in touch with the mother country in those days when a slow sailing vessel was the only means of communication. Each ship that unloaded at Philadelphia (and between 1750 and 1755 there were

DEATH TAKES ONLY SISTER

Ed Faidley was grieved to hear Thursday of the sudden and unexpected death of his only sister, Mrs. Barbara Ellen Bartell, aged 78, at her home in Topeka, to which place she moved two years ago after 55 years residence at Milford. She had been a member of the Royal Neighbors order, for years there.

Mrs. Bartell is also survived by her husband and three children, M. O. Bartell of Topeka, Ralph Bartell of Junction City, and Mrs. Gertrude Ainsman of Newcastle, Pa., besides seven grandchildren and many other relatives in this vicinity and Milford.

The funeral services were held Saturday morning at the Congregational church in Milford with Rev. Jack Oliver in charge. Burial was in the Milford cemetery. The services were attended by quite a number of relatives from Wakefield, including Mr. and Mrs. Ed Faidley, Mrs. Sarah Faidley, Mrs. Ella Clark and Ray, and Mrs. L. M. Ferguson.

GRAND OLD LADY DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Margaret Younkin Black, the last surviving member of the famous Younkin Twins, died suddenly in her home near Fultonham, Ohio, Sunday, Aug. 29th, 1937. She was stricken in her chair on Saturday, Aug. 28th and died early Sunday following. Mrs. Black had been enjoying good health up until her sudden calling, she being a visitor at the Reunion at Kingwood, Pa., on Sunday, August 22, 1937. Had she lived until April 21, 1938, she would have been 93 years of age, her twin brother having died Jan. 1, 1937. Mrs. Black comes from a family of long-lived Younkins. One brother still in living, Isaac Younkin, of Burlington, Kan., who will be 98 years of age on April 21st, 1938. Mrs. Black is survived by the following sons: John and Jesse Black, who lived with their mother at Fultonham, Calvin Black of Delta, Ohio, Wm. Black of Beloit, Ohio, Oscar Black, Columbus, Ohio, Ray Black, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and one daughter, Mrs. Black being a granddaughter of Rudolph (Ralph) Younkin, one of the pioneer Younkins who migrated from Bucks County, Pa., to Somerset County, eventually settling in Ohio. The passing of Mrs. Black leaves but one survivor of a family of 14 children, at least five of this large family lived to be over 90 years of age. Elizabeth lived to be 90 years, 8 mos., and 20 days. Eph Younkin lived to be 90 years, 10 mos., 20 days; Eli Younkin, 91 years 8 mos., 10 days; Margaret Black, 92 years, 4 mos., 8 days and Isaac Younkin, still living.

MRS. P. A. YOUNKIN

CONFLUENCE, Pa., Nov. 17, 1937—Mrs. P. A. Younkin, age 79 years, widow of Jos. D. Younkin, and Andrew Younkin, died at the home of Jos. B. Younkins, Nov. 17, 1937. Other surviving children are D. G. Younkin, of Mesa, Ariz., Mrs. Chas. Shannon of Connelville, Pa. and Mrs. Edna Arndt of Chicago, Ill. Surviving also are eight grandchildren, funeral from the home of her son, Jas. B. Younkin, burial in the Imel cemetery, Sunday, Nov. 21, 1937.

WILLIAM YOUNKIN EXPIRES SUDDENLY

William Lincoln Younkin, age 70, a retired farmer of Upper Turkeyfoot township was found dead in bed Tuesday morning by a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles Younkin, who lived close by. He was a lifelong resident of that vicinity and made his home with a grand son, Mr. Alvin Trimpey, who at the time of Mr. Younkin's death, was visiting in Baltimore, Md.

His death came as a shock to his many friends for only on Saturday they greeted him at the Kingwood L. O. O. F. Picnic and he apparently appeared in the best of health. His death was attributed to a heart attack.

The deceased was the son of Frederick J. and Deliah (Faidley) Younkin. His wife Margaret Nicklow Younkin preceded him in death about two years ago. To this union were born seven children, two also having preceded him in death. Those surviving are: Harvey C. of Leora Avenue, Mrs. William Trimpey, Mr. Charles Younkin, and Frank Younkin, all of Upper Turkeyfoot township, and Mrs. Amelia Friend of Friendsville, Md. He also leaves 24 grand children, 10 great grand children, one sister and one brother, Mrs. Mary McCarthy, of Atlanta, Ga., and Frank Younkin, of Junction City, Kansas.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon, September 2nd, by Rev. J. I. Kalp, pastor of the Old Bethel Church. Burial followed in the church cemetery, with Mills & Mickey, Rockwood morticians in charge.

OSCAR E. YOUNKIN

After an illness of over two years' duration, Oscar Emerson Younkin, a life-long resident of Confluence, died at his home Wednesday morning, Sept. 8th.

Mr. Younkin was married 42 years to Miss Ellen Nicklow, and to this union were born three children—one son and two daughters, all of whom survive him. They are: Mrs. A. C. Leer, Somerset; Mrs. James Reed, Confluence; and Wilbert Younkin of Pittsburgh.

Funeral services were held at his late home, Rev. F. M. Kees, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of which Mr. Younkin was a member, officiating.

Mr. Younkin had been a member of the Confluence Lodge of Odd Fellows for many years, and his fellow lodge members attended the funeral services in a body, using their ritual at the grave. Burial was in the Kingwood cemetery.

JOHN H. HICKSON DIES IN BULLSKIN

January 19, 1937

John H. Hickson, a retired farmer, died at 10 o'clock last night at his home in Bullskin township, near the Pleasant Valley Country Club. He had been ill for about three years with complications of disease.

The body will be taken this evening to the home of a daughter, Mrs. Terrance, 126 Market street, Scottsdale, by Funeral Director John H. D. Sibel. Arrangements for the service have not been completed.

DAN YOUNKIN'S SISTER DIES

Mrs. Sylvia Ellen Younkin-Sanders died Saturday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Ben Heer, near Riley, at the age of 71 years; after a long illness. She is survived by four children: Mrs. Nora Martin and Albert Mellinger of Milford, Mrs. Henry Heer of near Ogden and Mrs. Ben Heer; two brothers: Dan Younkin here and James Younkin of Junction City; a sister, Mrs. J. J. (Marietta) Reed of Pueblo, Colorado, and six grandchildren.

Sylvia Ellen Younkin was born Sept. 13, 1865. When a small girl she moved with her parents to a farm east of Milford, where she grew to womanhood. She was married Nov. 20, 1889 to Isaac Sanders. They settled on a farm east of Milford.

Seven children were born to this union, three, Milpn, Annie and Minnie preceded her in death. Her husband died Oct. 17, 1928.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Milford Congregational church, with Rev. Jack Oliver officiating. Burial was in Brancomb cemetery. Several relatives of this community were in attendance.

WOMAN IS FOUND DEAD IN HOME AT CRESSON

CRESSON, July 31.—Going to the home of Mrs. Catharine (Younkins) Eger at 608 Keystone avenue this morning about 9:30 o'clock for the purpose of making a purchase of some furniture Mrs. Eger had to sell, James Lotito of Lilly found the woman dead at the foot of the stairs in the home.

Getting no response to a knock, he went to a window and looked in and saw the form of the woman on the floor. He notified Officer P. P. Parish, who went to the home and forced an entrance. Coroner Cyrus W. Davis was notified and ordered the body removed to the Norman D. Cawther funeral home and he will conduct an investigation later.

Mrs. Eger evidently fell down the stairs some time during the night. Her husband, Julius Eger, died about five years ago. She was aged about 55 years and is survived by her mother, Mrs. Henry Younkens of Homestead, and two sons and one daughter Leo Eger and Rose Eger, both residing in Pittsburgh, and Paul, residing in Chicago.

FRANK B. YOUNKIN AND WIFE BOTH PASS AWAY

Ogden, Kan., Jan. 30, 1937—Franklin B. Younkin died yesterday, Jan. 29, age 75 years, 4 months, 28 days. He being a son of Frederick and (Deliah Faidley) Younkin, was born near Humbert in Somerset Co., Pa. His passing was just 44 hours after his wife's death, Cora Swamer Younkin, on January 27. Mrs. Younkin being a daughter of Henry and (Barbara Younkin) Swamer, near Kingwood, Somerset Co., Pa., her age being 67 years, 5 months, 18 days. Several children and grandchildren survive. A double funeral being held for Mr. and Mrs. Younkin.

SOMERSET MAN DIES

SOMERSET, May 22—Lincoln Miner, 65, died Wednesday at his home in Upper Turkeyfoot township.

JUNGHEN FAMILY IN BUCKS COUNTY

85 ships came in with German emigrants, went back with messages and commissions and often too took back those men who had planned their dwelling places and were returning for their families. Some such reason must have stirred Henry Jungchen, for within a year of his arrival he advertises in the German paper that he is going back and will take letters. He is described as a single man in Tinicum. This simple phrase gives us a deal of information. First, that he went at once on arrival to his brother Herman in Tinicum; second, that his wife was dead, undoubtedly before he left Germany; third, that he had means to pay his passage back and forth. We also infer that his home town was Siegen in Hesse.

But Henry Jungchen did not stay long abroad and coming back to Bucks County he bought a large tract of over 200 acres in the townships of Bedminster and Haycock. Here he brought a wife, Catharine Scherer, in 1756, and raised a family of four sons and two daughters. Since this was his second marriage, it was rendered possible that his daughter Elizabeth should later marry the grandson of his brother Herman, her first cousin once removed, thus establishing a double connection with the Haupt family.

Henry's son by his first marriage, JOHN JUNGHEN, left behind in Germany, came over in 1754. We have little information concerning him but we may suppose that he was 16 years old when he arrived and 21 when he married Catharine Killicher in 1759. He is mentioned as the oldest son in his father's will in 1787, but we have no further notice of him except the baptism of a son George in 1766. He therefore went to Somerset County at an early date. Jacob Jungchen, the second son of Henry, followed him. Jacob married Hannah Nicola and he was enrolled in a Militia Company in Bucks County as late as 1782, but so far as we know, his children were born in Somerset County.

The sons at home when Henry died in 1787 were therefore Frederick, Rudolph and Henry, the latter still a minor. Their father directed in his will that the sons should share the land, that Frederick should have the Homestead in Tinicum and take care of his mother and sisters. But Frederick married and then lost his wife, and in 1790 he sold his land to his brother Rudolph and followed his older brothers to Somerset, leaving behind an infant son, also named Frederick, probably in his mother's care. After the same manner, the other brothers disposed of their lands and left the County. Rudolph going to Perry County, Ohio, and Henry to London County, Virginia. This left none to carry on the family of Henry Jungchen in Bucks County except the little son of Frederick, born 1789, who became a millwright and died in 1838, leaving a large family.

In the family of HERMAN JUNGHEN there were six sons and of these only one remained in Bucks County. This was John Jungchen, the oldest son, who married Anna Maria Esig in 1771, and had three sons and four daughters. Of these, the oldest, Nicholas, remained on part of the original property in Nockamixon and from him are descended most of those of the name of Younken now in Bucks County. His brothers moved over into Northampton County, Michael being unmarried and Abraham marrying Elisabeth Hauser. This accounts for some of the Easton people.

Of the other sons of Herman Jungchen, the second, Abraham,

NANCY Y. BARNETT
Cameron, W. Va. Dec. 30, 1936
Mrs. Nancy Younkin Barnett, 85, one of Cameron's most prominent and highly esteemed women, passed on at seven o'clock yesterday morning at her home on Maple avenue following a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Barnett was born in Greene county, Pa. For the past fifty years she has been a resident of this city. She was a lifelong member of the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Barnett was the widow of the late Jesse L. Barnett, who served in the Civil War as captain of Company 8, 7th West Virginia Infantry.

She is survived by one son, John Barnett, of Summerfield, Ohio six daughters, Mrs. Charles McCulloch, Mrs. Margaret Hughes and Mrs. Daisy Bowers of this city, Mrs. Maude Carney of Hundred, Mrs. Ella Bushager of Sinton, Texas and Mrs. Orpha Mahan of Hannibal, Mo., and several grandchildren and great grandchildren.

ELI YOUNKIN

Eli Younkin died in his home near Corning, Ohio, Jan. 1st, 1937, age 81 years, 8 mos., 12 days, he being survived by sons, Harry and Earl, who lived with him. A daughter, Mrs. Eva Younkin Thompson of Riverside, Iowa, and several other children survive, he being one of the famous Younkin twins. At the time of his death being survived by twin sisters, Mrs. Margaret Younkin Black of Fultonham, Ohio, (who has since died) and a brother, Isaac Younkin of Burlington, Kan. He along with Mrs. Black being the 13th and 14th of a family of 14 children, they being descendants of John and (Elizabeth Trout) Younkin.

married Elizabeth Wyker and died in 1790, leaving a son Abraham who eventually removed to Washington County, Ohio; his wife was named Sarah. Of the third, fourth and fifth sons, Daniel, George and Herman, we know little more than is contained in Herman Jungchen's Will. However, George's wife was Elizabeth Bollinger and in 1811, he was living in Chillasque Township, Northumberland County. The youngest son, Killian, child of the second marriage, also went to Ohio.

The family of Peter Younken seem to have been a different line, especially in view of the fact that their first names are dissimilar from the original Bucks County line. Peter may have been of the JUNGKEN family who came to Philadelphia in 1753, but so far as we know, they did not leave Philadelphia County. But even if Peter Younken could be proved to be of the Philadelphia Jungken family, his descent would not fall within the scope of this paper, whose purpose is to trace the Pioneers in Bucks County.

HERMAN JUNGHEN is undoubtedly buried at Nockamixon Lutheran Church, where he was a Trustee and active member. HENRY JUNGHEN has a perfectly legible stone at Keller's Church, in Bedminster Township, and here also is the grave of his wife, who outlived him nearly 40 years and died at the age of 99 years.

A Revolutionary record on the Oath of Allegiance has been established for both these Pioneers, making their descendants eligible to Patriotic Societies.

No references have been included here but proofs are to be found in Church records and in documents found in the Bucks County Courthouse in Doylestown.

One Of The First Younkin Reunions

By Mrs. Ronald Earle

Three years ago two groups started from their separate homes to investigate some old cemeteries in Upper Turkeyfoot Township. They were searching for markers that would reveal the resting place of some long gone ancestors of the Younkin clan.

They were strangers to each other. By accident they found themselves in the same Gods Acre. After due consideration and quick observation each decided the actions of the other group seemed harmless if somewhat erratic.

Lunch hour was drawing near and well filled baskets were opened. The sight of food aroused a fellow feeling. Throwing caution aside they spread their lunch under the shade of a friendly tree and found their interests identical.

This meeting led to the first reunion three weeks later. About five hundred responded to their invitation to the Kingwood Grove. Today our National Reunion and Homecoming is known wherever the Younkin family are living. Much credit is due the two groups who visioned this association and with willing helpers have brought about our organization.

In May a group met to organize the families living in the middle west. They had an all-day meeting at a church in Wakefield, Kansas. After attending the regular church services they had a picnic lunch. During the afternoon they organized an auxiliary to the group who meet here.

The first of the name came to this country in 1737. At present there are many missing links in the family chain. Time and distance have dimmed the memory. It is our duty to supply any information we have to help compile this genealogy. No information is to be considered in consequential. Each link is necessary to complete the chain you and you and you are the ones to do this work. Do Your Bit!

PASSES AT 101; 49 YEARS IN SAN DIEGO

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 12 1936—Mary Catherine C. Younkin, 101, born Mary Catherine Jones in Chambersburg, Pa., 1935, when Andrew Jackson, hero of the battle of New Orleans, was president, died yesterday at her residence, 3737 Granada St.

She was married to Archibald C. Younkin, a Pennsylvania lawyer, in 1855. The couple came west as far as the railroad ran in their day, which was Iowa City, Ia., where they lived until 1887, when with their son, William and his wife, they came to San Diego.

Mrs. Younkin spent the last 49 years of her life here. She was active until a short time before her death, although she stopped going downtown alone when she was 90. Since her 100th birthday, April 26, 1935, she had become gradually weakened. Prior to that time her memory was almost perfect.

Surviving are her son, William; a daughter, Miss Helen B. Younkin, both of San Diego, and a son, Arthur J. Younkin of Iowa City; a granddaughter, Mrs. Sadie L. Nelson, and a great granddaughter, Jean Elizabeth Nelson, of San Diego; a grandson, William L. Younkin, of Lincoln, Neb., and his three children, great grandchildren of the deceased.

Notes On Collection And Reduction Of Coal Samples

By J. A. YOUNKIN

In an attempt to obtain an analysis of a lot of coal, we are faced by two main problems. The first: that when nature laid down the coal seam, she did not make it all of the same quality. We all know that different grades have different analyses and that even individual pieces of the same grade and size have different analysis. We know too that some free impurities are present and that the amount of these will vary somewhat from minute to minute. The second problem: that the sampling and preparation of the sample and the analysis are done by men or man-made machines and there is always the chance for human error.

Considering these two conditions, it is easy to understand how we might get a high or low analysis depending on chance. Also we can see why we cannot reasonably expect any one grab or random sample to represent a batch of coal.

A number of studies of these problems of proper coal sampling have been made and from them it has been found that we can determine the limits of the errors for any coal and that once we have established what the limits are, we can interpret our analysis accordingly.

If we obtain a series of analyses, each one taken and prepared under the same standardized set of conditions, we will find that we will have high, low and medium figures. If all the conditions surrounding each step have been under close control—sample taken at regular intervals, same size of sample, same treatment of sample—we will find that we have established limits for the coal. We must remember, however, that the limits we have established will hold good only for that coal and will represent an accuracy commensurate with the number of samples, size of the samples, and the care in preparation and analysis.

The results we obtain, under any set of conditions, may be expressed mathematically and we find in recent literature a growing tendency to do so by the application of the theory of probability to the sampling of coal and the interpretation of results. The recent papers of Grinnell and Dunningham, T. W. Goy, Moreau and Proctor, and E. S. Pearson give rather conclusive proof that the laws of probability may safely be applied to coal sampling. These investigators have shown that any coal of a certain size and grade has a characteristic error that remains constant when the same sampling methods are always employed. This average error is a summation of the errors of sample collecting, reduction, reduction and analysis and in addition the variability or error of the coal itself.

By applying the theory of probability to coal sampling, the sampler is enabled to judge intelligently the accuracy of his sampling and be shown later that 4,000 tons per day of 6" x 4" Raw Coal input to a plant was sampled as accurately when taking 360 pounds of coal as when taking the probable error of individual increments and planning the sampling so as to obtain a certain accuracy rather than taking a large gross sample in a blind attempt to arrive at the desired accuracy.

Younkin Says Too Many Women Made Him Sick Of 'Em

By George Shane, Staff Writer

RIVERSIDE, IA. — His cynicism toward women always has been good-natured and now as he grows older it is less pronounced. But Just Ask John Younkin the Civil War veteran who is 90 years old today and still a bachelor, whether he would marry if he had his life to live over again.

In Six Battles

Mr. Younkin will remove his 10-cent cigar from his mouth with a steady hand, lean back in his old-fashioned rocker, and reply emphatically:

"No!"

John Younkin was one of three volunteers of the original 110 members of Company D of the 24th Iowa Infantry who marched through six hard battles and a hundred skirmishes in the south without a scratch from sword or bullet.

Glamorous Picture

In '65 with the other Boys in Blue, this eligible young bachelor marched home. First it seemed a glamorous picture of heroic romance.

"The fact is, there were so many girls around that I got sick of them," Mr. Younkin said.

That is the only explanation he cares to give for his celibacy.

Until she died in her eighty-seventh year, a spinster sister kept house for Mr. Younkin. Now he lives entirely alone in the 10-room house that stands beneath four giant oak trees on a hill in Riverside. He splits wood and carries in each day three heavy buckets of coal.

His Brother, 90

The three put a little walnut table by the west window, pull up chairs and Mr. Younkin puts on his glasses. The game progresses until almost dark. Then the elderly bachelor gives each of his young friends a big red apple—the biggest and sweetest that money can buy, and he buys them by the crate.

The story of John Younkin would not be complete without the sequel story of his widowed brother, who is 90 and also lives alone in Riverside.

A Veteran Physician

The brother is Dr. George W. Younkin, Iowa country doctor and one of the state's veteran physicians. For approximately 50 years he has practiced medicine in eastern and southern Iowa.

Five years ago the doctor moved to Riverside, because John Younkin felt he needed his brother's medical advice.

Teeth Pulled

"Gold cannot make a man well," Dr. Younkin said. "I found a lot of it in John's mouth, but it didn't help his health. The first thing I did was have the dentist pull out his teeth. Now his health is vastly improved."

Dr. Younkin's 90 years rest lightly on his square shoulders, but he now prefers to limit his practice of office calls. His office is upstairs in a building on Riverside's main street. His living quarters are to the rear of the office. Though the brothers live separately they meet often, for the doctor must check carefully his principal patient's health.

Aside from the frequent card games with the neighborhood girls, John Younkin's next favorite diversion is his trip each Friday to Muscatine, Ia., for a fish dinner. He owns his car and a driver takes him on the 40-mile trip each week the weather permits.

The brothers stress no formula for longevity. Their father died at 90; their mother at 94. John lived all his life on their farm near Riverside until moving to his present home 30 years ago. The doctor planned to be a Methodist missionary and studied for the ministry as well as medical practice.

Whiskey in House

The doctor has never drunk "an ounce of liquor in his life," John always keeps whiskey in the house "for medicinal use only."

John's favorite indulgence is three cigars a day. The doctor smokes but occasionally.

COAT OF ARMS WORK OF ART ON DISPLAY AT REUNION

Aug. 22, 1937.

The Royal Coat of Arms of the family which was established in the year 814—One thousand one hundred and twenty-three years ago.

We are the only national family reunion in America and perhaps in the world. Persons wishing a copy of the Coat of Arms can have same painted by painter who painted the original or take a photograph of original and select their own artist.

The original is a true composite history of the origin of the family name. Those of the family who use any of the above names can have heading read the way they spell their own name: as—Royal Heraldic Escutcheon of the Jungman family or the Younkin family. Established A. D. 814 and as many other ways as they may wish at the bottom of the painting.

CONFLUENCE BOY DIES OF INJURIES IN AUTO MISHAP

CONFLUENCE, Feb. 23.—Eugene Younkin, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Younkin of Bobtown, Greene county, who was injured last Saturday night in an automobile accident, died last night at Frantz Hospital. He lived with his grandmother here.

A POEM

By Mrs. M. E. Prather

When lost in thought I search your face,

And trace the works of wonderous grace

Engraved by Art Divine—

It may have been by grief or pain;
It may have been thru loss or gain
Lines carved there line by line.
You're skilled in Art; that's all your own,

To scatter sunshine where you're known.

You gladden hearts thru gift of a

And make the downcast feel life worthwhile.

It's the way you do each task at hand,

Despite your long journey o'er life's shifting sands,

That makes one pause and ask at the cross of the road,

Shall we stumble or fall or climb
the hill with our load?

Your life radiates courage by word and deed;

So loyal and helpful to one in need.
Alert and determined at the close of each day

To lend strength to the needy on Life's highway.

—Mrs. M. E. Prather.

Ira D. Younkin Proposes Street Labor for Offenders

A "rock pile" for panhandlers, drunks, and other petty offenders is the dose being concocted by Acting Mayor Ira D. Younkin, of Connellsville, with the cooperation of B. M. Swartzwelder, superintendent of the department of streets who is drafting a special street improvement project. "A three-day stretch on the streets would be tougher than a month's stay in a cell," Mr. Younkin said.

He blew up his own house, Abe Clark, 55, farmer and coal hauler of Dunbar Township, is said to have confessed to state police who investigated the dynamiting of the home occupied by George Bogden and family of six, near Connellsville. Clark insisted it was his only recourse to expel his tenants, who, he says, were behind in their rent.

Connellsville council filed these officers: J. L. Williams, assessor for four years; E. C. Miner, three-year term on civil service board; Paul Lucius, weighman.

CHARLES W. IMEL'S FUNERAL THURSDAY

Died March 15, 1937

A brief funeral service for Charles W. Imel, 84 years old, who died Monday evening at 5:40 o'clock at the home of his niece, Mrs. George Gigam, at Mill Run, will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Gigam home followed by full rites at 2:30 o'clock at the Mill Run Baptist church in charge of Rev. Paul O. Morris.

Mr. Imel, who was a native of Mill Run, had spent most of his life in Titusville where he was an oil well driller and for a number of years owned a number of wells in that region. Mr. Imel also owned a farm there.

Mr. Imel was married to Josephine Johnson of near Mill Run who died about 12 years ago. Three children were born to this union. He is survived by one daughter, Margaret Imel, of Jamestown, N. Y. Two sons, William and Arthur, preceded their father in death.

John Younkin, Civil War Veteran Dies; Was One of Iowa City's Life Long Residents, Age 96

JOHN F. YOUNKIN FUNERAL IS HELD

Riverside's Last Veteran of the Civil War Dies at Age of 96

Reverently, and with simple dignity, John F. Younkin, Riverside's last Civil War veteran, was laid to rest Tuesday forenoon.

Funeral services for Mr. Younkin were held in the Methodist church at 10 a. m. Rev. C. E. Fitzsimmons officiated, preaching the sermon, and was assisted by Rev. Judson T. Jenkins, who read the 92nd Psalm and offered prayer.

The funeral was not of military character, although six members of the American Legion, H. E. Doud, Henry Manasmith, Norval Flynn, C. W. Whitlock, Andrew Birrer and Clarence Rummelhart, acted as pallbearers, and members of the Woman's Relief Corps as flag bearers. Mrs. L. R. Bates and Mrs. R. I. Marner sang feelingly, with Mrs. W. H. Cress at the piano.

Previous to the services in the church, the body of "Uncle John", as everybody in Riverside called Mr. Younkin, lay in state at the home where he had lived so long alone. The coffin, flag-draped, was then borne to the church, and again, after the simple service, it was opened for a last look by the friends and relatives who filled the church auditorium. Burial was in the Riverside cemetery.

Died Saturday Evening

Mr. Younkin died in Mercy Hospital, Iowa City, Saturday evening. He had been a patient there for a little over a week. Born in Perry County, Ohio, on Nov. 29, 1840, his age was 96 years, 8 months and 15 days.

Uncle John was one of Iowa's pioneers. His parents, Samuel and Catherine Younkin, left Ohio and came to Iowa on Nov. 2, 1844, and he lived on a farm one-half mile east of Riverside until 32 years ago when he and his sister, Nancy, who kept house for him, moved to Riverside. Nancy died about 15 years ago, and since that time Uncle John, who never married, kept house alone. With market basket on his arm, he was wont to go downtown every day, buying the things he needed and stopping at the postoffice for his papers. His simple routine of living he kept up until he was stricken with his last illness.

Mr. Younkin was the oldest man in Washington county to own an auto. However, he never drove the car himself, but always hired some young man to do it, and for years he made a point of making a weekly trip to Muscatine, on Friday, for a fish dinner, which he heartily enjoyed.

Uncle John was 22 years of age when he enlisted in Company D of the 24th Iowa Volunteer Infantry, in 1862, remaining with his regiment, unscathed, although he participated in 24 battles, until Lee's surrender brought the war to a close.

In his sermon, Rev. Fitzsimmons pictured Uncle John Younkin as an example of fruitful living.

"This occasion is one of unusual solemnity for Riverside," said Mr. Fitzsimmons. "Nothing like this has ever happened in Riverside before, and will never happen again. Our last Civil War veteran is gone. Soon all of that mighty force who fought for the Union will be gone."

Mr. Fitzsimmons pointed out that the fruit men bore in their lives was dependent on how they followed the precepts of Christ, the fruit of whose life was the redemption of mankind, by His sacrifice on the cross. And men's lives, Mr. Fitzsimmons said, might go right on bearing fruit, even when they became aged.

One Brother Survives

Uncle John Younkin was one of 12 children born to his pioneer parents. Of these, but one survives, Dr. George W. Younkin of Riverside. There are numerous nephews and nieces.

Although Uncle John never gave any very satisfactory reason for not marrying, he was a pronounced bachelor and when he was asked, on the occasion of his 96th birthday, if he would marry if he had his life to live over again, his answer was a very decided "No".

The only explanation he ever gave for his celibacy was that when he was a young man in uniform, when the boys in blue were glamorous and romantic objects, that "there were so many girls around I got sick of them."

Among those from out-of-town attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Younkin of Burlington, William Younkin of Fairfield, Frank Younkin and son Raymond of New Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. John Lingo, Lone Tree; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Younkin, Mrs. Margaret Cress, Mrs. Walter Albright and son Richard, all of Cedar Rapids; Mrs. Sarah Hutchinson of Orange, Calif., and Mrs. Clara Godlove and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCreedy of Haskins.

An Apology

Owing to the fact that much more news material has been accumulated than was originally planned for this first issue of the News Bulletin, which was to have gone forward at an earlier date, and was to have been a paper of two 12x18 double pages, but instead we have given you one of three of the same size, this increase in size of course caused an extra outlay of much more money than had been subscribed by our friends and without one single penny in our treasury to fall back on, again it became necessary to look for more help financially, which has already been given. This has been the cause of the delay in the first Bulletin reaching our many friends who have been looking forward to the first family newspaper. Again we thank our many friends who have helped make all this possible and to you, to recipients, we extend to you our very best wishes in this first issue, our Christmas number, and my most sincere wish is that I, your secretary, shall always be of a real service to this great Younkin family. And to you all a merry Xmas and happy new year.

CHAS. YOUNKIN,
Secretary.

YOUNKIN FAMILY OF SULLIVAN COUNTY HOLD REUNION

The Younkin family of Sullivan Co. held reunion on August 8-9, in Penna Grove, near Dushore Sullivan Co., Pa. For many years the descendants of Henry and (Elizabeth Haines) Younkin, who arrived in Philadelphia in 1807 have held their Annual Reunion.

Many of the Younkin folks of North Eastern Penna., are traceable to this branch, this year there were 100 or more present at this annual gathering. Levi Younkin of Dushore, Pa., is president.

Ernest Younkin of Dushore, Pa., is secretary.

Special To The Courier—1937

Uniontown, April 2.—Wills of three men and a woman were probated here Thursday in the office of Register of Wills Bruce F. Sterling.

Charles W. Imel of Bullskin township bequeaths to James W. Hickson and Edward Poorbaugh, administrators, the sum of $2,400 which they were directed to keep invested and pay over the net income from time to time to the deceased's sons, Arthur J. and William E. Imel, during their natural lives. Upon their deaths, the money goes to a daughter, Dessie Myrtle Imel, to whom was also willed the remainder of the estate.

YOUNKIN'S HOLD A REUNION

The first real reunion of the Younkin families of Kansas was held in the Methodist church here Sunday with about 150 present. Many attended regular church services that morning followed by a basket dinner at noon, and a general good time of conversation and reminiscences that afternoon.

During the business session that afternoon committees were appointed to collect geological data of the Younkin "tribe"; to plan for the Kansas trek to the big reunion in Pennsylvania next August, and to plan other details, including another Kansas reunion next year.

The following officers for the Kansas "tribe" were chosen Sunday: Grover Younkin of Wichita, president; Mrs. Mamie Prather of Dodge City, general secretary; and John K. Younkin of Great Bend, recording secretary.

Although all ages were represented at Sunday's gathering, from the cradle up, Mrs. Nesley Younkin appeared to be the oldest, at 75, or at least she was willing to admit her age, though there were others near that mark.

The following article about the reunion and the Younkin family has very kindly been furnished us by Rev. E. H. Tannehill:

Many gathered in time for the morning church service and listened to the pastor of the church, Rev. Francis Tannehill, a great-grandson of Moses Younkin; preach the sermon. After a bountiful basket dinner all gathered in the auditorium of the church where the "Kansas division of the Younkin family Homecoming" was organized. Various committees were appointed and names secured of families that would plant to attend the "home coming" in Pennsylvania August 22. At least 12 families signified their intentions of going.

While this meeting was in progress the youngest descendant of Younkin blood was born at Herndon, Kansas; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Franko, and a grandson of Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Tannehill of Wakefield, a three times great grandchild of Henry Younkin who was born in 1805.

The names of those present are too numerous to mention, but there were descendants of the Younkins from Wichita, Great Bend, Dodge City, Junction City, Clay Center, Manhattan, Ogden, Milford, Oak Hill, Riley, Broughton, St. Marys, Auburn, Topeka and Kansas City.

About the year 1735 a young man named Henry Younkin came to America and settled in Bucks county, Pennsylvania, where it is recorded that he paid taxes. One of his sons was Frederick, and one of Frederick's sons was Henry; who was the father of Moses, Harrison, Alfred, William, Jerry, Silas, John, Ross; Mary, who became Mrs. Will Stewart; Cassie, who married Dan Myers; Hilah, who married John Faidley; and Rachel, who married John Myers.

In 1851 the family began a westward movement, led by Moses Younkin who in that year married Lavila Mitchell and moved to Bloomington, Ill. Three years later they came to Kansas and settled in Pottawatomie county. In 1856 he discovered the land he had pre-empted was on the Indian reservation.

He then came to Clay county and built his home across the river

From Howard Yonkin

Sullivan Co., Pa.:

Henry Younkin Sr. was born May 4, 1774, in the province of Hesse Nassau, in or near Cassel Germany, he married Elizabeth Haines and came to America in 1807, prior to sailing on their long journey, as it seemed in those days, some trouble arose which caused them to be delayed for one year before starting.

The captain of the vessel on which they sailed, being one of those rascals who lie in wait for inexperienced travelers, and defrauded them of their possessions, and on landing were sold to a farmer near Bethlehem, Pa., to pay for their passage, they remained with this man a short time, and then moved to Briar Creek Township, Columbia Co., Pa.

In 1823 they came to what was then Muncy Township, Lycoming Co., now Cherry Township, Sullivan Co. Mr. Younkin died in June 1851, age seventy-seven years, his wife ten years later in 1861, age eighty-six years, to them were born seven children, namely:

Henry Younkin, married Barbara Hartzig.

John Younkin, married Mary Labenberg.

Catherine Younkin, married Christian Mosler.

Joseph Younkin, married Matilda Huffa.

Jacob Younkin, married Catharine Meyer.

from where Wakefield now stands. Not long after this some of the brothers came and a little later the father and mother moved to the same neighborhood. A large number of the citizens of Wakefield and surrounding country and towns are Younkin descendants.

Other families of Younkins came at various times and settled around Wichita, Great Bend, and Dodge City and other parts of Kansas. It is being discovered that the Younkins are quite numerous in the state as well as all over the United States. The history of all these settlers would make interesting reading.

A few years ago some of the families in Pennsylvania became family conscious and arranged a "Home Coming." Last year there were 1200 in the gathering at Churleroi, Pennsylvania. A national organization has been effected with Charles Younkin of Churleroi as secretary. He has been tireless in his efforts to secure a genealogy and encourage reunions of the families in other parts of the country. It was through his suggestion that the Kansas Younkins arranged a get together here Sunday.

An Appeal To Our Many Friends

In bringing this first issue of the first family newspaper to you, (one thousand in number) much conscientious effort, time and considerable money has been required. This all has been made possible by the loyal support of a few faithful friends in this we have endeavored to give a faint idea of the doings within a great family, much more interest is at hand, which we hope to give you in a future issue. Lack of funds do not permit giving at this time, dear friends. I believe that we have given you something that has never before been attained by any family group, and a continuance of this news bulletin depends on each of you individually. We have never had anything to sell, nor do we now, but printers ink, printing, stationery and stamps all cost real money, every penny sent in is being spent in a great research. We have a real story to give you, but my only means in giving to the many hundreds of members in by printers ink, by giving you the News Bulletin at regular intervals. A bigger and better paper will be given as soon as possible. Many photos will be in the make-up of future issues as will also many old letters. Our greatest desire is to give you the story as it has never been given before. Friends it is up to you, if you want to receive the News Bulletin at regular intervals, then it is up to you to send in your subscription promptly. They only will tell if the Bulletin is to survive. Please do not delay.

"The Younkin Dream Of Fortune"

About 40 years ago the newspapers carried an interesting story of prospective wealth due the Younkin descendants of John Younkin, son of Herman Younkin, who came to Bucks County, Penna., in 1837.

John was a member of the Nockamixon Township company of militia during the Revolutionary War. His grand-son was Josiah G. Younkin, who married Maria H. Minick in the Friedenville, Pa., Church, April 9th, 1854, by Rev. Joshua Yeager. Josiah's father was David, only son of John by his wife, Barbara Wimmer. The baptismal certificate I saw about 1899 read, "Diesen beyden ehelichen als Eobanes Eunchen und seiner ehelichen" hausfrau elma geborne Wimmer ist ein schalein zur welt geboren als David ist zur welt geboren ein cahr unsers herrn esau 1804 den 5ten tag April um 5 uhr morgens en selchen de ist getauft worden von pfarren mensch sina tauf zungen warren Jacob Funk und seine eie frau Susanna."

Translated: "The two united persons John Younkin and his united wife a born Wimmer; a son is born called David, is born in the year of our Lord 1804, the 5th day of April at 5 o'clock in the morning, was baptized by Rev. Mensch and his godfather and godmother were Jacob Funk and his wife, Susanna."

The story that Mr. Josiah Younkin of Springfield, Bucks County, Pa., gave me many years ago, was that John Younkin was a member of the Bucks County Militia during the Revolutionary War, and was encamping near home. On one occasion his father-in-law, Mr. Wimmer, visited the camp and found the men drinking and gambling, he remonstrated with his son-in-law and an argument ensued, which ended by John striking Mr. Wimmer and knocking him down. After this incident he left for parts unknown, not to return. He was supposed to have gone to Luzerne County, and engaged in mining of coal and, to have acquired considerable wealth, when he died he owned valuable coal lands.

It was said of him, that he married bigamously a woman named McLaughlin by whom he had two children.

The whole scheme fell flat for the lack of facts. The Easton and Northampton County Younkens claimed Michael as the object of their dream. Neither Henry Younkin of Haycock Township nor Herman Younkin of Nockamixon Township had a son named Michael, but Abraham Younkin of Smithfield Township, Northampton County, now Monroe, probably a son of the first Peter Younkin, a pensioner of the Continental Line, did have a son named Michael, but was too young to fit into this puzzle.

He lived in Upper Bethel Township from 1819 to 1827 and was unmarried. Therefore the Easton claimants lose out with Michael, besides there was no John known in the Northampton County branch of the family.

OTTUMWA, IOWA, July 31, 1937

In the hopes that the following may prove of interest to the members of the Younkin Family Association and readers of the first issue of the bulletin—the following is offered.

Father has often told me that our family emigrated from Germany—some going to Ohio—some to Pennsylvania and others to Virginia—and that the name was spelled Jounkin or some such wording. Too bad he is not now living—what a "kick" he would get out of all this—as well as his Sisters—if they were living today.

All his family was born at Fultonham, Ohio—close to Zanesville. They left for Iowa about 1856—Grandfather Younkin, Father and his brother Robert, and sisters, Hester Anne, Mary Elizabeth, and Caroline. Those left behind were the Mother, who died in 1846—also another Sister—both are buried at Zanesville.

They probably came down the Ohio River to Carlo, Illinois, where the Mississippi meets it, then came up the latter to Keokuk, Iowa, for I have pictures taken of Grandfather Younkin in this town.

Initials Charles Henry Grandfather Younkin died in 1878 (name Henry) and is buried at Chariton, Iowa. My father died in 1923 and is buried here, his 3 sisters spoken of, Caroline, passed in about 1890; Mary Elizabeth in 1922 and Hester Anne in 1927—they are all buried at Chariton, Iowa, and brother Robert died about 1892—buried at Chariton also.

It might prove interesting reading to other members how we Younkens of Iowa came to know of "The Younkin Family Association", for had not hear of it previous to 1935.

In the local Daily in April, 1935 appeared 2 cuts of Twins, (brother and sister), named Eli and Margaret Younkin Black—aged 90, at that time—living in Zanesville, Ohio—or close by. A letter was written and found out that their father and the writer's grandfather were brothers—a pleasant correspondence has been carried on since—the Eli Younkin passed on in January, 1937.

I have the picture of Margaret Younkin Black, taken by my brother, Marcus W. Younkin, and his wife, when they visited Mrs. Black in September, 1936—she must be a wonderfully fine lady—from this picture—which has Whistler's "MOTHER" heat all hollow.

The only ones left of this branch of the Iowa Younkens—are my brother, Mr. M. W. and daughter Margaret of Paris, Tenn., my nephew, Mr. Charles N. and his sister, Martha Eloise and the writer—too bad—it was a large family back in Ohio—my twin brother (father of Charles and Martha), Frank B., died in 1923. He was captain of the local "G" Company of the 168th regiment infantry, 42 division (Rainbows) during the World War.

Op deze tweede Nationale Familie bijeenkomst, en op mijn tweede bezoek aan de geboorteplaats van mijn Vader, Grootvader e Grootmoeder; Spreken Ik in deze taal vandaag, omdat het de taal was van onze voorvaderen die van geen andere taal kennis hadden.

Zi j kwamen meer dan drie honderd jaren geleden, met de eerste Hollandse kolonie van Nederland naar Amerika, en zijn te Nieuw Amsterdam. New York City geland en van daar naar Pa., en alle deelen van Amerika vertrokken. Zi j zijn het volk dat Amerika groot en vrij maakte.

Ik ben er trotsch op, dat Ik van Hollandse bloed ben, want de Hollanders zijn een groot volk.

De Nederlandse taal is zeer belangwekkend, huiselijk en onderhoudend, en vol vermaak en spel en sang, en volksgewoonte en goede kameradschap.

Het spijt mij dat Ik niet meer kennis heb, van de taal onze vaderen, die haar als hun moedertal spraken.

De Nederlanders hebben een bijzonder karakter, maar ze zijn en spaarzaam, en eerlijk volk, die de veldslagen hebben helpen strijden, zoewel als om een nieuw rijk, op te richten, in de nieuwe wereld.

Dit is een wonderlijk en schoon land, en het doet mij genoegen U alhier en bezoek te brengen, en U te ontmoeten, en over vele dingen van belang te kunnen spreken. NU te U heb Ik spraken in de oude Flemish taal, als het spraken was bij onze voorvaderen, en duizend jaren geleden.

Kansas Group Holds Reunion Apr. 13

Held In Methodist Church Wakefield, Kansas, With 150 Present

The first real reunion of the Younkin families of Kansas was held in the Methodist church here Sunday with about 150 present.

Many attended regular church services that morning followed by the basket dinner at noon and a general good time of conversation and reminiscences that afternoon.

During the business session that afternoon committees were appointed to collect genealogical data of the Younkin "tribe," to plan for the Kansas trek to the big reunion in Pennsylvania next August, and to plan other details, including another Kansas reunion next year.

The following article ament the Kansas "tribe" were chosen Sunday: Grover Younkin of Wichita, president; Mrs. Mamie Prather of Dodge City, general secretary; and John K. Younkin of Great Bend, recording secretary.

Although all ages were represented at Sunday's gathering, from the cradle up, Mrs. Nesley Younkin appeared to be the oldest, at 75; or at least she was willing to admit her age, though there were others near that mark.

The following article ament the reunion and the Younkin family has very kindly been furnished us by Rev. E. H. Tannehill:

Many gathered in time for the morning church service and listened to the pastor of the church, Rev. Francis Tannehill, a great-grand son of Moses Younkin; preach the sermon. After a bountiful basket dinner all gathered in the auditorium of the church where the "Kansas division of the Younkin family Homecoming" was organized. Various committees were appointed and names secured of families that would plan to attend the "home coming" in Pennsylvania August 22. At least 12 families signified their intentions of going.

While this meeting were in progress the youngest descendant of Younkin blood was born at Herndon, Kansas; a son to Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Franke, and a grandson of Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Tannehill of Wakefield, a three times great grand child of Henry Younkin who was born in 1805.

The names of those present are too numerous to mention, but there were descendants of the Younkens from Wichita, Great Bend, Dodge City, Junction City, Clay Center, Manhattan, Ogden, Milford, Oak Hill, Riley, Broughton, St. Marys, Auburn, Topeka and Kansas City.

About the year 1753 a young man named Henry Younkin came to America and settled in Bucks county, Pennsylvania, where it is recorded that he paid taxes. One of his sons was Frederick, and one of Frederick's sons was Henry; who was the father of Moses, Harrison, Alfred, William, Jerry, Silas, John, Ross; Mary, who became Mrs. Will Stewart; Cassio, who married Dan Myers; Dillsh who married John Faidley; and Rachel, who married John Myers.

In 1851 this family began a westward movement, led by Moses Younkin who in that married Lavilla Mitchell and moved to Bloomington, Ill. Three years later they came to Kansas and settled in Pottawatomie county. In 1856 he discovered the land he had preempted was on the Indian reservation.

He then came to Clay county and built his home across the river from where Wakefield now stands. Not long after this some of the brothers came and a little later the father and mother moved to the same neighborhood. A large number of the citizens of Wakefield and surrounding country and towns are younkin descendants.

Other families of Younkens came at various times and settled around Wichita, Great Bend, and Dodge City and other parts of Kansas. It is being discovered that the Younkens are quite numerous in the state as well as all over the United States. The history of all these settlers would make interesting reading.

A few years ago some of the families in Pennsylvania became family conscious and arranged a "Home Coming." Last year there were 1200 in the gathering at Kingwood, Penna. A national organization has been effected with Charles Younkin of Charleroi as secretary. He has been tireless in his efforts to secure a genealogy and encourage reunions of the families in other parts of the country. It was thought this suggestion that the Kansas Younkens arranged a get together here Sunday.

OFFICERS PROBE MYSTERY DEATH OF A. J. IMEL

January 19, 1937

State Police began an investigation into the death of A. J. Imel, 57 years old, of Davidson, formerly of Mill Run, who died in Connellsville State Hospital at 9:40 o'clock Tuesday night of a fractured skull. The troopers were called into the case by Deputy Coroner Milton V. Munks when a physician who examined the body reported that the fractured skull had apparently been inflicted by a blow on the head with a blunt instrument.

Imel, the son of C. W. Imel, prominent aged resident of Mill Run, had lived in a shanty back of the Union Supply Company store at Davidson. Conrad Sandusky, son of Paul C. Sandusky, found the man early Tuesday morning and notified Connellsville police who had him removed to the Hospital. At first it was reported that the man had apparently been suffering from a hemorrhage.

According to the deputy coroner, Imel probably met with foul play although no information had been unearthed at noon as to circumstances that might have led to the fatality.

The body was being held pending the investigation by the troopers and arrangements for the funeral, in charge of Clyde B. Brooks of Indian Head, have not been completed.

AN APPRECIATION

By F. E. YOUNKIN

I am glad to say a few words in appreciation of the work that has been done by the officers of this Younkin Association other than myself.

They have worked tirelessly since the last Reunion to make the present Reunion a positive success, bigger and better. No one not in immediate touch with the situation can know what the secretary, president, and others, have done to please others to whom this annual gathering means so much.

Here we meet, deaths within the year are noted, new greetings are registered, hopes are renewed, and old friends clasp hands.

And then we hear of our pioneer ancestors; of their hopes and fears; their hardships, sacrifices, toils; their breaking ground in the New World, felling forest, fighting Indians, facing wild animals, and their struggles to make a living. Verily these were the stuff of which heroes are made!

And out of all this a sturdy race, perhaps more Hollandish to begin with, but later they intermingled their blood with Scotch, Irish, English, German and Scandinavian.

The children of these old worthies have taken their places with the best of the country, and reflect the strength, character, sturdiness, integrity, industry, hopes, and ambitions of their worthy forebears.

A Visit to The Old Homestead

Two years ago, during the early part of spring, my brother and I drove down to Mocks County to see how the old Younken homestead was weathering the "march of time." Neither of us had been on the place for over eleven years. The farm was sold about a year after grandad died, but to whom we don't know. When we got there it was like discovering that a beloved painting had been completely obliterated by a lot of drab, hideous colors.

Because of so much undergrowth we could not locate the foundation of the log cabin built by John Younken, our great-great-grandfather (I hope there are enough greats in that) and his brother Harmon, who as you know were the first Younkens who came to America. Grandad always pointed out to visitors this landmark of the district, with much pride. The saw mill was also erected by John and Harmon and rebuilt by grandad and his brother Nicholas. This was another memorable part of the past that these men loved so well, and which we found had been stripped to the ground.

Apparently the barn was not in use at all, for the road leading to it was impassable. You can well imagine that none of the fields showed any signs of cultivation either. Some family lived in the house, however, in spite of the fact that there were no window-panes—just heavy paper tacked up to keep out whatever elements it could. Even the porch had been allowed to fall down. In fact everything in site looked desolate and dreary.

There are a number of foreigners living in that section, and we were told that many of them are in the moonshine business. Not long ago government investigators uncovered a huge still in Bucks County and seized several thousand gallons of raw alcohol. This is pure guesswork, of course, but it does seem logical enough to believe that on the Younken homestead an active industry of that nature is being operated behind the impenetrable screen of underbrush. How else could these folks earn a living?

We left the farm that day feeling pretty sad, and wondering if the home of our father and our forefathers will ever be restored to the beauty and charm that it once possessed. Also, we should like to see it reclaimed by some member of the Younken Family.

High German Address

Address in High German delivered by Dr. Noble Younkin at the National Younkin reunion, August, 1936:

Geehrte Freunde und Verwandte:
Ja, Es dient mir zur besonderen Freude und Genugtuung an diesem Tage hier anwesend zu sein, um eine so grosse Schar von Verwandten und Freunden begriessen zu duerfen, unser Vorfahren vor nun mehr als drei hundert Jahren diese Ufer betraten, um eine neue Heimat zu suchen und den Religioesen Verfolgungen derer zu entgehen, die in der alten Heimat dominieren, und danach trachteten dem Volk die offene Bibel zu nehmen, wie sie einst durch jenen grossen Deutschen Reformator, Martin Luther, gegeben und verbreitet worden war, und dem die Welt sowohl Freiheit, als auch die Heilige Schrift in ihrer Reinheit zu verdanken hat.

Fuer diese koestliche Botschaft des Allmaechtigen Gottes, fuer seine Gnade und Barmherzigkeit einer ganzen Welt erwiesen, und auch fuer seinen Boten, durch welchen dieses alles zustande gekommen ist, sollten wir uns stets von Herzen dankbar erweisen.
"Die Gnade unsere Herrn Jesu Christi sei mit euch allen!" Amen.

THIS NEWSLET

In bringing this little newalet to you, an honest effort has been made to gather from far and near, a true story as far as it has been possible. If anything has been omitted it has been by an oversight and will be promptly corrected if made known.

Dr. Edwin Younkin A Great Surgeon

Prof. Edwin Younkin, A. M.; M. D.; C. M.; Ph. O.; LL. D.; former Professor of Surgery in the St. Louis College of Medicine and Surgery, inventor of Surgical appliances, author and writer and editor of the American Medical Journal for 30 years.

He was the son of Dr. Jonas Younkin who was a physician in this community in an early day when all the Younkin's spoke the Pennsylvania Dutch. He and his sister, a Mrs. Howe, went among the hills and gathered the roots and herbs with which his father compounded all his medicine. Dr. Jonas Younkin, his father, possessed a big blue bottle at that time and from that bottle he sold, skunk oil, bear grease and rattle-snake oil and turtle oil and goose grease and earth worm oil and many other kinds of oil, all owing to what the customer called for, and all out of the same bottle.

TOTAL YEARS OF THESE FIVE PEOPLE

In the article which follows a brief story of the old Younkin folks, whose photos appear in this issue of Bulletin will be given to begin they are all that are left living, (of the fourth generation) of Johan Henrich Junghen, or Younkin, the Pioneer of 1753, it is the aim of the writer to give definite dates as near as is possible to do so, and with but few exceptions it is being done. Henry Junghen or Younkin was a widower when he arrived in America in 1753, with a son Ernest Junghen, who supposedly died a short time later, as he never was heard from again. In 1754 another son arrived in America, John Junghen, of the descendants of the last named son, will make mention at a later date, through columns of the Bulletin, after a stay of a few years in Philadelphia, Pa., port of arrival, Henry migrates to Bucks County, Pa., where in 1756 he purchased a farm, and in the same year married Catherine Scherer.

Henry died in 1757 he is buried in the grave yard at Kellars Church, the gravestone reading: Geboren January 31, 1717.

Jacob, oldest son of second marriage was born about 1757, he married Hannah Nicola in 1785 and shortly after moved to Somerset County, Pa., where he died 1811, and is buried near Kingwood, Pa.

The following are the names of the descendants of Jacob and (Hannah) Younkin, John Henry, Elizabeth, Samuel, Catherine, Abraham, Jonas, Isaac and Polly. It would take too much space to give you a complete historical story of the descendants of Jacob and Hannah Younkin, will omit all except, direct ancestry of persons whose photos appear in this paper. Jonas or Dr. Jonas Younkin, who was born in Somerset County, married Martha Prinkey and went West when a Young man, he is buried near Nichols, Iowa. Dates of birth and death, are not now available. Among the descendants of Jonas and Martha Younkin, were Dr. Edwin, a famous surgeon of St. Louis, Mo. Several years ago Archibald, a lawyer of San Diego, Cal., he also has been dead a number of years, his widow died in 1926 near 102 years of age. A daughter, Mrs. Emily Howe, die a few years ago in Omaha, Neb., others of this family have passed on, but there still lives one son of Dr. Jonas Younkin, the venerable Aaron Younkin, of Lincoln, Neb., who was born July 31, 1845.

Rudolph (Ralph) Younkin second son of Henry and (Catherine Scherer) Younkin, was born about 1759 in Bucks County, Pa., he married Elizabeth Heckman, perhaps about 1780. A few years later moved to Perry County, Ohio, where he lived the remainder of his life. He is buried near Conning, Ohio, his wife, Elizabeth died May 24, 1831, and is buried there also. Of the several descendants of Rudolph and Elizabeth, will only speak of two, namely John and Samuel. John was born July 27, 1791, he married Margaret Trout in 1820, he lived his entire life in Perry County, Ohio, and is buried near Conning, Ohio. Fourteen children were born to John and Margaret Younkin, of these only one is living, the grand old man Isaac Younkin, of Burlington, Kan. who was 98 years of age April 21, 1938, and is today the oldest known living Younkin in the U. S. A. A brother and sister, the Famous Younkin Twins having died in 1937, in their 93rd year.

YOUNKINS OF THE 4TH GENERATION

Samuel Younkin, son of Rudolph and Elizabeth, was born November 2, 1797, near Harpers Ferry, his wife was Catherine Godlove. She was born Mar. 3, 1797. He moved to Iowa in 1844, and lived there the last years of his life. He died July 16, 1895. Several children were born to Samuel and Catherine Younkin, of these all are dead, except one, the venerable old Dr. George Younkin of Riverside, Iowa, who was born September 5, 1846, a brother, John F. Younkin, also of Riverside, having died Aug. 1937, age 96.

Frederick Younkin, third son of Henry and Catherine Younkin, was born in Bucks County, Pa., in 1763. He first married Barbara Deiter, perhaps 3 or 4 children were born to them. Barbara died a few years after marriage, after his wife's death presumably about 1785, 1790, he came to Somerset County, he again married. His second wife was Catharine Patton. It is not recorded if he was married the second time, before or after coming to Somerset County, at least on son to his first marriage. Remained in Bucks County possibly being taken care of by his grandmother. A record of his accidental death is recorded in Bucks County Intelligencer, Nov. 4, 1838. Several children were born to wife of second marriage, will only mention one, Frederick F. Younkin, who was born in Somerset County, Pa., in 1801. Fred F. married and went West, four children were born to first marriage. He having gone West, his wife having died a few years later, after her death, he came back to Somerset County, where he again married, several children were born, all being dead, except Henry Younkin, who was born in 1853. He being 85 years of age, living near Rockwood, Pa.

Henry Younkin fourth son of Henry and Catharine Younkin, was born in Bucks County, Pa., Oct. 9 1768. He married Anna Marie—he was living in Easton, Northampton County, Pa., in 1832. A

Kansas Group To Hold Annual Reunion

At Clay Center Municipal Park. Word has been received from Mrs. Mamie Y. Plather of Garden City, Kan., that Kansas Auxiliary of the Younkin Group, will hold their Second Annual Reunion. The committee in charge:

Dr. Jackson, Mrs. Ada L. Miller and J. E. Younkin, they have selected Clay Center the most central location for an occasion of this kind. All Younkens and allied families from all mid-western states should make it a point to be present. I am sure that the committee in charge, along with the President and Secretary, will be pleased to have you present.

THIS IS A VERY INTERESTING LETTER TO YOU

Decatur, Indiana, Dec. 28, 1937
Mr. Chas. Younkin,
Charleroi, Pa.

Dear Sir:

News Bulletin and letter received. The Bulletin is far beyond my expectations and is in orthodox form of a high-class newspaper.

Papers of a similar nature that I take cost me 3 or 4 times the price. Most family reports alone—One issue—usually cost family members 10 to 15 dollars. Every member should be proud of such a publication, because it is the only family newspaper in the world, no other family can boast of that, it is so extraordinary that it should make a world-wide news item.

It is something that has never been done before, probably in all the history of the world. We all should support it even if we have to make the shoes last another year or smoke or chew less and drink less and put in an extra dollar for some relative whom we know that cannot afford the dollar—make a yearly present to them, a present that would be a real present—one to be cherished and long remembered. Let us not fail in this great undertaking, but send in our dollars at once—the Younkin's never fail in any worthy undertaking, and this the culmination of a proud history dating back to the Gaulle war of Caesar, for Caesar said of us: "viri fortissimi" or "the bravest soldiers." We came from the tribe of the Helvetii—dwellers of the Alps, and the fortunes of war and conquest changed our nationality from time to time, and also our name. Send in what may seem to you the most trivial items of personal and family—stories, poems or doings of any of the family, even about how many eggs your hens laid or about a letter you may have received or you or some member, went to town or to the country, or what you had for dinner—so you don't mention some of my favorite dishes, or I might take the next train to pay you a visit. Especially don't mention anything about old fashioned chicken and dumplings pot-pie.

There are great magazines and newspapers but none as great as our family magazine and newspaper. Every member of the Younkin family is editor of this our family newspaper. Don't forget that, put lots into it and we get lots out of it. Remember our secretary has spent hundreds of dollars in driving over many states and in investigation and getting out letters and in getting out the first issue of this family newspaper, when he might have earned many hundreds of dollars for himself and we would not have known of each other and never have met and heard this great story of our great family.

Professor Edwin Younkin used to say "He who tooteth not his own horn, wherein shall it be tooted." So let's us toot our horn. (In The Bulletin.)

Send in your items and be happy. Also the dollars, and make us all happy.

Sincerely Yours,

DR. N. YOUNKIN.

P. S. Enclosed find eleven dollars, one for bulletin and ten to help pay for getting out bulletin.

EMERGENCY OPERATION

Rockwood, Mar. 2.—Ellsworth Younkin, 15 daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Younkin, underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis at Somerset Community Hospital.

YOUNKINS IN 35 Of The 48 States

The surprising fact that Younkens and their kin are to be found in 35 of the 48 states of the U. S. A., Alaska, Canal Zone, District of Columbia, B. C. Canada and Philippine Islands. The states are as follows:

Penna., Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Arizona, Oklahoma, Colorado, California, Oregon, N. Dakota, S. Dakota, Texas, West Virginia, Vermont, New York, Mass., Maryland, Nevada, Virginia, New Mexico, Missouri, Georgia, New Jersey, Florida, North Carolina, Arkansas, Montana, Tennessee, Washington, Kentucky, and Wyoming. About one half the total number reside in Penna., followed next by Kansas, Ohio, Maryland, Illinois, Iowa, California and West Virginia. In the order in which they are given, this enumeration has been taken from the list of names and addresses on file, believing this to be the greatest allied family group, (who in nearly every instance are able to trace their relationship) in the U. S. A., or entire world. It is possible to find a Younkin or their kin in every state of the U. S. A., what other family group can boast of being Nation Wide in its family ties? Other than this Great Younkin Family Group. Dear Younkin members if you know of a Younkin, or Younkin kin in any other state than those enumerated above, please report to secretary, let us be the first family group to be able to boast of a member in every state.

FORMER LOCAL MAN. NOW CANADA RESIDENT. VISITS OLD FRIENDS

Connellsville, Pa., April 20, 1938—Edward Fair-Groves of Quebec, who was born in Connellsville May 6, 1881, was greeting friends here Tuesday before going to Rockwood where he will visit with friends before enjoining for Oklahoma. It was his second visit in nearly 40 years.

Mr. Curotte, son of Anthony and Josephine Younkin Curotte, came here to obtain a copy of a certificate of baptism at Immaculate Conception Church which he said is of great value to him since he is a resident of Canada.

Mr. Curotte had been located in Canada for many years. He came back here about 30 years ago when he helped build a Baldwin automobile at South Connellsville when E. Long was the plant superintendent. He has since been located in the mining business in Canada.

Chamber of commerce directors on the losing side in the recent membership campaign entertained the winning directors at breakfast at the high school cafeteria yesterday morning. Levi Dickey was in charge of arrangements.

FOR YOUNKIN FAMILY NEWS BULLETIN

Let us all write to each other—and wait a year for an answer, and most likely not at all.

A LETTER TO MR. CHARLES YOUNKIN

2341 Allen Street,
Allentown, Penna.
March 22, 1936.

Mr. Charles Younkin,
Box 170 Charleroi, Penna.
Dear Mr. Younkin,

Not long ago you wrote to my brother for information about our relatives on the Younkin side. I have found a book which belonged to my father, and which contains biographies of some of the leading Bucks County Families who have long since departed from that locality. My brother has asked me to write to you, as he at the present time has no opportunity to do so. I copied the biographies of Mr. Fackenthal and brother's and my grandfather, Henry H. Youngken, and I also made an outline of brother's and my lineal descendants.

This book of biographies was published in 1899, and if the information contained therein is correct then the Historians with whom you have spoken about our ancestors are pretty badly mixed up, as you will discover when you read the enclosed copies.

John and Harmon Youngken, it appears, were the first two Youngkens to arrive in America, and they came from England where they were born and reared to manhood. Perhaps the Historians tried to trace our descendants thru Philip Fackenthal, who was an immigrant from Holland. However, his name enters the Y. records about 1846, when his granddaughter, Catherine, married a man referred to as K. Younkin.

I have looked for other references to our name but could find none. In the biography of A. B. Franklin Livezey, I found that in 1877 he married Sarah Van Horn, daughter of Joseph and Sarah H. (Tonkin) Van Horn, and they had one daughter, Grace V. H. It may be that this Tonkin is a misprint and should be Younkin.

I sincerely hope this information will help you clear up a few of the mysteries concerning our Family Tree, and if there are any particular names you wish me to trace in this book I shall be glad to give you all the data I can find.

Very truly yours,
Glady's D. Younken.
By Permission Of Glady's D. Younken

Henry H. Youngken, one of the worthy and influential farmers and millers of Nockamixon township, whom the people of northern Bucks County have regarded for the past two score and ten years as a typical representative of the agricultural class, is descended from one of the pioneer settlers of Southeastern Pennsylvania. The gentleman, whose name heads the above lines, was born and reared on his present homestead, and is a son of John Nicholas and Mary (Young) Youngken, and grandson of John and Mary (Essey) Youngken.

John Youngken was a native of England, where he was reared to manhood; in company with his brother, Harmon, he immigrated to the new and uncultivated lands of America, locating in Nockamixon township, this county, prior to the Revolutionary War; his first purchase was in the northwestern part of the township, and the land is now the property of a Mr. Haney. He was a blacksmith by trade, but upon coming to this country he did not pursue that occupation to a large extent, farming being his principal occupation. Later, John Youngken purchased the present homestead, buying directly from the Penna., and the property has been in the possession of the family up to the present day. According to records, the road that runs thru the farm was laid out in 1793. He erected a log house and saw mill, both of which are still in good condition, and are landmarks of the district; he cleared the land and carried on agricultural pursuits the remainder of his active days. As a result of his marriage with Mary Essey, the following children were born: John Nicholas; Michael; Abraham; Mrs. Conrad Letoyer; Mrs. Anthony Huffman; and Elizabeth.

John Nicholas Youngken, the father of our subject, was born on the homestead, and was reared to agricultural pursuits, which occupation he continued thru his entire life; he also operated the mill that stood on the land. John Nicholas was united in the bonds of wedlock with Mary Young, and this union was blessed by the following children: John married Marie Kressler; Nicholas (a bachelor) had possession of the homestead a number of years; Jesse early in life went West, where he still resides; Henry H., our subject; Abraham married Mary Frankenhoff; Sarah was the wife of William Mensch; Mary married John Musselman; Julia was wedded to John Kohl; and Catherine married Charles Sellner. The father of our subject passed from this life aged 76 years; his wife died at the age of 87 years.

Henry H. Youngken received his education in the district schools of his native township, and at an early age began to learn the trade of a cabinetmaker, which vocation he followed at Bethlehem and Easton, Pa., until 1858. He then gave up his trade and returned to the homestead, where he has since been engaged in farming in partnership with his brother Nicholas. They rebuilt the mill, which they also operate in connection with farming. He chose for his life companion Annie Lenning, a daughter of Adam Lenning, and they have reared four children: Alice married Robert Carlow, of Phila., and one child, David M., has been born to them; Emma, the wife of West Faben, of Bucksville, this county, and the mother of one child, Edith May; John N. No. 4, who married Lillie T. McCarty; Abraham was united in marriage with Eva Overholtzer, and they are residents of Philadelphia. Mr. Youngken and family are devoted members of the Lutheran Church.

Pennsylvania Dutch Address At The 1937 National Younkin Family Reunion By Dr. Noble Younkin.

Meine Liebend Freunden und Verwandter.

Die Pennsylvania Dutch ist vielen von Ihnen bekannt, ebenso Holländisch. Einige unserer Samilie konnten beide Sprachen sprechen, als sie nach America kamen. Die Pennsylvania Sprachen sind sich sehr ähnlich, wenn man eine davon kann, so versteht man leicht auch die anderen.

Die Germanischen Sprachen sind Sprachen der Wissenschaft und macht, haben sehr viel auf dem Medizin, der modern Technik, der Wissenschaft, Kunst, Musik und Religion geleistet.

Alle Pennsylvania Dutch sind sparsam fleissig, lieben die Gesellschaft unter einander, halten Heim und Kirche hoch, und lieben gute Kameradschaft und Gesang.

Ich wuensche Ihnen allen eine gute Gesundheit.

TO KANSAS STATE YOUNKIN ASSOCIATION

Dr. Noble Younkin of Decatur Indiana accepts your invitation to be present at your state meeting with some speeches—Pennsylvania Dutch, German, Holland Dutch and perhaps some English.

Announcement

The Fifth Annual Great National Younkin Reunion, will be held Sunday, August 21st, 1938, in the I. O. O. F. Grove, at Kingwood, Somerset County, Pa., on Route No. 63. About 15 miles South West of Somerset, Pa. All roads lead to Kingwood, Pa., on the above date.

LOVERS SEPERATED 44 YEARS AGO BY TIFF ON WEDDING EVE WILL RE MARRIED SUNDAY.

Sept. 4, 1937—Brought together again 44 years after a quarrel that terminated their engagement, a man and woman, each now 64 years of age, returned today from Ohio to Fayette county, the home of their youth, to apply for a necessary marriage license to permit the belated ceremony to take place Sunday in Connellsville.

Athalinda Teresa Edmonds, widow of T. H. Edmonds, daughter of the late Henry and Mary Louise Sampleason Stillwagon of Penna., and Aaron Nelson Leiberg, railroad conductor, a son of the late Jacob and Sarah Younkin Leiberg of Connellsville, "kissed and made up" and have decided to travel the balance of their life together.

On the finger of the bride-to-be is the diamond ring she returned to the man who had been her youthful choice back in the faraway days when love was in full bloom and the years stretched away into the future. The ring had never graced the finger of any other woman but had been kept bright and shiny for the girl for whom it had been originally selected.

During the 44 years the boy and girl grew into manhood and womanhood and married others with whom they lived until death separated them.

Application for the marriage license was made in Uniontown by mail from Elyria, Ohio, where the two now reside. Today they came to Uniontown to claim the official document that will permit them to become man and wife.

Older and wiser but still very much in love, they are eagerly awaiting the time when the vows will be repeated Sunday at noon at the United Brethren Church, with Rev. E. A. Schultz officiating. The day will be Mrs. Edmonds' birthday anniversary and the 44th anniversary of the date originally set for the marriage.

PNEUMONIA IS FATAL TO WIFE OF LOCAL MERCHANT

Mrs. W. F. Mitchell, Who Died Sunday, Was Descended From The Earliest American Stock

Mrs. W. F. Mitchell, 70-year-old wife of the well-known local grocer, died Sunday afternoon, December 19, at the family residence here, a victim of terminal pneumonia.

Funeral services took place at the Methodist Episcopal church at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Burial was in Memorial Park cemetery, Topeka.

The pallbearers were Clarence Youcum, Nels Hammarlund, David Urbansky and Frank Allen of St. Marys; C. P. Aul of Lawrence and Sam Shannon of Manhattan. The Rev. Fred Johnson officiated.

Sadie Younklin Mitchell was a daughter of the American Revolution in fact, not fancy. Born in South Connelville, Pennsylvania on October 25, 1867, she was a direct descendant of the Drakes and the Tannehills of Revolutionary war renown.

With her husband and family she came to Kansas in 1891 to occupy a farm northwest of Topeka. It was in 1914 that "Dad" Mitchell decided to open a grocery store in St. Marys, better known in those days as the Union Tea store. Three years ago last Thanksgiving day, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell celebrated the golden jubilee anniversary of their marriage.

Mrs. Mitchell was loved by all who knew her intimately. In recent years, particularly, was she an inspiring figure to her friends. Illness was a cross she had to bear for five or six years, but nobody ever heard a protest from Sadie Mitchell. She accepted her lot with dignity and courage, and the example she set will not soon be forgotten.

Mrs. Mitchell is survived by her husband and six children, thirteen grandchildren and one great grandchild. The children are George Mitchell of Kansas City; Roy of Detroit; Noly of Auburn; Earl of St. Mary; Mrs. Grace Bean of Auburn and Mrs. Eva Bean of Topeka.

W. F. HERWICK FUNERAL

Dec. 17, 1937—A brief funeral service for Walker F. Herwick, Baltimore and Ohio yard conductor, was held Friday afternoon at the family home in Franklin avenue, followed by full rites at the First United Brethren Church of which he was a member. Many relatives and friends attended. Rev. Elmer A. Schultz, church pastor, officiated and Mrs. W. E. Biesel, Mrs. J. W. Collins, Clark Witt and L. D. Hoover sang. Miss Jean Hoover was at the organ. There were many beautiful floral tributes giving evidence of the high esteem in which Mr. Herwick was held. Pallbearers were John H. Bowman, J. A. LaRue, J. E. Graft, John Gorsuch, Aaron Nicholson and Harry Younklin. Burial was in the family lot at Mill Run.

Mr. Herwick was born in Bullskin township December 13, 1870. He married Miss Margaret Kooser, who survives, with the following sons and daughters; Mrs. Howard Whaley of Akron, Ohio, Mrs. Ella Broda of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Theodore Mickey of Connelville and Clara, a teacher, Walkers and Robert at home. Brothers and sisters are Joseph C. Harwick, Mrs. Sarah Douglass and Mrs. Emma Strawn of Connelville, Mrs. Lydia Cummings of Erie, Mrs. Agnes Wyman of Mill Run, William of Stewarton and George of McKeesport. There was six grandchildren. Mr. Herwick was a member of the official board of the United Brethren Church for many years.

MRS. J. E. HAUGER

Rockwood, Feb. 8—Mrs. Ella Younklin Hauger, 60 years old, wife of J. E. Hauger of South Rockwood, died Saturday at her home after an extended illness. Besides her husband, she leaves three children, Mrs. Clark Younklin, Mrs. William Eagle, and Mrs. Maynard, all of Rockwood one granddaughter, and one brother, Grant Younklin of Rockwood.

The funeral service will be held Wednesday afternoon at the home with Rev. W. F. Beckelile, pastor of the Rockwood Church of the Brethren, and Rev. W. K. Kulp of Scalp Level officiating. Interment will be made in I. O. O. F. Cemetery.

MRS. M'CLAIN RITES

Funeral services for Mrs. Agnes E. McClain, 74, of 1777 N. W. 19th terrace, who died late Saturday night after a long illness, will be at Gaudier funeral home chapel at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow by Dr. E. S. Smith, with the body being sent afterwards to Orlando for cremation. She was a native of Pennsylvania and had lived here 13 years. She leaves two brothers, William Younklin, Bloomington, Iowa, and Albert Younklin of Kearney, Neb.; two sisters, Mrs. Ann Beeman and Mrs. Blair Harris of Fort Collins, Col.; three daughters, Mrs. O. D. Faircloth, Miami; Mrs. Alex Dombrosky, Balboa, Canal Zone; and Mrs. N. G. Oliver, Peckwood, Iowa; two sons, F. R. McClain, Fort Anador, Canal Zone, and A. H. McClain, Beaumont, Texas.

BIOGRAPHY OF EDWARD YOUNKIN MEDICAL DOCTOR

Dr. Edwin was born in Somerset County, Pennsylvania, on March 18, 1838. He was the son of Dr. Jonas Younklin and Martha Pringle Younklin, and was one of a family of six sons and two daughters, five of whom are still living, quite advanced in age.

His literary education was obtained in Abingdon College in Illinois, and his medical degree in Cincinnati, Ohio.

He may be said to have been by inheritance a doctor, since he began the pursuit of medical knowledge under his father's training. This was in the days when medicines were compounded by the doctor himself, and in memory of some here, Dr. Younklin employed the mortar and pestle to prepare his own drugs.

In Abingdon College he met Mattie Hart whom he married on April 28, 1861. Their family consists of two daughters, the elder Mrs. Minnie Hall of Chicago, and Mrs. Carrie Bowley of Southern California. Six grandchildren and eight great grandchildren survive him.

His early years in the practice of medicine were spent in West Liberty, Iowa, Abingdon, Illinois, and Leavenworth, Kansas. In this latter town, he was active on the relief committee during the three years of the grasshopper plague, which will be remembered by the older people. In those days a doctor during the week was often preacher on Sunday, and he followed this rule.

At about 35 years of age, he was invited to the Chair of Surgery, in the American Medical College of St. Louis, and in a very few years became Dean of that institution, where he remained for more than 25 years.

He attained to eminence in his profession and received many honors, local and national at the hands of his contemporaries. He was known as author, teacher, lecturer, surgeon, as well as general practitioner, and for a number of years was editor of the American Medical Journal. He remained in St. Louis for all the achieving years of his life.

His wife, Mattie Hart Younklin, was known in all our brotherhood as the originator, organizer, and active promoter for twelve years of what is known as the Benevolent Association of the Christian Church. A year after her death he married a second time. He sought relief from the busy urban life he had known on a farm outside St. Louis, where he remained, following a practice of medicine, mostly local, for about eighteen years. Disposing of this property about six years ago, he prepared to return to a home in St. Louis, but spent an intervening year traveling about. His plans were frustrated by the sudden death of his wife while visiting her sister in New York. After this he came to Chicago to spend his last days with his daughter and her family, where he has formed new ties that have meant much to him and his in these last days of quietness.

Early in life, it is believed—the records are not now at hand—he became a Mason, and has continued a member of that lodge to the last of life.

His Devotion to the church has been constant throughout his life, and correspondence still in existence shows the deep conviction of his young manhood in religious matters. He frequently engaged in debates on questions of theology

MOSES YOUNKIN

Was born May 31, 1830, in Addison, Somerset County, Penna. He was one of a family of 13, married Lavilla Mitchell in 1852 he then left for the West, remaining in Illinois for some time, where their two oldest children were born, namely, Emma Virginia, who married Henry Elias and John Mitchell Younklin. From Illinois they proceeded to Kansas and made their home on the site where Wakefield now stands, where the children were born. The year following the death of his wife, which occurred in 1879, Mr. Younklin moved to what is now Bellingham, Wash., with four of his sons Edward, William, Walter and Moses, settling there until death over took him. He was murdered presumably by the Indians, but while they had a trial, it did not end in a conviction. His death occurred on January 26th, 1892.

For many years Mr. Younklin belonged to the 11th, Kansas Cavalry and was in Major Moonlight's Division, at the time of the Custer Massacre.

In Bellingham, Wash., there is a Younklin G. A. R. Post in Mr. Younklin's memory. Three of the boys my husband has lost track of, the last we heard of Edward, he was in Alaska, and on his way to Siberia. Walter has been lost sight of and we heard Moses was in California. Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Tannehill, on their visit there failed to find him, this is as far as I can take you.

By Mrs. Elizabeth M. Younklin, Rock Creek, B. C. Canada.

Notes From Kansas

Kansas executive committee met in Junction City, January 23, 1938, and decided to hold Reunion of Kansas Younklin Group in Municipal Park, at Clay Center, Kan., Sunday, May 22, 1938. All are requested to make a special effort to bring an elder member, it will be a great day of visiting, truly a Reunion of Younkins, who have never before met. This is your opportunity to visit as you have never visited before. A full registration of family addresses will be taken there will be an interesting exhibit sent by National Secretary, Dr. Noble Younklin, of Decatur, Ind., who has been a visitor and speaker at near all National Gatherings held in Penna, will be present. I feel sure that he will have a wonderful message for you all. The major part of the program will be "who's who? and where from?" Many from a distance are planning to spend week end, in Park. Meet us in Clay Center, May 22 1938, where all mid-west Younkins meet. An enjoyable time is in store for all.

AN EULOGY TO OUR ELDERLY DEPARTED

There are they who have carved the way and laid down the precepts for our guidance to fuller and a more successful life.

They are the ones who have suffered the deprivations of the battle to make this our America a place of beauty and us their heirs of a freedom and opportunity that was never before known or dreamed of.

They have harnessed nature to be our servant instead of our master.

Many of our elders who helped to do these things, now look down from the upper plane—the light realms—summer-land—ready to receive us who, one by one become the elders of tomorrow, and prepare to depart this school of preparation for that house not made by hands, eternal in the Heavens.

He who is not a fool, seeks the counsel of his or her elders; for they are they that made it possible that we enjoy all these modern conveniences that we now have.

Remember what they endured! They shed their blood an dtears and shivered in the relentless cold—went unshod and unclothed and starved, but struck down the tyrants that would enslave men and women and children—they our elders served God and His Angels and Messengers.

He or she who offends his or her elders, cannot escape God's law of compensation in the end, if at all.

So let us resolve to remember our elders with thanks-giving for what they have so ably done for us. Delivered at the 1937 National Younklin Family Reunion by Dr. Noble Younklin, Decatur, Indiana.

POEM BY MRS. M. E. PRATHER

From North and South, from East and West,

Once more we meet to laugh and jest.

Round an improvised hearthstone, our loved ones meet.

The aged to honor while sweet childhood plays.

We'll awaken old memories and recall olden days.

We'll pause for a moment and reverently stand.

Thus honoring Younklin ancestors of the Pioneer Band.

When time closes or travels thru memory hall.

The bouquets we scattered, will ever be cherished by all.

MRS. T. G. HERWICK DIES SUDDENLY AFTER STROKE

March 23, 1938.—Mrs. Ellen N. Herwick, 76 years old, a widely known resident of Connellsville, died suddenly at 5:35 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Kepner at 510 Eleanor avenue, Scottsdale, where she had been residing for the past year. Mrs. Herwick had been out in the yard Tuesday afternoon and at 9 o'clock that night suffered a stroke from which she did not recover.

Mrs. Herwick was born at Mill Run December 12, 1861, a daughter of the late John and Claire Christner Kooser. She was the widow of Thomas G. Herwick, a civil war veteran, who preceded her in death many years ago. Mrs. Herwick had resided the greater part of her life in Connellsville, going to Scottsdale a year ago.

She leaves these children: O. R. Herwick, F. Y. Herwick and H. J. Herwick, all of Connellsville; Mrs. Elta Sheeley of Mount Oliver, Pittsburg; Mrs. Biddella Kepner of Scottsdale and Mrs. Kathryn Carney of Connellsville. There are three step-children, L. S. Herwick and Mrs. Olive Blakey of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Cora Lynch of Erie. One brother and two sisters who survive are Isaac N. Kooser of Cleveland, Mrs. Kate Johnson of Mill Run and Mrs. Marguerite Herwick of Connellsville. There are also 10 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

The funeral service will be held at 1:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the R. K. Kepner home at 510 Eleanor avenue, Scottsdale. Interment will be made in Mount Washington Cemetery near Perryopolis in charge of Funeral Director John J. Spisak.

MRS. ROBERT CUNNINGHAM

Mrs. Tobitha Cunningham, 62 years old, wife of Robert Cunningham, a lifelong resident of Stewart township and Ohio, died Tuesday at the family home near Ohio, after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Cunningham, a daughter of Francis and Jane Morrison and a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, is survived by her husband, five sons, Clyde, Edward, Walter, Robert, Jr., and Francis; three daughters, Mrs. Ophelia Conrad, Mrs. Mabel Glover and Miss Ruth Cunningham; her mother, Mrs. Jane Morrison; one sister, Mrs. Ethel McLain of Belle Vernon; two brothers, Dr. W. R. Morrison of Oberlin, Ohio, and J. George Morrison of Hopwood, and 13 grandchildren.

The funeral rites will be conducted at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Baptist Church at Ohio. Interment will be made in the family plot in Sugar Grove Cemetery.

MRS. ELLEN SCHROCK BURIED

The funeral service for Mrs. Ellen Schrock, who died Friday at the home of her daughter, Miss Della Schrock of Brookvale, was held on Monday afternoon at the Kingwood Church of God in Somerset county with Rev. E. A. Schultz, pastor of the United Brethren Church here, Critchfield, Albert Pike, Paul Zafall, Robert Snyder, Phil Reese and M. M. Younkens, were pallbearers. Interment was in the Kingwood I. O. O. F. Cemetery.

JOHN W. GERHARD

John W. Gerhard passed away at 7 o'clock on Tuesday evening, December 8, in the Hazel McGilvery Hospital, where he had been a patient for almost a week, suffering with an infected pancreas.

Mr. Gerhard was born in Somerset County, January 24, 1868, a son of Nelson and Sara (Nicholson) Gerhard. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sadie (Younkin) Gerhard, and these children, Clyde and Paul, of Meyersdale; Nelson, of San Francisco, Cal.; William, of Windsor; Homer, of Cumberland, Md.; Mrs. Charles Beal, of McKeesport; Mrs. Eli Shockey, of Wilkesburg; Mrs. Fred Hook of Charleroi, and Mrs. Brent Henry of Meyersdale. He was a brother of F. S. Gerhard of Confluence, David Gerhard of Uniontown, and Freeman and Jacob Gerhard of Somerset. Thirty-nine grandchildren and three great grandchildren also survive.

Mr. Gerhard very faithfully served the Borough of Meyersdale as street commissioner for more than six years. In this capacity he stood for the best for his town, and leaves a host of sorrowing friends and neighbors, who mourn his passing.

Funeral services will be conducted at his late home at 412 Olinger street at 2:30 o'clock on Friday afternoon, by Rev. J. C. Little, pastor of the local Methodist Church, of which Mr. Gerhard was a member.

He died July 20, 1859, and is buried in Dutch Bethel graveyard, near Brush Valley, Indiana Co., Pa. Several children were born to Henry and Anna Maria Younkens. Will at this time omit all excepting Aaron, who was born perhaps in Northampton County, Jan. 17, 1784; he married Mrs. Georgea be died June 7, 1888. Several children were born to Aaron and Mary Younkens, all are now dead, except one daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth (Younkin) McNott, living in Indiana, Indiana County, Pa. She was born December 21, 1852, age 85 years, this terminates for the time being our story which we hope has been made plain to you all. Our main object in giving this to you, was to prove to you seemingly impossible facts, which are only too true. I dare say this is not to be found in any other family group. Fourth generation extending over a period of 221 years, and they are all second cousins.

Grandfather F. F. Younkun Of The Year 1825

Father Of Michael Younkun, Nine More Of Old Aged Younkuns Born In Somerset Co.

LETTER BY F. F. YOUNKUN

February 17, 1932.

J. H. Younkun,
R. D. No. 3, Box 49,
Carbondale, Ill.

My dear Mr. Younkun:

I have yours of the 15th, and in reply will say that my father was born near Kingwood, Somerset County, Pennsylvania, along about 1825, and my grandfather was Frederick F. Younkun, who lived and died at the birthplace of my father, Michael Younkun. Somerset County is the next county to the east of Fayette County, in which the City of Conneville is located.

When my father was, say eight or ten years old, grandfather, Frederick F. Younkun, aforesaid, took him to Terre Haute, Indiana, and upon the death of my grandmother, grandfather moved back to Pennsylvania, and my father, Michael Younkun, started wandering, left Terre Haute, and went to Kankakee Illinois, and then wandered over into Iowa, Dubuque, Pella, Ottumwa, etc., and began to work for the Western Stage Company, which then ran relays of Concord Stages from there Westward, my father driving a Concord Stage for this company for more than eighteen years.

At one time father was married at Chillicothe, Missouri, and his first wife died, and after he left Iowa, after working for the Stage Company, he wandered into Kansas, Nebraska, Indian Territory, now Oklahoma, Texas, and went up to Arkansas. Then had the notion to go to Washington Territory on the Pacific Coast, now the State of Washington, and thought that he would come back and see his father near Kingwood, Pennsylvania, before he finally went to the West coast, he being a man of forty-nine years of age, having wandered and been away from home thirty-five years, being about fourteen years old when he separated from his father at Terre Haute, having refused to go back with grandfather, and hid in a cornfield of a nearby farm until he saw his father turning Eastward.

Grandfather, Frederick F. Younkun, was married twice, and had four children by the first wife, my father, Michael, being the oldest, then Uncle Jake, Aunt Mary and Aunt Agnes. Uncle Jake lived and died about a mile from the old homestead, where Grandfather Younkun lived and Mary married a man by the name of Griffiths, and became Mary Griffiths, and went to Murphysboro, Jackson County, Illinois, not far from Carbondale, and died there some years ago.

Stanley Scott, the son of Edgar Scott, the brother of my wife, who lives in Carbondale, Illinois, went to see Aunt Mary Griffiths at my instance some years ago, and found that she had just died at Murphysboro, and he talked with some of the sons and daughters, and other relatives of Aunt Mary. Aunt Mary sent me a picture of herself and Mr. Griffiths, and I saw her once when I was eight or ten years old.

at our old home in Somerset County, where my father lived and died, and she was on a visit from Illinois to Pennsylvania.

The enclosed clipping will show you I went to school at Valparaiso, Indiana, from 1896 to 1900, and thereafter during part of the year of 1902, and took an A. B. and B. S. Degree. In 1900, I went to Lake Villa, Illinois, the Northwestern County of your State, and became principal of what we call here in Pennsylvania a Township High School at Lake Villa, Illinois, for two years, and then in 1902, I went ten miles East from Lake Villa to Gurnee, and became principal of the High School there, and was there one year teaching ten months in the year. Gurnee is four miles West of Waukegan. While I was at Gurnee, County Superintendent Gaggin and I went during the Christmas vacation of 1902 to Springfield, Illinois, to a State Teachers Convention, and had promised Aunt Mary Griffiths at Murphysboro that I would continue on down from Springfield and visit her, but I changed my plans and came back to Gurnee, and did not see her, and finally came from Gurnee to Conneville, Pennsylvania, where I became principal of the Third Ward School, studied law and was admitted to the Bar of Pennsylvania in 1909, and have been in the general practice since that time in the same office.

At one time, when I was sitting at a table in East Hall, Valparaiso, Indiana, where I was taking meals, there came a young man from Southern Indiana to our table, and he was introduced to me, and when he heard my name, he said, "That is a very familiar name in my home in the Southern part of Indiana, as there is a whole colony of Younkuns down there."

Frank Younkun lived and died in Bullsken Township, this county, and was a prosperous farmer and cattle raiser at Pennsville, about four miles out of Conneville. Conneville has many Younkuns. There are twenty-two Younkuns named in the City Directory of Conneville, as I just now counted them, and I have no doubt that your grandfather, John Harrison Younkun, came from Somerset County, or Fayette County, or Westmoreland County, as there are Younkuns all through these counties. They are Pennsylvania Dutch, and my mother told me at one time that my father could not speak a word of English, as he had been brought up to speak Pennsylvania Dutch, but after he wandered through the West for thirty-five years, and I first learned to know him, I never heard him speak Dutch, but my mother, whose mother was a Younkun too, could talk Pennsylvania Dutch up to the time of her death, although her father was a native son of Ireland.

McClintock, and her mother's name was Mary Younkun, the sister of Dorcas Jake Younkun, there being so many Jake Younkuns that they identified each one of them by putting the given name of their wife before their surname. One of the Old Living Younkuns of Another Generation —the Fifth

By CHARLES YOUNKUN

In former issues of The News Bulletin, we have given you the beginning of a few of the branches of the Younkun family in America, and if you will follow closely, you will readily understand who these folks are, and where they belong in this great Younkun picture that we have attempted to bring to you, partly by picture and partly by story. In this story our intention is to give the older folks the preference, and with a follow up of the different generations, until we have reached the bottom of the ladder. In this we have dealt only with the descendants of the pioneer of 1753, Johan Henrich Jungken, and when we have finished with this, will at-

A WISH

I ask not for riches
To set my life apart.
I humbly pray that I may have
An understanding heart.

A mind with sympathy attuned
To a fellow-being's need,
A soul that grows with every day
Because of kindness it doth feed.

Oh grant, I pray, the boon I ask,
And give me wisdom rare
That I may meet the daily task
And make the world more fair.

MILL RUN, PA.

MILL RUN, July 1.—Mrs. Frank Younklin entertained the Anagram Club Tuesday evening at her home. Prizes were awarded to three highest players. They were Mrs. Truman Johnson, Miss Della Henry and Miss Florence Marietta. Lunch was served by the hostess, aided by her daughter, Miss Esther.

Huffman Younklin Wedding

GREAT BEND, Kan.—Yesterday at high noon at the First M. E. church of this city, Miss Marietta Younklin became the bride of Mr. Byron Huffman.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lehergrin's Wedding March played on the organ by Mrs. Harry Dodd. During the single ring ceremony, which was read by Rev. A. C. Brown, Mrs. Dodd played "At Dawning," by Cadman, and as a recessional she played Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor-length gown of white all knit, which was designed by herself, worn over a white satin slip. With this she wore white sandals, and a tiny gold locket which was given to her on her 5th birthday, and on her head she wore a Juliet cap made of small white flowers. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Fred Willard of Chase, as matron of honor, was attired in a floor-length dress of pink lace net with a pink tulle bolero. Her accessories were white. She wore a flower in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink rose buds. The groom was attended by Mr. Ray Free as best man. They were both dressed in suits of grey.

Mrs. Huffman is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Younklin. While attending Great Bend high school she took part in many activities. She graduated with the class of 1934. For the past two years she has been employed as stenographer in the office of F. C. Seebor.

Mr. Huffman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Huffman of Larned. He attended Larned high school and later the University of Honolulu in Hawaii. He is employed by the Kansas Power Company.

In the afternoon a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mesdames Ed Meyer and Joe Forbes assisted in serving the guests.

After the reception the couple left for a honeymoon, their destination unknown. For traveling Mrs. Huffman chose a three-piece suit of beige with salmon cape, and beige accessories.

Upon their return they will be at home at 1621 Grant street.

National Reunion At Kingwood, Pa.

Will be held in I. O. O. F. Grove, Sunday, August 21st, 1938. The great allied Younklin family group will hold their fifth annual Reunion. This includes all of the following: Younklin, Younken, Younkine, Youngken, Youngkin, Younkine, and all other allied names. All persons knowing themselves to be in any way related are welcome, and are requested to attend. "Just Remember" all roads lead to Kingwood, Pa., on the above date.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Younklin Have Golden Wedding Anniversary

DUSHORE, April 14, 1938.—Mr. and Mrs. Levi Younklin of Dushore observed their 50th wedding anniversary at their home on April 10. The occasion was a happy one, numerous relatives and neighbors calling to pay their respects and leaving lovely gifts. There was singing of the old-time hymns with Miss Helen Meyers as organist and a delicious dinner was served. To add to the delightfulness of the occasion, Mrs. Younklin wore the gown in which she was married April 10, 1888, the ceremony having been performed at the Evangelical church by Rev. C. L. Sones, then the pastor.

Mrs. Younklin's maiden name was Arrilla Wentzel and the attendants at the wedding were Edward Huffman, cousin of the bridegroom, and Clara Wentzel, sister of the bride, who is now Mrs. Clara Vincent. The attendants are still living, Mr. Huffman being at the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Younklin received a beautiful floor lamp from their nieces and nephews and a lovely bouquet of yellow roses from Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Meyers, and Miss Helen. They deeply appreciate all that was done to make their anniversary a happy one, thanking those who made the cakes and those who remembered them with cards.

Those present for the gathering were Rev. and Mrs. Meyers and Miss Helen Meyers; Mr. and Mrs. Addison Younklin, Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Bird, B. V. Kneller, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Younklin, Mr. and Mrs. John Everling, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eisch.

Help for Pitcairn Islanders

Mrs. Dorothy Hall, of Springfield, N. Y., is shown at the controls of her own amateur radio station, W2IXY, in her home, as she prepared to relay a radiod message for help sent by the 215 isolated residents of Pitcairn Island to the British government. The islanders, descendants of the mutineers of the ship Bounty, are badly in need of food and medical supplies. They ask that a warship be sent from Fiji with the necessities.

Letter Recently From Gladys D. Younklin

2341 Allen St.,

June 6, 1938.

Mr. Charles Younklin,
Box 170,
Charleroi, Penna.
Dear Mr. Younklin:

I have been out of town and only just received your letter. I sincerely appreciate your taking the time and trouble to give me so much information about my ancestry.

I did not know that you had already made such an exhaustive study of this subject, otherwise I should not have sent you those biographies, which obviously contradict all you have learned from church and court records. But I feel certain that you do understand that I was not meaning to be presumptuous, but truly wished to help you trace our interesting pedigree.

Since reading your letter I can well imagine how such biographies can be pure fiction. I have no idea where my grandfather got the information he gave the authors of the book which, by the way, was published by Biographical Publishing Co., Buffalo, N. Y., 1899. I am sorry I have no old letters or documents which might cast further light on this.

Cordially,

GLADYS D. YOUNKLIN.

ANSWER TO

GLADYS D. YOUNKLIN

The reason the Younklin or Younklin clan hail from different countries is very easy of explanation. The Germanic races conquered Britain and became her rulers and are so today. Some remained there as also in Scotland and in France. Some are even Russian and Swedes and Danish and even Irish and English. The name is thus spelled in many different ways on account of the above reasons.

The letter "J" is the "Y" of all German languages and the Z sound in French. In some languages the "U" is silent as also the "G" in certain cases. Juncthen is French but means the same as any other way we may spell the name, also Jonken or an in, or Junken or Junkin. All the ways is just reference to the nation we hail from. Many remained in their home country, and thus to Russia and Holland, Spain, etc.

Signed,

DR. NOBLE YOUNKLIN,
Decatur, Indiana.

MARINE MAKES SHORT VISIT

W. Chalmers Younklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey C. Younklin, of Rockwood, Pa., paid his parents a short visit on May 21st to 24th, 1938. He has been away from home nearly two years. His duties as a seaman on the S. S. Evelyn have taken him to many foreign countries, and many interesting places in other parts of the world. After the visit he returned to his duties aboard the same ship which lay at anchor at Baltimore, Md.

Letter From Dr. N. Younklin

Decatur, Indiana,
June 27, 1938.

Mr. Chas. Younklin,
Charleroi, Pa.
Relative:

Letter received, also clipping containing Pennsylvania Dutch poems and other matter of interest which should be reprinted in the Younklin family newspaper if permission can be obtained from the other newspaper.

The Kansas and western states Younklin family reunion which I attended May the 22nd at Clay Center, Kan., was well attended from several states, some 250 or 300 in all, but had the road conditions been good, there would have been 400 or 500.

Dr. Jackson of Riley, Kan., was on the job, also Grover Younklin and the fat and jolly secretary, Mrs. Mammie Y. Prather of Garden City, who is on a diet of everything there is, but is as active as a cat.

The other officials I did not get so well acquainted with and therefore cannot comment on. J. C. Younklin I met at Junction City, where, I believe, is to be held the next reunion. Clay Center gave us a swell welcome and permitted us the use of their city building and its kitchens. The Kansas group will expect several of the National Officials to be present at their next reunion, and with lots of talk. The exhibit of photos and other objects you sent were well received and enjoyed by all.

Yours,

DR. N. YOUNKLIN.

PENNSYLVANIA FOLKS VISITING IN KANSAS

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Faidley of Rockwood, Pa., are visiting with relatives and friends in various parts of Kansas, but are planning to be back home in time to attend the Reunion August 21, 1938.

same as his. This is the old fellow who still is going strong. On a visit to his home a few weeks ago, we were told that he was in the cemetery, and on our arrival there, found this spry old man digging graves, where he has been employed for the past twenty years.

William M. Younklin, aged 82 years, lives in San Diego, Cal., he being a son of Archibald and Mary (Catharine —) Younklin, Archibald being a son of Dr. Jonas and (Martha Prinkey) Younklin. Jonas Younklin was a son of Jacob and (Hannah Nicola) Younklin. Jacob being a son of Henry and (Catharine Scherer) Younklin.

Eugene Younklin, aged 80 years, lives in Dorchester, Neb., he being a son of Walter Younklin, who was a son of Dr. Jonas Younklin, whose father was the Jacob Younklin, oldest son of Henry and (Catharine Scherer) Younklin, of Bucks County, Pa.

This completes the story telling of old folks whose photos appear in this issue.

The golden wedding photo of Levi Younklin and wife is from a different branch, he being a descendant of Henry Younklin, or Jungchen, who arrived in America in 1806. In the first issue of The Bulletin there is an article telling of this above Henry Younklin.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stevenson of Talbot Ave., Greensburg, Pa., announce the birth of a daughter in the Westmoreland Hospital Monday, May 2, 1938. The young lady has been named Donna Elizabeth. Mrs. Stevenson, before her marriage, was Miss Clemia Younklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Younklin of Ursina, Pa.

ATTENDS KANSAS REUNION

Dr. Noble Younklin, of Decatur, Ind., attends Reunion in Clay Center, Kan., on May 22, 1938. While on this trip he was the guest of Mrs. Mamie Prather of Garden City, and Grover C. Younklin, of Wichita. His report was one of a most wonderful and enjoyable trip.

TENNESSEE FOLKS

ON ANNUAL TOUR

Recently word has been received from Marcus W. Younklin, of Paris, Tenn., who then was stopping over at Gettysburg, Pa., for a few days, on his way to New England states with his wife and daughter Margaret.

REUNION AT RIVERSIDE

The Iowa state branch of the Younklin family group will hold their Reunion at Riverside, Iowa, Sunday, August 7, 1938. Younklin members from other states are requested to attend. Mrs. Margaret Cross, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is president, and Mrs. John Tener, of Riverside, Iowa, is secretary of the Iowa branch.

In Great Battle

During the 75th anniversary of the great battle at Gettysburg, Pa., early in July this year, the question has been asked the writer if any one of the Younklin was in this terrible battle, which was the turning point in the struggle between the North and South. My answer is at least one (perhaps more), the venerable old departed relative and friend, Jefferson Younklin, late of Washington, Pa., who was badly wounded and survived 72 years. He died July 4, 1935, near 93 years of age.

REUNION HELD AT CLAY CENTER

Second annual Reunion of the Kansas Younklin group was held at Clay Center, Kan., Municipal Park Sunday, May 22, 1938. Nearly 150 persons were in attendance, though it was dark and cloudy, raining continuously throughout the day. After a bountiful dinner, Dr. Noble Younklin, of Decatur, Ind., gave a fine descriptive talk on the family coat of arms, telling true meaning, and the standing of the family who at one time occupied the "Golden Throne." Persons were present from Colorado and Missouri. Reunion of 1939 will be held in Junction City. Officers are Grover C. Younklin, Wichita, president; and Mamie Y. Prather, Garden City, secretary.

REUNION AT DUSHORE, PA.

On Sunday, August 14, 1938, in Penns Woods, near Dushore, Pa., the Younklin family of Sullivan and other Northeastern Pennsylvania counties, will hold their annual Reunion. For a number of years these folks have been holding a Reunion. They are descendants of Henry Younklin, or Jungchen, who arrived with his wife and child at Philadelphia, Pa., in 1806. Levi Younklin, of Dushore, Pa., is president; Ernest Younklin, secretary, address also Dushore, Pa.

Younkin Obituaries

Mrs. Joseph Younkin

DUSHORE, Pa., 1938.—Mrs. Hannah Caroline Mosier Younkin, widow of the late Joseph Younkin of Cherry township, died at her home Thursday night, following an illness of two weeks.

Mrs. Younkin was born in Dushore borough, December 24, 1852, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mosier, and a granddaughter of one of the earliest settlers of the borough.

Mrs. Younkin was widely known through this part of the state, having always taken a lively interest in all community affairs of her community, and was held in high esteem by all who knew her.

She was a member of the Peace Lutheran church, and charter member of Cherry Grange.

She is survived by one son, Howard P. Younkin, with whom she made her home since the death of her husband; two grandsons, Robert J. Younkin and Carl J. Younkin, and one grandson, Leon Edward Younkin, all of Cherry township. Also one brother, Willis P. Mosier of this place, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral service was held from her late home Monday afternoon, with further service in Peace church. Rev. Harold G. Deisher, pastor, officiated. Interment in the family plot in the adjoining cemetery.

The pall bearers were her nephews, Frank C. Mosier, Kenneth Mosier, Daniel Mosier, Frank V. Robe, William Robe, and Ernest Younkin.

The flower bearers were her nieces, Mrs. Anna McCauley, Mrs. Alice Tice and Mrs. Margaret Kunes.

Among those from a distance who attended the funeral were: George Mosier and daughter Hannah of Easton; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Mosier, Mrs. Wm. J. Mosier and Mrs. Orville Rowen of Anita, Pa.; Mrs. Frank E. Younkin, son Willard of Itasca; Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Bird of Corning; John Mosier of Stevensville; Mrs. Alice Tice, Mrs. Anna McCauley and Willard Mosier of Newark, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mosier and family of Lopez; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mosier, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Kunes of Towanda; Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Bird of New Albany and Mrs. Eleanor Hottenstein of Luzerne.

MRS. LAKE JAMES, SALISBURY, DIES

SALISBURY, Pa., May 19.—Mrs. Jean (Farner) James, aged 36, wife of Lake James, prominent Salisbury merchant, died at 6 o'clock this morning in the Hazel McGilvery Hospital in Meyersdale, following an illness of a complication of diseases. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farner of Salisbury.

Surviving are her husband, her parents, and these children: Donald, Frank, Thomas, Mark and Joseph, all at home. She was a sister of Mrs. Paul Miller of Elk Lick Township, and Glenn Farner of Salisbury. Mrs. James was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church here and was active in church work. The body has been prepared for burial by Stanley Thomas, local mortician.

MRS. ELLEN CROSSEN

SOMERSET, May 6, 1938.—Mrs. Ellen Crossen, 86 years old, died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Liphart, in Upper Turkeyfoot township after an illness that confined her to bed for 13 weeks. She is survived by these children: Jesse Ream of Middlecreek township, Fred Ream, John Brounger and Mrs. Liphart of Upper Turkeyfoot township. F. W. Dull of Harnedsville is a brother.

The funeral service was held Thursday afternoon at the Kingwood Church of God. Rev. Lloyd Maholien of Casselman and Rev. J. L. Kalp of Kingwood officiated. Interment was made in Odd Fellows Cemetery.

GEORGE CHRISTIAN MOSIER 1938

George C. Mosier died in the Binghamton State Hospital Sunday, March 13, after an illness of 18 years.

He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Christian Mosier of Colley, was born January 4th, 1854, at Colley.

He was a millwright by trade and was well known in this community. About forty years ago he moved to Elmira where he had since made his home.

He is survived by his widow, several step-children, and one sister, Mrs. John Schaad, Sr., of Mildred.

Funeral service was held Wednesday afternoon at the Holcombe funeral parlor at this place. Interment in the Schaad plot in Fairview cemetery.

MRS. M. D. FLANIGAN, CALIFORNIA WOMAN'S SISTER, SUCCUMBS

CALIFORNIA, Pa., June 27, 1938.—Mrs. M. D. Flanagan, 62, sister of Mrs. Edward Wiley of California, died Monday at her home in Beaver from a heart attack. She was a native of Pennsylvania and a daughter of the late Frank and Harriet Younkin. Her husband, Frank, preceded her death.

She leaves three children, Mrs. Henry Woodman of New York, and the Misses Susan and Martha Grace, at home. There are three sisters, Mrs. Wiley, Mrs. Richard Sherrick, Uniontown, and Mrs. Charles Detwiler, Pennsville.

Funeral service was Wednesday afternoon at the home with burial in a Beaver cemetery.

MRS. HANNAH E. MARTIN 1937

Mrs. Hannah E. Martin passed away at the home of her son, George Martin, New Albany, on Wednesday, Sept. 8th. She was born May 15th, 1854, in Sullivan county, and is survived by two sons, George and Irvin, of New Albany; two granddaughters, Doris of New Albany and Mrs. Elizabeth Kellogg of Towanda.

Funeral services were held Saturday at 1:30 at the home of her son, George, with further services at the Baptist church, New Albany, at 2 o'clock. Burial was in the Thrasher cemetery at Dushore.

Grandfather F. F. Younkin Of 1825

sons of Dorcas Jake Younkin is the County Surveyor of Somerset County, is about seventy-nine years old, and can go over the hills yet like a greyhound. His name is Colwell Younkin. Of course, he is the first cousin of my mother.

My wife was Maud Scott, a sister of Edgar Scott of Carbondale, Illinois. You should go and see him, and he could tell you about the Younkins in Pennsylvania, as he was born in Lower Turkeyfoot Township, Somerset County, Pennsylvania, where my wife was also born, and I was born in Upper Turkeyfoot Township, Somerset County, Pennsylvania. Edgar can tell you much about the Younkins.

Mrs. W. E. Lawson of Homestead, Pa., is a sister of my wife, and she got by error the letter she was sending my wife into an envelope that was addressed, Carbondale, Illinois, and should have been addressed to her sister, my wife, in Connellsville, Pennsylvania, as she was in the habit of writing to her brother in Carbondale, Illinois.

Reverend James A. Younkins, a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the Pittsburgh Conference for thirty years, was born in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, and he told me at one time that there were many Younkins in that county.

I notice that the Younkins are dying out in your community. They are a pretty hearty race of people, and have been mostly farmers through the years. One of them, Attorney Garfield Younkin, graduated at Ohio Northern University at Ada, practiced law for a while, lost his health, and is now principal of schools at Phoenix, Arizona, or near there. His cousin, Ira D. Younkin, is a prominent wholesale man of this city, and is now on the Council of the city.

Blair and Ralph Younkin have executive positions with the Capstan Glass Company of South Connellsville. They are the sons of Milton R. Younkin, who came here from Draketown, Lower Turkeyfoot Township, Somerset County, Pennsylvania.

Over Somerset County there are a good many Stoners, also in Westmoreland County, as that is a common name there.

Frank Younkin never lived in Connellsville, but in Pennsville, aforesaid, although there are several persons by that name. Frank Younkin, Sr., whose brother, Elmer, was killed the fall of 1929, just outside of Connellsville, and they tried Captain R. C. Bledsoe of the R. & O. police for murdering him. Also, J. Frank Younkin, a brother of Ira David Younkin, comes to my office frequently as we have had business with him through the years. John P. Younkin lived and died at Paddytown, below Kingwood, and he was the son of Herman Younkin, who was the brother of my maternal grandmother, Mary Younkin, as you have noticed, I am related to one branch of the Younkins on my father's side, and another branch on my mother's side. There are Younkins in the Jersey Settlement, near Draketown aforesaid, there being several of them there.

When you are in Carbondale, see

Edgar Scott, who lived on Maple Street, and talk to his son, Stanley, who is a druggist, and perhaps, his wife, who comes from Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, and maybe the two daughters, who were born in Pennsylvania, and I am sure they can give you much information about the Younkins here.

Ross Younkin worked for years for my father-in-law, Noah Scott, and one of his daughters lives in Connellsville.

I hope I have answered your questions, at least some of them, and I forgot to say that my grandfather, Frederick F. Younkin, was married twice, and had six or eight children by the second wife. One of them is Uncle Henry Younkin, who had a bunch of boys, and they are around Somerset County.

Yours truly,
F. E. YOUNKIN.

Fifth Annual Reunion Held at Kingwood

Held in L. O. O. F. Grove at Kingwood, Pa., Sunday, August 21, 1938.

Visitors were present from thirteen states and the District of Columbia. A most beautiful day, and a representation of many of the branches of a great allied family group, make this annual gathering one of the greatest of its kind in existence. From early a. m. until well past mid-day, a continuous stream of cars came pouring into this wonderful spacious park (by actual count 300 autos and buses) where once each year we of Younkin Clan gather and make merry.

The morning program was a short one of music and song. The mid-day festivities were supplemented by a continuous stream of music by the Galluci Orchestra, through a high power four-way amplifying system, and was plainly heard in all parts of the grove and immensely enjoyed by all. "Then the feast"—food, food everywhere, food fit for a king and enough for an army (if not too large). The many park tables were quickly filled. The new spacious cafeteria pavilion was soon filled to capacity; every available place was quickly taken up. The day being ideal, many spread old fashioned picnic style. Soon this happy throng began enjoying to their hearts' content, to the fullest meaning of these gatherings. To the good women folks we owe much for these most wonderful, successful affairs, for they seem to know just what it takes to satisfy the appetites of the hungry hordes. The satisfied look is most convincing. Am inclined to believe this old saying, that many a person's heart has been won via the stomach. There was plenty for all and much was taken back home. During all this time autos continued to arrive, and by the time to start the afternoon program, the crowd looked more like a Fair or Chautauqua than a family gathering.

The afternoon program, one long to be remembered by all that were present, was in charge of Frank W. Younkin, master of ceremonies. The program was opened by prayer and song service, which was followed by address by Otto R. Younkin, patriotic speeches by F. E. Younkin and D. Garfield Younkin, Clarence L. Younkin of Miami, Fla., told of his many travels, and of being marshal in a Kansas town when western bad men were plenty.

Mamie Y. Prather of Garden City, Kan., spoke of her many travels among the Younkens and of the organization of the Kansas group, and of having brought to life the annual reunions held there each year.

Reading by Miss Ethel Prince.
Music by the Galluci Orchestra.
Bill Billy music by Mr. Henry.
Tap dancing by the Lincoln sisters.
Piano music by Mrs. Luella Shepard and Mrs. Emma Y. Lincoln.

Mr. Smith, crayon artist, and Percy the Ventriloquist. This young fellow, a near 7 ft., 17-year-old giant, did a wonderful act with his make-believe Charlie McCarthy. All in all, too much program for one day. Nearly two hours were consumed by this most wonderful program that was immensely enjoyed by the many hundreds present.

All present officers were elected to serve again. After brief business meeting, the balance of the day was spent visiting. Persons were present from the following states: Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham and child from California; D. G. Younkin, Mesa, Ariz.; Mrs. Mamie Y. Prather, Garden City, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Younkin, Miami, Fla.; Dr. Noble Younkin and Col. Beck, Decatur, Ind.; Glenn Younkin, wife and mother, Mrs. Dottie J. Younkin, Marion, Ill.; Fred Younkin and sons, Ashville, Ohio; Calvin, Jesse, Oscar and William Black, Zanesville, Ohio; Ernest Younkin and wife, Rainelle, W. Va.; Marcus Younkin, wife and daughter, Margaret, Paris, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fernsner, Washington, D. C.; Carl Smith, Edinburg, Va.; Mrs. Louise Kane Atlanta, Ga.; Geo. A. Younkin, Grantsville, Md.; and many from Pennsylvania. Many others were present from several of the states already mentioned, but it would take too much space to enumerate them all. The reason for enumerating the different states was to give you some idea of the size and magnitude of these great gatherings, a representation from 13 states and District of Columbia. We doubt if any other family can boast of a gathering as far reaching. Many of our old members were present again this year. Mrs. Nancy Y. Forsythe, of Conneville, Pa., who just recently celebrated her 87th birthday, was the oldest person present, followed closely by Colwell S. Younkin, of Confluence, Pa., 85; Fremont Younkin, of Somerset, Pa., 84; Daniel Younkens, Butler, Pa., 83; Benton Younkin, Rockwood, Pa., 81; and from far-away Florida, Clarence L. Younkin, aged 73 years;

An Exciting Experience

How would you like to be the one to take your neighbor's red flannels from the line without asking for them? This all did happen one Sunday, August, 1938, and it does not matter so much if they were red flannels or something else, for this was in an emergency, and needed quick action and thought because an auto bearing three prominent members had dropped between the rails at a narrow private R. R. crossing, and a fast east bound passenger train was due in just a few minutes, and the only thing in sight, was the neighbor's Sunday wash on the line. Well, this is once the Sunday wash saved the day. The train was brought to a stop within a few feet from where the auto was perched between the rails. Crew and passengers gently lifted auto from its perilous position. While all this was being done, the flannels were kept busy, for the good Younkin brother acting flagman at this time knowing that another train was about due, going in the opposite direction. This train also was brought to a stop by the alert, quick thinking Younkin person, with the aid of the makeshift warning signal, taken from the neighbor's wash line. A Sunday wash may have its drawbacks, but this one time it was a godsend. The auto was saved, nobody hurt and all ended well. "Maxim"—Whenever you see a Sunday wash on the line just remember the experience of this fine Younkin group.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 19, 1938.—Mrs. Nancy Younkin Forsythe, who celebrated her 87th birthday on Sept. 16, 1938, will be remembered as the oldest member present at Reunion at Kingwood, Pa., Aug. 21 this year. Word has been received that her former good health has not been so good of late. We hope for a speedy recovery of this grand old Younkin to normal health.

Younkins of Another Generation

In this issue of the Bulletin, we bring to you a new generation, the 6th in line of the ancestor who came to America in 1753, in former issues of the Bulletin, we have brought to you a living picture story of the fourth and fifth generations of the above pioneer and in this issue we have again stepped back one more step and have brought to you a new generation, the sixth, and to make it easy for you to understand who this new generation is, all you need do is to turn to 2nd and 3rd issues and you will readily understand who they are and where they belong on this great Younkin Family Tree.

Ernest Younkin is 48 years of age, and lives in Rainelle, W. Va. He is a son of Colwell S. Younkin of Confluence, Pa.

Clifford E. Younkin is 48 years of age and lives in Dorchester, Neb. He is a son of Eugene Younkin of Dorchester, Neb.

J. Clarence Younkin lives in Johnstown, Pa. He is a son of Harry Younkin, who in turn was a son of Uriah Younkin and Uriah Younkin was a brother of Mrs. Elizabeth (Younkin) McNutt, whose photo appears in second issue of Bulletin. This terminates the story of the 6th generation. In next issue we will have a story of the 7th generation. Look for it.

also many others whose ages have not been reported. The youngest person present was Clarence Ivan Younkin, 28 days old, he being a son of Kermit Younkin, of Johnstown, Pa., and a grandson of Clarence Younkin, whose photo appears in this issue. Too soon we come to the end of a glorious day, but one year hence we meet again.

SECRETARY.

TURKEYFOOT OF OLD

When the first Younkin came to Turkeyfoot the hills and valleys were clothed in forests of oak, chestnut and hickory, also varieties of pines. The open spaces produced berries and succulent grasses. The nuts and fruits provided abundant food for all kinds of game. Deer, bear and wild fowl, including the lordly wild turkey, were plentiful. The sparkling streams, fed by springs, were inhabited by trout, bass and other edible fish. Naturally fertile soil made an ideal home for the hardy pioneers.

Three streams traversed the mountains. The Youghiogheny and Casselman Rivers and the North Fork or Laurel Hill Creek. These streams joined in the form of a turkey's foot, hence the name of the community.

The settlers came from the east by the Great Road opened by Gen. Forbes in 1758. Settlements were made in Turkeyfoot soon after that date. Roger Williams had lived in the vicinity for a short time about 1650, after he was driven from the Massachusetts colony. In 1732 there were apple orchards bearing fruit. Not known by whom they were planted.

Until the survey of the Mason and Dixon line was completed in 1787 the land was supposed to be a part of Virginia.

April 17, 1790, Somerset County was founded by Act of Assembly from a portion of Bedford County. In July, 1773, Turkeyfoot Township was organized. Later, in 1848, the township was divided into Upper and Lower Turkeyfoot.

The Younkin brothers hewed their farms from the forest in what is now Upper Turkeyfoot.

The first school in the county was near Confluence. The Turkeyfoot Baptist Church near the same town has been a place of worship for 163 years.

The first paper—Der Westliche Telegraph—was founded in 1812. The Somerset Whig was published one year later.

The B. & O. Railroad was extended from Conneville to Cumberland in 1869. Three tunnels penetrate the mountains of Somerset County, to carry the road to Baltimore. Brooks tunnel is located in Turkeyfoot.

Oliver Drake, a direct descendant of Sir Roger Drake, was living at Drakestown when the news of the Revolutionary War reached the then frontier. In August, 1779, records show Captain Oliver Drake, Henry Abraham, Benjamin Jennings were serving the Colonies, taking part in the battles of Long Island, Trenton, and Princeton, and later in South Carolina.

The Turkeyfoot region has remnants of a fort at Port Hill, the Fort Oak at Urina, and the Turkeyfoot or Jersey Church is the site of the first fort built for protection from the Indians.

Gone are the original forests and their inhabitants. Today productive farms and village homes have replaced them. Flocks of cattle and sheep graze in bush pastures. In the early spring the air is fragrant with the odor of maple sap being converted into syrup and sugar.

Meeting closed by singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Whipple, Arizona,

November 29th, 1938.

Charles A. Younkin,

Charleroi, Penna.

Dear Charley:

I had a rapid, pleasant and uneventful trip back home after my summer's "spree" but I must have fished or visited too much this summer because by the time I got back home I was in no condition to do anything and as a result I am again in a "Vet" hospital here at Whipple and may be here for some time yet.

So you see my news article will not be forthcoming at THIS TIME. I must get straightened up in time to get back again next year if I can make it.

I see that you are having an early winter back there; we have what you might call August weather here yet.

I'm sorry, Charley, to have to tell you nix but nix it is.

I got a letter from Blaine recently.

Hoping to pull out of here by Christmas and that I may see you again next August, I remain,

As ever yours,

D. G. YOUNKIN.

Cottfax, Wash.,

2nd December.

Dear Mr. Younkin:

Your letter reached us a day or two ago, having been forwarded from Rock Creek. We brought William here to be under the care of Dr. Bryant. As his condition became quite serious, something had to be done without further delay.

We left home on the 17th of November and after many tests, X-rays, films, etc., were made, the diagnosis was that his trouble was an infection of the seventh cervical nerve, also arthritis in the cervical vertebrae. He has been given the short wave treatments and electric treatment for the heart. In the comparatively short time he has improved quite a lot, but a complete cure is not promised. However, freedom from pain will be wonderful for him after three long years of it.

The doctor said this morning that probably in ten days time we could go home, but he would have to return later.

We were so pleased to hear that the reunion was such an outstanding success. It would be a great joy to us to be able to join you on one of these happy occasions. However, this Cottfax trip will put us in the red for many months to come.

I think that we have received all our numbers of the Family Bulletin. Will see on my return home and let you know if any are missing. So we are to have relations in far-away Caracas—the Younkin emblem is certainly far flung!

I can appreciate what the reaction would mean to you, after the reunion was over. One can stand a great deal under stress. Perhaps you will have more help from some of the others next year. Do not over-do. You are doing and have done a very unusual and outstanding work which none can fail to appreciate as much as we do.

Recently a friend was showing me a list of names published by the "Media Research Bureau." I looked eagerly for Younkin but it was not there.

Am enclosing the information she copied for me; for your inspection, which I would like to have returned.

Now I must close as we are due at the hospital in a few minutes. With our best wishes for your continued success, we are very sincerely yours,

ELIZABETH AND WILLIAM YOUNKIN.

117 Members Attend Reunion at Riverside, Iowa, Aug. 7, 1938

Riverside, Ia.,

Aug. 9, 1938.

Mr. Chas. Younkin,

Dear friend:

We were very sorry that the Mrs. Mamie Prather didn't get to our reunion. We were expecting her. The papers were delivered to different members of the family and some of them seem to want it but will let you know. We had 117 members with us and a very nice time. We wish some of this crowd could attend your reunion the 21st, but think it will be impossible. I am sending the heads of families as you desired.

By MRS. J. W. TENER.

Send in your renewal. This issue of Bulletin rounds out one year of its existence, and its continued success depends entirely on you. If you want to receive it at regular intervals, then send in your subscription promptly. A subscription blank is enclosed for your convenience.

Father, Son Hold Same Office For Total of 90 Years

RIVERSIDE. — With the retirement of John H. Younkin, 79, as secretary of the No. 1 school district in Iowa township, the office is without a Younkin for the first time in ninety years.

Mr. Younkin's father, Joseph, settled in Iowa township in 1844 and became first secretary of the district which he helped organize four years later. He retired in 1888 and his son succeeded him.

The first school building in this district, a log structure, was built a mile west of the present building which was erected two miles east of Riverside seventy-five years ago.

Mr. Younkin's successor is E. J. Koenig.

MARRIAGES

Connellsville, Pa., June 26, 1938, 8:30 A. M.—James W. Swan and Mrs. Elta Shipley Weaver were married at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Ward Ringer, of Elina street. Rev. Elliot, minister of First M. E. church, performed the wedding ceremony. Elmer Swan was best man and Helen Dawson, maid of honor. Only members of the two families were present. A wedding breakfast was served at Harbaugh's. Mr. and Mrs. Swan are at home at 124 S. Pittsburgh street, Connellsville. Mr. Swan operates Swan's Pharmacy.

(Note)—The mother of James W. Swan and Elmer Swan was Miss Anna Younkin before her marriage.

Connellsville, Pa., Oct. 14, 1938, 6:30 P. M.—Elmer Swan and Helen Dawson were married in the M. E. church, Rev. Elliot officiating. Best man was W. H. Swan, maid of honor, Dorothy Dawson, sister of bride. Bridesmaids were Rhea Light, Betty Watson; ushers, J. W. Swan, Walter Makina, Kenneth Meranda. A reception and dinner was held at Harbaugh's. Mr. and Mrs. Swan reside at 323 East Crawford avenue.

Farewell Party

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 2, 1938.—Mrs. Mamie Prather of Garden City, Kansas was the week-end guest of Mrs. Nancy Y. Forsythe and her daughter, Mrs. Ronald Earle.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Younkin and son of Masontown, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wiley and daughter, Labeila, of California, Pa., Mr. Charles Younkin and Mrs. Luella Sheppard of Charleroi spent the day at the Forsythe home. Dinner was served cafeteria style. The fleeting hours were spent discussing the family history. Mrs. Prather, who is secretary of the Kansas group, told many interesting anecdotes of our western relatives and their meinel at Wakefield, Kansas. The picture of their group was very interesting. The hostess had some very good pictures, some of recent date, others very old. This was a farewell to Mrs. Prather, who was leaving in a few days for her home in Kansas. Mr. and Mrs. Ford David of Avalon, the latter a grandniece of the hostess, were guests.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Aug. 18,

1938.—Mrs. Cora Willout of Masontown suffered a laceration of the forehead and left eye at 9 o'clock Saturday night in an automobile accident near Brush Run. She was admitted to Frick Memorial Hospital where nine stitches were required to close the laceration.

BABE BORN TO SCALLONS

A son, Charles Donald, was born Friday night at 8:30 o'clock at Davia Memorial Hospital at Elkins, W. Va., to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Scallon of Elkins. Mrs. Scallon was Miss Helen Detwiler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Detwiler of near Pennsylvania. The babe is their first and is the first grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Scallon of Elkins—10-7-38.

CONFLUENCE, July 8, 1938.—Joe Rodgers of Akron, Ohio, who with his wife and sons, Calvin and Glenn, was visiting Mrs. Rodgers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Younkin, has returned home.

GETS MARITIME POSITION

Sullivan County
Couple Celebrate
Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. James Kunes, who live on Carpenter street, Dushore, Pa., celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, October 9th, 1938, with a dinner for the immediate family. During the afternoon a reception was held, which was attended by many.

Mr. and Mrs. Kunes were married Oct. 10th, 1888. Mrs. Kunes' maiden name was Cora Younkin, great-granddaughter of Henry Younkin, pioneer of 1806. Had hoped to have a photo of above couple, but it had not been received at time of going to press.

Going Strong Again

Colwell S. Younkin of Confluence, Pa., Somerset County, oldest Younkin member, who was very much under the weather at time of Reunion in August, but not too sick to be present. This grand old Younkin is endowed with the "never say die" spirit which is so predominant among many members of this great Younkin group. Well, just the same, Colwell is much alive and going strong again.

Manzy—Well, as the saying goes what you don't know won't hurt you.
Tuffy—That's lucky for you.

MY FIRST TRIP
EAST

As the sun was lowering in the end of a beautiful day (August 5, 1938) I started (by bus) on a long interesting and magnificent journey—that extended as far as Long Island.

Rainy weather and poor connections made it impossible, to go by way of Riverside, and be present at the Home Coming of the Iowa unit of this great Younkin Family group.

Chicago was my first stop, where I enjoyed seeing the great city, visiting in the home of my own beloved children, Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Loverde and meeting Mrs. Minnie Hall, who is a daughter of the famed Dr. Edwin Younkin who has passed on. Next I stopped at Charleroi, Pa., where I awaited the thrill of being able to attend both the Sullivan County and last but not least our great National Home Coming at the I. O. O. F. Grove at Kingwood, Pa., on Highway thru the endless chain of mountains of which Pennsylvania is so justly proud, is a panorama of beauty of nature's own work.

The Sullivan County Younkings have a very fine well organized Home Coming.

They have been having annual meetings since 1900 and their method of keeping records of births, deaths, marriages and removals, are very exact and complete.

The beauty of the scenes along the Pa. highways can only be appreciated to the fullest extent after being seen as you travel the winding highways over the gorgeous mountains, winding rivers and the groups of lakes and shady nooks. Next traveled to the beautiful seashore home of Dr. and Mrs. Bloomstein on Long Island. I enjoyed the visits in each of my daughters homes in New York City I enjoyed the many sights, especially the exhibition grounds that are being prepared for the approaching World's Fair. It presents a beautiful sight even now. As I returned west I visited more of our beloved clan of which I am proud to be a member.

I stopped at the lovely country home of Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Craig of Huntington, Ind. Every minute was very enjoyable to all. Saddened by only the illness of Mr. Van Swearingen, who passed on a few days later after I had traveled on west.

Mrs. Craig and Mrs. Van Swearingen are sisters of Dr. Noble Younkin and full cousins of the writer.

I arrived back home in Garden City in the wee hours of the morning from a journey which will always be a big part of my life.

Some writer said the farther one travels from anything the larger it gets and that is a great truth. I wish everyone to know that I appreciated the effort made to make my trip a great one and like the little boy who was still feasting on a pocket full of Christmas candy. I hope the same thing can happen again next year.

A TRIP WEST

GARDEN CITY, KANS.

December 6, 1938.

During the month of April of this year, it was a great privilege to visit in Wyoming and Colorado. The beauty of nature was greater this year than it had been for many years. The mountains, plains and foothills were alive with blooming plants producing a glamour of beauty—I visited two very lovely Younkin sisters, Mrs. Anna Beaman and Mrs. Carrie Harris, who live in Fort Collins, Colo. They are of the Iowa and Nebraska branches of Younkings. The lovely day of pleasure spent in their home will be long cherished and remembered by me. In Denver, Col., Frank Younkin and wife extended my son Walter and I a warm welcome. Frank and wife are the parents of the twins now are well known in Oklahoma. They have all stood at the head of the efficient class in all their school work there.

The one twin has passed on. The other sister has taken her place in the business world. Frank and wife are living a retired life at 1244 Cal. St., Denver, Col. Having sent records to our National Secretary I am unable to give the name of the Younkin, who is manager of the credit department of the Texaco Oil Company in Denver, with whom I enjoyed a very fine visit at Frank Younkin's home.

FIVE LIVING GENERATIONS

Is There Another?

This great family group can boast of at least one, very few persons regardless of age, have known of the fifth generation "to live," and be a part of it is a proud heritage.

—Son Brian to Margaret—

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd J. Morgan of Rockwood November 26. It has been named Glen Wayne. The mother will be remembered as Miss Evelyn Harbaugh of Mill Run. The new arrival is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Harbaugh of Mill Run. It is also the first great-grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Shroyer of Mill Run and of Mrs. Elizabeth Harbaugh of Uniontown and the first great-great-grandchild of Mrs. Lucinda Johnson of Seydettown.

In this instance the great-great-grandmother, is the mother of our secretary, the great-grand-mother a sister, the grandmother a niece if there is another within this great family group, would be pleased to know about it.

Am hoping to have a photo of the above group for next issue of News Bulletin.

John M. Younkin of Kansas

In first issue of Bulletin, we have given you the names of some of the pioneer Younkings in Pennsylvania. The settlers of this period are known as the Nation Builders. In second issue of the News Bulletin, we have given you a short life story of Moses Younkin, a pioneer settler of Kansas. In this issue there is a short life story of John M. Younkin, oldest son of the above Moses Younkin. To you of this line or branch, if you will carefully study each and every issue of the Bulletin, you will have a thorough understanding of just where you belong on this great Younkin family tree.

There is little we can add to the story of our grandparents, Moses and Lavilla Mitchell Younkin, except that they were one of the three first homesteaders in Clay county, Kans., located east of Wakefield, Kans. Lavilla Younkin was the first white woman to live in Clay county and their second son, Edwin, the first white child born there, our father, John Mitchell Younkin, being born on the Pottawatomie reservation on March 8, 1856, and the oldest son of Moses and Lavilla Younkin. His life's history was much like that of other pioneers who witnessed the barren prairie of Kansas blossom into one of the richest agricultural sections in the West. He grew to manhood and in 1877 was married to Emma J. Mall, a daughter of another of the first three homesteaders, Jacob Mall. Thus two pioneer families were joined. They established their home near Longford, Kans., on a timber claim and later moving to the Broughton community. They raised a family of seven children, four daughters and three sons. The oldest daughter, Josephine (Mrs. John Snyder), passed away in 1933.

Edwin of Hyannis, Neb., manager of Triangle Ranch. Olive (Mrs. Clarence Neill) of Clay Center, Kans., Jack of Edinburg, Texas, lives on a citrus farm in Rio Grande Valley, Prarie (Mrs. Dr. Jackson), Clay Center, Kans. Belle (Mrs. Oran Vincent) of Grand Island, Neb., Clifford of Alliance, Neb., living on a ranch. In cattle business.

We lived on a well improved stock farm in the Broughton neighborhood and it was there we spent the happiest years of our life, while we children were growing up, the many happy memories we have of those days. Father was one of the large cattle feeders of Clay county, but he was never too busy to help a neighbor in time of sickness or trouble. Many times he was called upon, in times of death, to prepare the body for burial, and mother, being a very good nurse, was much in demand when a new baby arrived in the neighborhood, and in cases of serious illness, she would go and sit up night after night caring for the sick, and all this just as a neighborly act, without thought of compensation. Their friends were counted by the hundreds and they were lovingly known as "Dad" and Auntie Younkin. They did not have the opportunity for higher education but were post-graduates in the school of experience. Their wise counsel and advice has smoothed many a rough place in the lives of their children.

After the five older children married and the oldest son Edwin located in Western Nebraska. Father, mother and the two youngest children, Belle and Clifford, moved to Mullen, Neb., in 1913. It being a cattle country, father liked it there very much and continued to raise cattle. After bringing up a family of seven children, our parents took two orphan children into their home and taught and cared for them the same as their own. Clara (Mrs. Buster Magnuson) and George Younkin, both now living in homes of their own in Nebraska.

Father lived a very active life, riding his horse over the ranch looking after the cattle and mother's hospitable home was a favorite stopping place for many people. SEVEN—YOUNKIN NEWS ... A hungry rider was always fed no matter what hour of the day. They lived in Nebraska until 1930 when a serious operation became necessary from which father never regained his health. It being impossible to stay on the ranch on account of medical attention, they came back to Broughton and there lived until father passed away on August 29, 1932, at the age of 76.

This was the first break by death in the immediate family. After his death mother has made her home with the children. She is past 80 and her hands are never idle although she is crippled with rheumatism. She has pieced numberless quilts and the yards of lovely lace she has knitted and crocheted. Her work is very perfect and each child, grandchild and even great-grandchildren have much prized pieces of her handiwork. She has many old friends who call on her, and while she had a very serious illness last winter, her health is better now, and she is enjoying the summer in Kansas again.

John and Emma Younkin have 36 descendants, 7 children, 15 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren. We children feel that we have a priceless heritage in being brought up and taught the simple wholesome way of living by our dear parents.

Relative:

Your letter at hand and contents noted. I have no special news except that I have built a new enclosed front porch and named it: "SUMMERLAND"

Have not the particulars concerning the death of Mr. Warner Swearingen of Crawfordville, Indiana.

If the national membership is not interested enough in the family paper to keep it up by sending in their subscriptions and an extra dollar now and then, there is nothing to do but let the thing go. If all are not interested enough, why should a few do so?

It is as much to one as another to be proud of a family newspaper which is the only one in the world.

NO family in all the world has such a distinction—A FAMILY NEWSPAPER. IT SHOULD BE WORTH MORE TO A YOUNKIN THAN ALL THE SILLY NEWS-PA-

JOHN M. YOUNKIN AND WIFE

Mr. Younkin is dead—his wife is 80 years old and is living.

PERS AND MAGAZINES IN THE WORLD. We all should have our photos and homes printed in our newspaper. Send in long items about our doings and plans. IF THE MAJORITY DON'T CARE FOR SUCH A GREAT DISTINCTION FOR THEMSELVES AND THOSE TO FOLLOW AND IN HONOR OF ALL THOSE OF US WHO HAVE PASSED OVER TO "SUMMERLAND," WHERE IN TIME WE ALL GO, WELL, WE MIGHT AS WELL SHOW THE WHITE FLAG OF SURRENDER. Not one but what spends many dollars for foolish things every year and perhaps every month.

Send in your dollar and $10.00 or more and have your photo or family photo and dwelling in our own newspaper. Why buy a lot of Xmas stuff that no one likes? Send the money to keep a thing of worth going. LET'S ALL BE NUTS ABOUT OUR SOCIETY AND NEWSPAPER. A FEW OF US HAVE SPENT SEVERAL THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS TO MAKE IT POSSIBLE THAT WE HAVE A NEWSPAPER AND A WORLD SOCIETY OF THIS GREAT FAMILY. LET US ALL STRIVE TO KEEP THIS GREAT FAMILY TOGETHER NOW AND NOT BE SEPARATED AGAIN AS WE WERE FOR 2000 YEARS OR MORE. LET US BUY OUR OWN PARK AND MOVE OUR ANCIENT DEAD AND THEIR HEAD STONES AND ASHES TO OUR OWN PARK AND SHRINE AND ENTER THEM THERE WHO MAY REST IN THAT VICINITY.

LOYAL WORKERS FOR THE LOVE OF IT ARE SCARCE—WHO WILL UNDERTAKE IT AGAIN?

Enclosed find $5.00 for renewal to family newspaper.

Yours,

DR. NOBLE YOUNKIN.

On parts of the Old Nemacolin Trail and the Great Road automobiles race over the same ground our forefathers wearily trod or rode horse back if affluent.

In many a God's acre through the Turkeyfoot are stones bearing the name Younkin and some rest in spots unmarked by man. Many prosperous farmers and business men bear the name, also professional men and women are carrying the name to distant places and new honors.

Many Younkun Reunions Held

MORE OF THE GENERATIONS

In former issues of the Bulletin we have given you a photo story of the fourth, fifth and sixth generations, who are direct descendants of Johan Henrich (Jungken) Younkun, the immigrant of 1733. Again we have stepped back, this time to the seventh and eighth in line, and if you will refer to your second, third and fourth issues, you will easily understand who they are, and where they belong in this great family tree.

Frank W. Younkun lives in Johnstown, Pa., a son of David P. Younkun, whose father was Elias Younkun, a brother of Fremont and Benton Younkun, whose photos appeared in third issue.

Ernest Younkun and daughter live in Louisville, Ky. Ernest is a son of Ernest Younkun, Sr., who in turn is a son of Colwell S. Younkun of Confluence, Pa.

John Harrison Byars, the little fellow, is a son of Mrs. Gladys Y. Byars and lives with his parents in Marion, Ill. Mrs. Byars is a daughter of John H. Younkun, Jr., who was a son of John R. Younkun, who was a son of John H. Younkun, Sr., a brother of Dorcas J. Younkun, and John H. Younkun, both being sons of John J. Younkun, who in turn was a son of Jacob and (Hannah Nicola) Younkun, who was a son of Johan Henrich (Jungken) Younkun, the pioneer of 1733 and was born in 1717.

This brings to a close the story of the lineage of the fourth generation back to the eighth who are directly traceable to the above pioneer. There are many hundreds of Younkuns, who are also traceable to the above pioneer. Perhaps in some future issue will discuss the different generations from another angle.

Kansas Reunion

The Kansas Reunion was held in Municipal Building in Junction City, Sunday, May 28, 1939, for their third annual Reunion. It was a beautiful day, and many were present from the various branches of this family group.

At noon a covered dish dinner spread on a long table was served to all. After noon intermission, a splendid program followed, consisting of music by the orchestra and recitations and solos by different ones of this family group. The success of this third Reunion was due to the efficient work of the committee in charge. Plans have been made to meet at Junction City again next year. The date as yet has not been set.

California, Pa.

Miss Isabel Wiley is attending the summer term at California State Teachers College. She will attend the teachers' college in Indiana, Pa., winter term. She is majoring in home economics.

Mill Run, Pa.

Miss Esther Younkun plans to attend California, Pa. State Teachers College, winter term.

THE SIXTH ANNUAL REUNION

will be held in I. O. O. F. Grove at Kingwood, Pa., Sunday, Aug. 20, 1939. All Younkuns and allied families respectfully invited to attend.

CHAS. YOUNKUN,
Secretary.

Ernest Younkun and daughter. They are of the seventh and eighth generations, and live in Louisville, Ky.

FORTIETH REUNION AT DUSHORE, PA.

Sunday, August 13, 1939, in Penn Woods, near the town of Dushore, Sullivan County, Pa., for the fortieth consecutive year the Younkuns who are mostly descendants of Henry Younkun, the immigrant of 1604, will gather for their annual feast of food, song and merriment. Members from other branches are always welcome and are cordially invited to attend. Heartiest greetings from their secretary.

ERNEST YOUNKUN,
Dushore, Pa., R. D.

There Is a Reason

For the News Bulletin being late. Lack of subscriptions and renewals near broke the camel's back, and will in time, I am sorry to say, My motto is, "Never Say Die." Who else will be heard?

CHAS. YOUNKUN, Sec'y.

Samuel E. Younkun of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, celebrated his 86th birthday March 28, 1939.

This is the five generations photo we spoke of in December issue of Bulletin. The great-grandmother is Mrs. Lucinda Y. Johnson, Connelville, Pa. The great-grandmother is Mrs. Laura Y. Shroyer, Mill Run, Pa. The grandmother is Mrs. Oakley Harbaugh, Mill Run, Pa. The mother is Mrs. Lloyd J. Morgan and the child is Galen Wayne, son of Mrs. Morgan. They reside in Rockwood, Pa.

John Harrison Byars is of the eighth generation. He is a son of Gladys Y. Byars and lives with his parents in Marion, Ill.

Miss Emily Younkun lives in Elmira, N. Y., age 82 years.

At New York World's Fair

Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes, of Philadelphia, Pa., left her home early in July to chaperon a group of young folks to the fair. She plans to arrive in Connelville, Pa., about August 13th and will be the guest of Mrs. Ronald Earle and mother, and will stay over and attend the Reunion on August 20, 1939.

Frank W. Younkun is of the seventh generation, and lives in Johnstown, Pa.

Near 150 Were Present At Kansas Reunion, Junction City, Kas.

The third annual Kansas Younkun reunion was held Sunday, May 28, 1939, in the Municipal Building at Junction City. It is planned to have it here again next year because of the wonderful building and facilities for handling a large crowd.

There were over 100 Younkuns from all over the state, and they plan in the future to include the surrounding states as well.

Walter Younkun of Junction City was acting master of ceremonies. Registration, in charge of Mrs. Gladys Alsop, of Wakefield, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Jackson of Riley Center, began at 9:30 a. m. and lasted until 11 a. m. Each Younkun received a card with his name and address to be placed on him or her for identification. Later in the day they were introduced by family groups.

At 11 o'clock Comm. Harvey gave the address of welcome, and distinguished guests were introduced. About a quarter to twelve the members of the Church of God, who hold their services in the Municipal building, came in and sang several songs. Those were greatly enjoyed by all and they received a big hand.

Rev. Fredric J. Hensch delivered the noon invocation. A basket dinner was served, and a table, second to none, greeted the eyes of the group. During the noon hour music was furnished by Wanda Hammon's orchestra, followed by a solo by Robert Younkun, Jr., of Monument, Kansas, and a tap dance by Betty Jane and Jimmie Baker.

At 3 p. m. the business meeting was held with a talk by Mrs. Mamie Prather of Garden City, state secretary, who has done quite a bit of research work in other states. She told of her travels elsewhere, and the number of Younkuns she encountered. There was also a talk by Grover Younkun of Wichita, state president. After all business was transacted they adjourned for the social hour.

The local committee included James Younkun, Junction City, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Myers, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Younkun, all of Junction City; Dr. and Mrs. Jackson, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Younkun, Jr., of Riley Center, and Mr. and Mrs. Vanderstelt of Wakefield.

PLEASE REMEMBER

That we are all editors of this, the only family newspaper in the world.

YOUNKUN REUNION TO BE HELD ON MAY 28 AT JUNCTION CITY

Wichita, Kas., May 15, 1939.—The third annual reunion of the Younkun family in Kansas will be held Sunday, May 28, at the municipal building at Junction City. It was announced Thursday by Grover Younkun, Wichita, state president. An attendance of 200 is expected.

Several of the national officers have been invited to attend. Mrs. Mamie Y. Prather, Garden City, state secretary who attended the national convention last August at Kingwood, Pa., where 1,400 Younkuns from 14 states gathered, will give a report.

The program will start at 9:30 a. m. Families will bring picnic baskets, stocked with food, for the dinner at noon, Younkun said. A committee composed of J. E. Younkun, Junction City; Dr. D. O. Jackson and Mrs. Ada Miller, both of Clay Center, will be in charge of reception of visitors.

Any family related to the pioneer Younkuns who came to the United States in colonial times and who were among the pioneer residents of Kansas will be welcome at the reunion and no invitation is required. A number of those present will come in from Colorado, Iowa, Missouri, and Nebraska.

ON WAY EAST

Mrs. Mamie Y. Prather, of Garden City, Kan., left for Riverside, Iowa, Friday, Aug. 4, 1939, where she will attend the Younkun Godlove Reunion, to be held on Sunday, Aug. 6, 1939. From there she will come on to Chicago, Ill., for a short stop-over with a daughter, Mrs. A. A. Loverde, then on to Charlotte, Pa., where she will visit with Chas. Younkun, and her daughter, Mrs. Luella Shepard, and grandson, Joseph Shepard and wife, and will stay over for Reunion at Kingwood, Pa., Aug. 20, 1939, thence from there a proposed trip to New York, where she will visit with another daughter, Mrs. Herman Bloomstein.

Younkin Obituaries

Daniel Younkings Called by Death

Funeral Monday for Retired Oil Operator Who Was Active in Community Affairs

Butler, Pa., July 28, 1939.—Daniel Younkings, vice president of the Union Trust Company and Peoples Telephone Corporation, died this morning at 5:20 o'clock at the family residence, 612 East Brady street.

The retired oil operator, who was 85, succumbed to a heart attack following a three months' illness.

In addition to real estate holdings, Mr. Younkings had other business interests and was widely known throughout the city and county. He had been active for years in the Butler Fair and Exposition and was vice president of the organization.

Funeral services will be held from the residence Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the Rev. Samuel C. Ombke, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be private in the Rose Hill cemetery.

A Democrat in politics, Mr. Younkings served 14 years in borough council. He was three times elected a member of that body as a representative of the Fourth Ward and was twice honored by election as chairman of council.

He was born June 27, 1854, in State Lick, Armstrong county, son of William and Sara Hawk Younkings. After receiving an education in the common schools of his district, he attended Worthington Academy. Until 1876 he was engaged in farming on the homestead. In that year he came to the oil country and engaged in drilling and contracting at Petroia and later at Fairview.

He followed the excitement to Bradford in 1878, and still later operated in McKean, Forest, Warren and Butler counties.

In 1884 he located permanently in Butler and engaged in operations in the Thern Creek field, later operating in Virginia and Ohio.

In the more active period of his business life he took a prominent part in the development of the community and was identified with a number of business organizations.

Mr. Younkings was married in 1884 to Evelyn E. Minter of Craigville, Armstrong county. Her death occurred in 1924.

Surviving are seven children: Miss Josephine Younkings and A. R. Peters at home; William M. Younkings, Craigville; Mrs. W. D. O. Douthett, Butler; Victor Younkings, Scottsdale; Mrs. Clyde A. Fowler, Dormont; and J. Kenneth Younkings, Pittsburgh.

He was an elder of the Second United Presbyterian church and was a member of Ziegler I. O. O. F. lodge, Woodmen of the World, and Knights of Malta.

SOMERSET WOMAN DIES

Somerset, May 26, 1928.—Mrs. Margaret E. Friedline, 50, widow of James Friedline, of Somerset, R. D. 6, died Wednesday in Community Hospital. She leaves her father, Henry Younkings, of Rockwood; two sons, James and Wallace; and three brothers and sisters: Clark Younkings, Ross Younkings, Charles Younkings, John Younkings, Mrs. Frank Barkman and Mrs. Fred Ream, all of Rockwood; Mrs. Ella Snyder of Confluence, and Mrs. Carl Trapp of Somerset.

DIES AT KANTNER

Somerset, March 23, 1939.—Mrs. Mary Jane Koonz Berkebile, 76, died Saturday at the home of her son, Clarence, at Kantner. Her husband, Mahlon, died in 1935. She leaves seven children, one brother and one sister.

Charleroi Girl Dies In Arms of Partner At School Dance

Charleroi, Pa., Feb. 28.—Miss Mary Scott, 18, only child of Dr. and Mrs. Stanley L. Scott, of 437 Washington avenue, Charleroi, collapsed and died on the dance floor last night while attending a dance in the gymnasium of Charleroi High School.

A dance had just been finished and Miss Scott and her partner, Robert Shippey, 17, of Crest avenue, Charleroi, were standing talking when she said, "I feel dizzy." Then she collapsed in his arms.

Shippey and another young man carried her to the school medical room, and Dr. D. D. Haines, who was attending a meeting of the school board, was called. His pronounced her dead.

The dance was stopped at once. It was being given by the high school chorus, under supervision of Miss Theresa Aschman, music instructor in the school.

Miss Scott formerly resided at Waynesburg, where her parents lived for a few years. Dr. Scott at that time was in poor health and did not practice in Waynesburg.

Dr. Scott was in Philadelphia when the girl's death occurred, and funeral arrangements were left incomplete until he could arrive home and complete plans. An evening service will be held, in charge of the Rev. R. P. Anderson of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Charleroi, of which Miss Scott was a member. Burial will be at Roseville the next day, and will be private.

MRS. ANNA LOVETT

Connellsville, Pa.—Mrs. Anna Lovett, about 42 years old, wife of Leon Lovett and a sister of Mrs. Ira D. Younkings of West Peach street, died suddenly Wednesday afternoon at her home at Morrisville. A daughter, Clara, at home also survives. Having frequently visited at the Younkings home, Mrs. Lovett had a number of friends here.

Mrs. Younkings and daughter, Miss Grace, left Thursday for Morrisville and Mayor Younkings will leave today to attend the funeral service to be held Saturday morning at the home.

MRS. HIRAM FAIDLEY DEAD

Somerset, Jan. 17, 1939.—Mrs. Elizabeth Marker Faidley, 76, widow of Hiram Faidley, died Friday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Harry Berkley, at Somerset. She leaves three daughters, Mrs. J. L. Sanner of Rockwood, Mrs. Albert Day of Middlebrook township and Mrs. Berkley, three brothers, one sister and eight grandchildren.

CHARLES H. WEIMER

Somerset, June 30, 1938.—Charles H. Weimer, 80, lifelong resident of Somerset and a former county sheriff, died Wednesday at his home after a year's illness.

A son of John H. and Anna Roberts Weimer, he engaged in blacksmithing excepting for the four-year period, 1909 to 1913, when he was sheriff. He is survived by his wife, one son, David, four grandchildren, one sister, Etta, and one brother, Edward.

The funeral service was held this afternoon.

Baltimore, Md.—Joseph C. Page, son of J. Clark and Caroline Shaw Page, died suddenly June 22, 1939, at his home in Wood Apartments, this city. He is survived by his wife, Pearl Younkings, daughter of the late John and Nav (Barnes) Younkings of Connellsville, Pa., a daughter, Edith, and a grandson, A. son, J. C., drowned 14 years ago, June 18th. Mr. Page was superintendent of the Maryland Coal Company.

OLDEST KNOWN YOUNKIN DEAD

Burlington, Kan., Dec. 20, 1938.—Isaac Younkina, one of Kansas' oldest citizens, died in his home in this city yesterday, Dec. 19, 1938. He was born April 21, 1810, in Hancock county, Ohio, son of John and (Margaret) Trout Younkina, united in marriage to Susan Wilson Currin March 17, 1841. To this union six children were born. Two of them, mother preceded him in death. Living are Mrs. Doll Richards, 528 Rose Mead Blvd., Frank, Amherst, Ohio, and Lewis and William, who lived with their father at the time of his death, his youngest son being 72 years of age. Mr. Younkina being 98 years, 7 months and 25 days old at the time of his death.

MRS. ELLA M. CHRISTNER

Connellsville, Pa., May 4, 1939.—Mrs. Ella Melford Christner, 57 years old, widow of Braden H. Christner, died at 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at her home, 354 East Crawford avenue. Mrs. Christner had been bedridden for a number of years with a lingering illness, and her condition gradually became worse.

Mrs. Christner was born October 6, 1881, at Whitson, Armstrong county, a daughter of the late Charles and Sarah Smith. She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Connellsville and belonged to the E. B. Martin Class of that church.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Clifford Herbert of Connellsville and Mrs. Edward Rishaberger at home. She also leaves the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Charles Lemen and Miss Vera Smith, both of Lancaster, Armstrong county; Manton Smith of Whitson, and Clinton C. Smith of Pittsburgh.

The funeral services will be held at the home in East Crawford avenue at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon with Rev. J. S. Brownlee, former pastor of the First Baptist Church here, officiating. Burial will be in Hill Grove Cemetery in charge of Funeral Director Harry B. Rishaberger of Addison.

JOHN YOUNKIN

Long Beach, Cal.—John Younkina, son of the late John H. and (Lucinda) Switzer Younkina, died in his home, this city, Nov. 22, 1938, age 79 years. When a young man he started a ranch at Crestbard, South Dakota, which he developed into extensive acreage. For some years he spent the winters in Long Beach, where he had interests in real estate. Four years ago he suffered a fractured hip. Since that time he has been afflicted. Cancer developed, causing the fatal illness.

He is survived by his widow, three daughters and several grandchildren, also two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Myers, Near Bloomfield, Mo., and Mrs. Nancy Pomphrey, Connellsville, Pa. The funeral was held Nov. 23, with interment in Sunnyside Memorial Park, Long Beach.

MRS. WILTROUT'S FUNERAL

Connellsville, Pa., June 13, 1939.—The funeral for Mrs. Ruth E. Wiltrout will be held Tuesday afternoon. A prayer at the home in East Gibson avenue, South Connellsville, at 2 o'clock will be followed by a prayer at the Church of God at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Levi Sinner, pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in Mount Olive cemetery.

Mrs. Wiltrout is survived by her husband, Clyde Wiltrout, and a son, Clyde Junior. She also leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Briery of South Connellsville; a sister, Mrs. Elmer Trump of South Connellsville, and three brothers, Raymond Briery of Quinton, N. J., Harry Briery of South Connellsville and William Briery, at home.

ISAAC B. HARRIS

Pt. Collins, Colo.—Isaac B. Harris, pioneer farmer, who passed away Monday afternoon at his home, will be buried tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock from the Baptist church, with Rev. R. L. Decker officiating and H. Henry as the soloist.

Mr. Harris was born to George and Sarah Harris, in Truro, Nova Scotia, Canada, where he received his education. He was of Scotch-Irish descent. In 1880 he, like many others at that time, came west and after spending several months in Idaho Springs and Middle Park, he settled in Fort Collins and became a successful farmer and stock raiser. At one time he owned a 200-acre farm between the cemetery and Taft Hill. He was one of the progressive citizens and built several buildings here.

He was married to Carolyn B. Younkina, June 5, 1914, and she and the following stepsons and daughters survive: Arthur B. Harris of Encampment, Wyo.; Rev. George Elton Harris of Needham, near Boston, Mass.; Robert E. of Ontario, Calif.; Mrs. I. H. Farmer, Manhattan Beach, Calif.; Mrs. H. L. Bills, Eaton, Colo.; Mrs. T. B. Brown, Clyde, N. C.; Mrs. G. P. Farmer of Denver; Mrs. W. O. Albrecht of Rocky Ford and 28 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Bills, Mrs. Farmer of Denver, Mrs. Albrecht and their husbands and Mr. and Mrs. Harris of Encampment will be here for the service. Two of the sons visited their father last summer. Mr. Harris also leaves one sister, Mrs. Rebecca Kaulbach of Truro, Canada.

The pallbearers will be R. G. Maxwell, M. W. Dealy, Sam Clammer, Earl Doughton, John Hoffman and C. G. Watkins.

A son of William Henry Younkina of Rockwood, R. D. 2, and the late Mrs. Rachel McClintock Younkina, he had been engaged in farming practically all of his life. In addition to his father and wife, Mrs. Alice Younkina, he is survived by three children: Marvin, Jerome, Melvin, Jensen; Russell, Marianna; Jesse and Carl, Johnstown; Earl, South Carolina; Elbert and Orville, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Charles Sanner, Markleton, and Mrs. Agnes Pritts and Miss Irma Younkina, at home. He was a brother of Ross Younkina of New Centerville, C. E. of Rockwood, R. D. 2, Clark of Rockwood, Mrs. Walter Snyder and Mrs. Fred Ream of Markleton, Mrs. Frank Barkman of Rockwood, R. D. 1, and Mrs. Carl Trapp of Somerset.

The funeral service was held this afternoon at the Kingswood Church of God in charge of Rev. I. J. Kolp. Interment was in the church cemetery.

MRS. JOHN H. BROWN

Mrs. Edith Brown, 60 years old, died at 4:15 o'clock this morning at her home in North Church street, Mount Pleasant, after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Brown was born in Bullskin township on April 7, 1878, the daughter of the late Rufus and Lullita Cease Christner, and had been a resident of Mount Pleasant for approximately 4 years.

She is survived by her husband, John H. Brown; one son, Ward Brown, Mount Pleasant; two grandchildren, four stepchildren and two brothers and one sister: Justice of the Peace William S. Christner of Indian Head, Solomon Christner of near Brownsville and Mrs. Lucy Howard of Kregar.

The funeral service will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the home. Interment will be in the family plot in Brown Cemetery near Acme in charge of Funeral Director Clyde B. Brooks of Indian Head.

MRS. TERESA E. LYBERGER

Connellsville, Pa., May 9, 1939.—Mrs. Teresa Edmonds Lyberger, former well-known woman of Connellsville and until recently a resident of Elyria, Ohio, died Tuesday night at the home of a stepdaughter, Mrs. Nellie Schreengost of Beaver Falls. Ill for the last year, her condition was somewhat improved until New Year when she was injured in an automobile accident. Since then her health gradually failed. Because of this, she and Mr. Lyberger discontinued housekeeping and went to the Schreengost home six weeks ago.

Mrs. Lyberger was born in Connellsville, a daughter of the late Henry and Louise Stillwagon, and had spent the greater part of her life here. She was twice married. Some time after the death of her first husband, Thomas H. Edmonds, she was married Sunday, September 5, 1927, to Nelson Lyberger of Elyria. The ceremony took place at the First United Brethren Church of Connellsville of which Mrs. Lyberger was a member and active worker for many years. Rev. Elmer A. Schultz, pastor, officiated. After their marriage the couple took up their residence at Elyria.

In addition to her church work, Mrs. Lyberger was a member of the Ladies' Aid Society, serving as president for 10 years, and the Royal Circle Class of which she was president for several years. She was active in fraternal circles, having instituted Saint Omar Sisterhood of the Dames of Malta of Connellsville May 22, 1925, and continuing her membership. She was also a member of Edna Rehask Lodge and resided here until her marriage to Mr. Lyberger.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three stepchildren to her first marriage. They are Mrs. Schreengost, Mrs. Pearl Bridges of Oakland, Cal., and Clifford H. Edmonds of Cleveland. Two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Marlett of Connellsville and Mrs. Paul T. MacDonald of Kittanning, and a brother, Harry H. Stillwagon of McKeesport, also survive.

The body will arrive here this evening and be removed to the funeral chapel of C. C. Mitchell. Later it will be taken to the First United Brethren Church where the funeral service will be held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Rev. Schultz will officiate. Burial will be in Hill Grove Cemetery.

Edna Rehask Lodge will meet at the funeral chapel at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night to conduct a memorial service.

FORMER NEWPORT YOUNG WOMAN WED IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C.—In the rectory of the Church of the Nativity at Washington, last Thursday evening Miss Catherine Gertrude Younklin, daughter of Lieutenant Rodney J. Younklin, U. S. N., retired, and Mrs. Younklin and granddaughter of the late Edward A. and Ellen J. Peckham of this city, became the bride of Darrell Jefferson Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell H. Smith, The Rev. Austin L. Healy officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin, fashioned on princess lines with a sweetheart neckline and a short train to the skirt. Her fingertip length veil fell from a seed pearl Juliet cap, and she carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Miss Helen Lillian Younklin, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and only attendant. Her frock was of blue taffeta, princess style with a heart shaped neckline and a wash of American Beauty velvet which was also the color of her hat. She carried Topsy carnations and Johanna Hill roses.

Moorehead S. Smith, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were Benjamin M. Chiswell, Jr., of Washington and Frederick L. Downs of Worcester, Mass.

Immediately after the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride's parents. The couple, their parents, Miss Helen Younklin and Mr. Moorehead Smith, received. Mrs. Younklin's gown was of royal blue cut velvet worn with a matching hat and a corsage of pink rosebuds, and Mrs. Smith was gowned in burgundy and silver lace, with a silver sequin jacket and hat. Her flowers were gardenias.

When the couple left for their wedding trip, the bride wore a green suit, a silver fox cape and black accessories. Following a Florida cruise they will be at home after January 1 at Blair Park Gardens, 805 Juniper street, Northwest, Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Smith graduated from Punahou Academy, Honolulu, and attended Lake Forest College and Mary Washington College. Mr. Smith was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania and attended the Graduate School at Yale University. He is a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity and the Mask and Wig Club.

Fackenthal Contributes Again

This grand old man who has devoted much of his life to preserve for posterity the Pennsylvania German-Dutch records, "that they should forever live" has again contributed to the Younklin archives. This fine old gentleman, Dr. B. F. Fackenthal, now 88 years past, is ever alert to the name Younklin. In the past he has given many old records and letters handed down through the generations. While Mr. Fackenthal is not directly a Younklin descendant, it was his grandfather's sister, Catherine Fackenthal, who married Kilian Younklin. In this issue his latest contribution is given word for word as it was by John Fackenthal Younklin, who was a son of Kilian and Catherine Fackenthal Younklin. Dr. Fackenthal is to be commended on his generosity in voluntarily giving. His spirit should be the Younklin spirit. Through his friendly co-operation the descendants of John Fackenthal Younklin have been located in California.

Mrs. Kate Y. Willis, the writer of an article in this issue, is a granddaughter of the above John Fackenthal Younklin. Dr. Fackenthal has just recently built a library (costing many thousands of dollars) for Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa.

Hope to Build Fence At Lazear Cemetery

Waynesburg, Aug. 20, 1939.—The officers of the Lazear Cemetery at Crabapple, Richhill township, hope to have a new fence placed around the grounds and other improvements made to the cemetery.

The grounds have been cleared and an organization has been formed. G. M. Baldwin of Wind Ridge is president; J. W. Gribben, Wind Ridge, R. D., secretary, and Herbert Scherich is the treasurer.

This is one of the oldest cemeteries in Western Greene county. The officers would appreciate any assistance that could be furnished from persons interested in the cemetery.

LETTER BY KATE Y. WILLIS

601 Washington St.,
Alhambra, Calif.
March 4, 1939.

Mr. Chas. A. Younkin,
Dear Friend:
Your letter arrived today and I hasten to reply.

It was not my daughter, but my niece, Helen Edith Youngken, oldest daughter of my brother Tom (C. T.) who died just a year ago, who went to Schenectady last summer and was married to Mr. T. W. Poole.

Just a week ago today my youngest brother, Don, received a telegram from them asking for facts concerning my brother, as to where and when he was born. They phoned to me for the necessary information as Don, being younger and having left their birthplace, Fairfield, Ill., at the age of 3, could not remember. They sent a telegram in reply. The next morning Don received a night letter saying Helen Edith's citizenship could only be established by statements made by two older members of the family before a notary. H. E. was born in Africa and this information seemed necessary before she could get a passport.

On Monday morning Don came over with a typewritten statement which I signed before a notary, then we went down to Torrance to get a similar statement signed by my brother Ben. Don immediately sent these to the powers that be in Washington, D. C., by air mail.

Then we were all greatly surprised to hear from Mr. and Mrs. Poole, who arrived in Los Angeles on their way to the Philippines, where they are being sent instead of Caracac, Venezuela, as we had supposed. They have left for Oakland and will sail on the President Coolidge on the 10th of March. The address they gave us is:

T. W. Poole, General Electric Company (P. I. Inc., P. O. Box 1822), Manila, P. I.

Now I have to report another death in the family. February 4 my brother Ben's wife, Caroline Baker Youngken, died very suddenly.

I am not sure whether I reported the birth of the third child of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Self, Mrs. Self is the youngest daughter of my oldest brother, Harry H. Youngken. Their child is Samuel, Jr., and must be nearly a year old. They live on my brother's ranch near Fillmore, Calif.

I saw Miss Helen Younkin of San Diego during the holidays as she was visiting neighbors.

Hoping this information will be of service to you, I am,
Yours sincerely,
KATE YOUNKIN WILLIS.

RETIREES AT 92

Riverside.—Dr. George W. Younkin, 92, Riverside's oldest resident, has discontinued his practice and gone to Mason City to enter the Odd Fellows home. He was born on a farm near Riverside in Sept. 1846.

He is the last of a family of 12 children, his last surviving brother, John P. Younkin, dying in August, 1937, at the age of 94. In his youth, Dr. Younkin studied to be a minister, later taking up medicine and was graduated from Iowa State university medical school in 1876.

He was ordained a Methodist minister and followed both professions until 1900, when he began devoting all of his time to medicine. He practiced in Richmond, Lone Tree, Wapello and Riverside.

A Wandering Painter

A wandering painter has just arrived in time for the Reunion, all the way from Arizona in his trailer house with wife and son. Wandering painter, artist is all that the name implies. He has painted his way across the United States, paints as he travels, hence the name wandering painter.

Does your house, barn, car or truck need painting? He even will paint the church steeple, redecorate the interior, touch up the murals. This ecclesiastical artist, painter and decorator has traveled in many states doing this kind of work. En route he stopped over and visited a sister, Mrs. A. A. LoVerde, in Chicago. In Charleroi, Pa., he is visiting a cousin, Charles Younkin, and his sister, Mrs. Luella Shepard. He will entertain with a painting sketch at Reunion. This wanderer is Norman E. Prather, formerly of Kansas.

RECENT TRAVELS

troit river used as a recreation ground. There they have a zoo, all possible facilities for outdoor exercise and picnics. From there we were driven out to the Ford factory. The plant is not in operation on Sunday but furnaces and ovens are always going and we saw two very dramatic sights. The extent of the factory is best shown by the fact that Ford has 125 miles of his own railroads through the yards and at one point has a tunnel under a river. He makes everything for his cars, having glass factories, sheet metal works, rubber factories, etc., on the grounds. He owns oil wells and coal fields and has refineries at the factory. Naturally he sells many by-products. Nothing is wasted there. They have a way to remove dust from bits of waste glass and use the glass again. We were driven through the grounds in a company car. There are large piles of scrap metal near one building. This is sent in from all over the country and melted down, then pressed into sheets. We drove into the building and saw the bundles of metal put into the white hot furnaces, then saw the liquid metal poured into gigantic ladles. The other spectacle was the coke ovens. They are a series of large iron boxes. A man goes along one side with a tall machine which pushes each oven through to the other side where it empties into another container, an iron car like a coal car. This goes along on tracks and stops under a shed. There the glowing coals are showered with a heavy spray of water until cool. When the water strikes the coals a tremendous amount of steam rises at great force and Al just couldn't get over the waste of all that energy. That steam is the one thing they can't save. Ford is fascinated by locomotives and those for his railroad are made in his factory. His latest project is a small powerful tractor to sell for $350. In Canada he has a factory which makes the whole car, and he has assembly plants all over the world.

Our last stop in Detroit was Greenfield Village. This alone is worth a trip to Detroit. It is a museum and an educational institute combined, planned by Ford and dedicated to Edison, whom Ford considers our greatest American. It consists of a group of three buildings which are reproductions of the Independence Hall and old City Hall of Philadelphia, and the Hall of Congress. These contain classrooms, offices and exhibits of early American furniture, plus an eight-acre hall containing exhibits collected by Ford. This is divided into agriculture, manufacture and transportation. Here one sees examples of crude wooden implements such as described in the Bible, and a progression of improvements down to modern times. There are hundreds of clocks, lamps, churns, wooden wash tubs, flat irons, etc. There is a very complete exhibit of factory equipment, the world's largest collection of incandescent bulbs, examples of every vehicle ever used by man, from ox carts to airplanes. I enjoyed it more than the Smithsonian. Among the bicycles were a ten-seated tandem, the smallest bicycle ever made which was given to Tom Thumb, and a wooden one. In the same hall were several reproductions of early American shops with the original signs hanging. There were a pewterer's, candlemaker's, and others equally rare. From these buildings we entered the village. It is a typical early American village laid around the village green. Each building is a reconstruction of a famous place and contains rare pieces of furniture and other equipment. There are jewelry stores, a general store with bunsels, old valentines, patent medicines, etc., shoe shops, blacksmith shop, postoffice, railroad "depot," homes, town hall, court house, inn, etc. Each building is a museum in itself. One of the most interesting was the old Logan County Court House from Illinois. At one end is a fireplace in which a perpetual fire has burned for nine years as a memorial to Lincoln. At the other end is the judge's bench and at the side of it in a glass case the chair in which Lincoln was sitting when assassinated. Blood can still be seen on it.

On the wall is one of the posters offering a reward of $500 for the capture of the assassin. Here Lincoln spent his first eight years of law practice. The homes are the birthplaces of such famous people as Stephen Foster and Noah Webster. The village would take too long to describe in full. The final group of buildings is the Menlo Park group, Edison's home and workshops. Here are seen all of his equipment, many of his inventions, and enough things to fill a book. He came here for the dedication and re-enacted the perfection of the incandescent lamp, making one just as he made the first one. Everything is just as he left it.

About 3 p. m. we reluctantly left Detroit and were on the final lap of our journey. We passed at South Bend, Ind., for a glimpse of Notre Dame. We had grand weather and no car trouble on the trip, but just outside of Chicago we ran into a heavy fog which made us late and it was 11 p. m. when we completed the 230 miles from Detroit to Chicago. Our whole trip covered about 2500 miles.

Rev. Mansberger
Community Union
Service Speaker

"Having a Mind to Work" was the theme of the sermon at the fourth Sunday community vesper service at the Stadium. The speaker, Rev. A. R. Mansberger, dealt with economic conditions that confront the nation and have confronted it for nearly a decade.

The Christian Church was in charge of the service. The pastor, Rev. Merrill L. Cadwell, presided. The senior choir and the men's quartet of the church provided the music, the former singing "Send Out Thy Light" and the quartet, "Nearer My God to Thee." Mrs. Mary Lucius was at the piano, David Charlesworth, assistant director, directed the anthem.

Charles Younger, Negro conservatory student from Kingswood, W. Va., baritone, sang "The Holy City." Mr. Younger is studying at a music school at Iowa City.

Rev. Arthur Charlesworth of St. Petersburg, Fla., pronounced the benediction.

A quartet of young men was to have opened the service with trumpets, but one of the number was late in arriving. Jack Younkin substituted. He and John Jackson played tabs.

Next Sunday evening's program will be in charge of the United Presbyterian church. Rev. Cadwell will speak.

Scenic Artist With Show Always Busy

N. E. Prather is the well dressed gent which you see walking about the grounds each evening with the air of a millionaire. But if you happened to see Mr. Prather at work you'd find him garbed in paint stained overalls and shirt like any other good decorator.

Mr. Prather is carried with Burke's Shows for the purpose of executing any painting job required. He is able to deliver with any job called for from a simple sign to a sensational picture of a sword swallower or fire eater.

He uses old-fashioned white lead with pigments and varnish.

Mr. Prather obtained quite a bit of his experience in carnival artistry at the famous Coney Island near New York. He worked at the World's Fair, in Chicago, where his home is.

At one time he was engaged as a commercial artist with an advertising firm.

Mayor Younkin's Mother Dies at Age of 83 Years

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., March 5, 1940.—Mrs. Lucinda Y. Johnson, 83 years old, mother of Mayor Ira D. Younkin, died at 7:30 o'clock Monday night at her home at 617 Snyder street after a lingering illness which had made her bedfast for about five weeks.

Mrs. Johnson was born November 2, 1856, in Somerset county, near Scullion, the eldest daughter of the late David and Mary M. Harbaugh. The family then located at Mill Run where it resided until a quarter of a century, being located at 617 Snyder street since coming to Connelleville.

Mrs. Johnson was twice married. Her first husband, William D. Younkin, died December 23, 1910. To this union 10 children were born, nine of whom survive. Her second husband was George W. Johnson, who died in October, 1933.

Surviving children are Mrs. Laura B. Schroyer of Mill Run, Charles A. Younkin of Charleroi, Osborne Younkin of East Fairview avenue, Mrs. Viola Mountain of Greensburg, Mayor Ira D. Younkin of West Peach street, Frank Younkin of Mill Run, Warren Younkin of near Murphy Siding, William G. Younkin at home and Mrs. Lena M. Doyle of Brookvale. There are 27 grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren. Also surviving are the following sisters: Mrs. Rosetta Miner of Kingwood, Mrs. N. C. Stoner of Oshong, Ill., and Mrs. Susan Conn of Scullion. She was a member of the Friendship Bible class and the United Brethren church.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon, with a prayer at the home at 1:45 o'clock and full rites at the First United Brethren Church in Lincoln avenue at 2 o'clock. Rev. Elmer A. Schultz, pastor, will officiate. Interment will be in the Inset Cemetery at the old homestead in charge of Funeral Director Clyde B. Brooks of Indian Head.

Mrs. Warren Younkin To Be Buried Sunday

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., March 8, 1939.—The funeral service for Mrs. Prudence Albright Younkin, 41 years old, wife of Warren Younkin, who died Thursday morning, will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home in Bullskin township near Murphy Siding in charge of Rev. Karl H. J. Schoenborn, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, assisted by Rev. Elmer A. Schultz, pastor of United Brethren Church. Burial will be in Hill Grove Cemetery in charge of Funeral Director Clyde B. Brooks of Indian Head.

Mrs. Younkin was born at Ursula, Somerset county, October 8, 1897, the daughter of Mrs. Lucy Albright and the late William D. Albright. She is survived by her husband, her mother, five children, Betty, Elmer, Ralph, Ruth and Shirley, all at home, and three sisters, Mrs. J. G. Schmide, Mrs. E. E. Hinds and Mrs. J. W. Shaffer, all of Connelleville.

A baby born to Mrs. Younkin shortly before her death died at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Younkin, who had been ill of double pneumonia, was a daughter-in-law of Mrs. Lucinda Johnson, who was buried Thursday afternoon.

Yonkin Family Holds Reunion

FORTIETH ANNUAL MEETING AT PENNS GROVE

The 40th annual reunion of the Yonkin family was held Sunday, August 13, in Penns Grove near Dushore.

Many were present from the various branches of the family. A bountiful dinner was served at noon to all.

A program followed consisting of music by the orchestra and songs by the group. The program of the first reunion was read. It was written 40 years ago and the names read of those who were present at that time and there are but a few living who were present on that day.

The meeting closed by songs and music.

The next reunion will be held the second Sunday in August at the same place.

Celebrate Their 69th Wedding Anniversary

In the American Weekly for Sunday, February 18, 1940

This week, Mrs. Nellie Younkens, Vandergrift, Pa., starts off with four prize-winning hints:

SOUR
To make sweet cream sour, take 1 cup of cream, add 2 teaspoons lemon juice. To sour evaporated milk, take 1 teaspoon vinegar to each cup of milk.

POACHED
If a few drops of vinegar are added to the water in which eggs are to be poached, they will hold together and will not separate the yolk from the white.

GREASE
T stop grease from spluttering. When grease pops and splutters in the frying pan, just add about 1-4 teaspoon of flour sifting it into grease.

SOFT
To keep brown sugar from becoming hard. Take it out of package, put into mason jar and seal. It will keep soft for many weeks.
Mrs. Nellie Younkens,

WHAT WOULD YOU GIVE?

"To Know" who your ancestors were.

"To Know" who we are that belong to this great Younkin tribe.

"To Know" more of the great tribe known as Pennsylvania Dutch.

"To Know" more about a great race or tribe from which the Pennsylvania Dutch have descended.

"To Know" more of a "great family" whose name dates back many hundreds of years.

All the above and many other true facts will be given in future issues of Bulletin.

AMERICA READY IF WAR COMES, SAYS MARSHALL

ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF WEL- COMED HOME TO UNIONTOWN

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 9.—With all the military pomp and ceremony at its command, Fayette County today welcomed back the home town boy who became this nation's No. 1 soldier—Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the United States Army.

A crowd of 10,000 greeted their hero at the Connelleville Airport and heard from his lips a solemn promise that:

"If war comes, the United States is ready."

Gen. Marshall said:

"From the viewpoint of our Army, we are moving along . . . taking steps which seem advisable in view of the troubled situation abroad."

"We are more fortunate than we were in 1917 . . . and it gives me great confidence in view of present conditions."

He declined comment either on the war in Europe or upon this nation's preparation for possible things to come.

In an extemporaneous address to the airport throng, he declared:

"We are a fortunate people in the United States—fortunate beyond the hopes and dreams of any people in any country of Europe. And we must be careful in the preservation of our good fortune."

With Gen. Marshall was Congressman J. Buell Snyder, chairman of the House Committee on Military Appropriations.

$1,000,000 Airport

The ceremonies, centering around Gen. Marshall's visit, served also to focus attention on Connelleville's new $1,000,000 airport.

It was a real homecoming for the general who left Uniontown more than 45 years ago to enroll in Virginia Military Institute. One of the first to greet the General as he stepped from his Army plane resplendent in gold trappings and spotless white uniform was Isaac Silverman, his boyhood chum.

Spotting Silverman, a soap salesman, in the crowd, the General greeted him with:

"Hello, Ike—of course, I remember you."

Official Welcome

A committee of prominent citizens extended the official welcome of Fayette County to its hometown hero.

Postmaster W. N. Carr, master of ceremonies, declared:

"We are proud that one of our own boys is now at the head of our armed forces . . . to protect the peace of the world and defend us from our enemies."

Mayor I. D. Younkin, of Connelleville, extended greetings as did also Col. W. E. R. Covell, in charge of the United States Army engineering offices in Pittsburgh, who served with Gen. Marshall in France.

109 Robbins St.,
Connellsville, Pa.
July 8, 1939, 6:30 P. M.
Charles A. Younklin,
Box 170, Charleroi, Pa.
My dear Charlie:

You have asked me for an article. I am writing you a letter to print, and this is it:

In pursuance of your request I have re-read parts of the Younklin file in my office, No. 920, and when, particularly I came to the statement of yours that my great-grandfather, Frederick Younklin, came from Bucks County, Pennsylvania, and settled on the spot in the wilderness where he brewed out a farm for himself, where my father's brother, Uncle Jacob Younklin, lived and died, and where Ross Younklin, son of Wesley Younklin, both were born, and where that great-grandfather of mine now rests his bones, and where my grandfather, Frederick P. Younklin, was born, later on acquiring the next farm where my own father, Michael Younklin, first saw the light, I said to myself the spirit of adventure and pioneering is not dead in our America.

And then my father, starting out early with the wanderlust in his veins, and his Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Indian Territory, Texas and Arkansas wanderings and the far-off Washington Territory dreams, and the return of the prodigal to his native Somerset County, Pennsylvania, here to lay his bones, again confirms my idea that the pioneer and adventuring spirit is not dead, and the "sublimation," as the psychologist calls it, of these impulses and urges in the settled interests, industry, and fixed and stable homes, factories and farms of the wanderer is the wealth of this land we call America.

We are all a part and parcel of this heterogeneous humanity we call our country, and respond to the joys of liberty and free competition we have here between the two great oceans in the "land of the free and the home of the brave."

And the Younklin pioneers all over this broad land have contributed their fair share to the pioneering.

We have a polyglot of peoples that forms the population of America—Scandinavians in the North; French in the South; Germans in Pennsylvania and the Middle-West; Greeks in the Middle-West; Italians in the East; and our Pennsylvania-Dutch in Pennsylvania—has spread over the West as our reunions from year to year show.

Don't tell me that "rugged individualism" is dead in this country; there was, and is, a plenty of such in these hardy Pennsylvania-Dutch to carry on for years to come. They have leavened the whole lump of their descendants everywhere they have gone.

The great segment of Scandinavians—who are Dutch—in Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin and other states adjoining, are a set of people whose steadiness and industry are in wonderful contrast to the nervousness and irresponsibility of great masses of population east of Pittsburgh.

These solid peoples in Kansas and Missouri are the same pioneer stock which built the foundations of this country so firm. They are still suspicious, such as the Younklin stock of pomp and ceremony—fancy and fudbub—display and strut, Lincoln as a politician was and is their ideal.

Our people want the budget balanced, because they have always favored balancing their own individual budgets. We are for our young people having an opportunity for individual initiative. We want the Younklin boys and girls to develop independent, strong, self-reliant spirits, help to get rid of the philosophy that business and industry are the enemies of the working men, and that the government will compensate for lack of jobs and wage with made-work and handouts; to be willing to start at the bottom and work to the top, to despise guaranteed salaries, wages, security, but to accept the challenge, make the fight on their own, to despise selling their votes for a mess of pottage, and to curse to the blackest hell the "something-for-nothing philosophy which, at last, is a disease that has destroyed all nations where it prevailed, and will destroy our fair America."

Our Younklin must up and dust themselves. We cannot maintain America great if this damnable selling of our self-respect goes on. We must shut it like we shut the plague—it is the plague.

The will to work for the sake of accomplishment and achievement is dropping, bogging—helped along by this vicious poppa-Santa-Clas doctrine of U. S. A.

Let us keep fresh the principle of free competition and individual liberty, the two characteristics that are inherent and hereditary in the American people, just as, in contrast, feudalism, autocracy, authoritarianism are fundamental and elemental largely in continental Europe, and the rest of the world.

Younklinism and Americanism are synonymous. Let us keep it so. People look ahead here. In Europe they look back. In the future there is hope. The past is dead. America is just another word for Hope. Let us have faith—it shall always be so for our Pennsylvania and America.

Very faithfully yours,
FREDERICK ELIJAH YOUNKLIN.

Letter From

Mrs. Clyde Kiehl

Darrington, Wash.,
Feb. 20, 1940.

Mr. Chas. A. Younklin,
Dear sir:

I am enclosing one dollar for a new subscriber, son, to the Younklin Family Bulletin. I heard about this family newspaper quite by accident about a week ago. I think it is a grand thing that you are doing and sincerely hope it will continue until all the Younkkins have found their proper places on this great family tree.

I have always been keenly interested in the Younklin family history. My great-grandparents were Peter Junkin and Sarah Ginnard. Grandparents were Isaac Younklin and Elizabeth Hall and my mother is Anna Matilda Younklin, who married Daniel J. Randall. My father has passed on, but my mother still lives at 401 First 4th street, Bethlehem, Pa., just 12 miles from Easton where my great-grandfather was married and lived most of his life as far as we know.

We are also related in some way to Dr. George Junkin, founder of Lafayette College at Easton, Pa. In fact, it was he who named my mother when she was born.

This is about all that we knew of our family history. Grandmother always said we had lots of money coming from coal land in Pennsylvania, supposedly from a John Junkin, who surveyed roads for the government in the early days and received land grants in payment on which rich coal deposits were discovered. We always have thought that he was a brother of Peter Junkin and either a bachelor or widower as he told great-grandma, Sarah Junkin, that she would never want for money after he was gone.

Peter Junkin made high silk hats at Easton, Pa. for years and Isaac, my grandfather, was a cabinet maker. He learned his trade with the Moravians at Bethlehem, Pa., where he met my grandmother.

We have been told that Sarah Ginnard came from a family of lumber folks in the western part of the state of Pennsylvania.

My father spent a great deal of his time trying to find out something of the history of Peter Junkin, but with little or no success.

The statement in the first issue of the Bulletin that Peter Junkin's ancestor was Michael is an error.

My grandmother always said there was no Michael in the family.

Any information that you can give me regarding Peter Junkin of 1733 or Peter Junkin, 1780, or Dr. George Junkin, founder of Lafayette College, will be greatly appreciated. I would also like to have a copy of the first issue of the Bulletin if that is possible.

The name has always been spelled Junkin in our branch of the family and Younklin in the latter years.

My mother's two uncles, George and Henry, had it changed to Younklin in the courts years ago, I understand.

This information that I have given you has been handed down in the family for years and could be wrong in some instances, but in the main I think it is correct. Any clues that you can send us to help us solve our family puzzle will be gratefully received. I can assure you.

Sincerely yours,
MRS. CLYDE KIEHL,
Darrington, Wash., Box No. 23.

Editor, Family Newspaper:

Before coming to the reunion last August I spent several days—as is my custom—in my investigations into psychic matters, such as genuine bodily materialization and direct voice, clairaudience, clairvoyance and other phenomena brought through from the spirit realm. I had converse with many old relatives and many—among them my father and mother and Martha Jane Van Swearingen, who attended our reunion and spoke in many languages to you all; she appeared in full bodily form and we conversed with her and she sang at the reunion. She was natural in looks as when on the earth plane in every way. There were a beautiful crown of glory which was as bright as the noon-day sun. My mother came next, wearing her apron as did always in life. We had much conversation. Mrs. Van Swearingen was with me.

Now for groover things—things that interest those who love commercialism and sham. My next move was to Somerset, Pa., where I remained for the great family reunion to open, where again I should have the pleasure of meeting with relatives and again talk of many things of interest and meet many new-found relatives.

I really enjoy our reunion, for it is unique in many respects from all others. We have a history I am sure that no others have—the same family, but many ways of spelling the name—12 or 13 different, all on account of hailing from many different races; but originally from one race. There is the French way, the Spanish way, Dutch way, German way, Scotch way, English way, Irish way, Russian way, Norwegian way, Swedish way, American way, and blasted ways, possessive ways, in all languages. Remember that there is no "Y" as such in any German or Latin language.

Mrs. Mamie Y. Prather paid me a visit on her way back to the west. We had a very fine visit. She was at my home for several hours. Hope to be at the reunion this coming August.

Yours,
DR. NOBLE YOUNKLIN.

Mamie Y. Prather

Since August the 4th I have been in many states, met many of our family and at the same time did some research work that is valuable as a contribution to family archives. When we are compiling them, the beginning of the emigration of the family to America marks many important events in the family history in America. It was then our name became Anglo Saxonized and different ways of spelling was begun, as the interpretation of different languages begun.

WHO WAS YOUKENNA, THE GREAT SOLDIER OF A. D. 637?

WAS YOUKENNA YOUNKIN?

All families I meet are the same genial, progressive, home-loving, hospitable people.

The Iowa Reunion was very fine and showed the real interest as it rained all day but still the reunion was a fine success.

The National Reunion is better each year and makes history as new branches of the family keep coming in to join the joyous throng. I have enjoyed fishing in deep sea, attending the World's Fair, International Stock Show and many other things of note.

However, my real thrill of my travels has been derived from the privilege of perusing old documents, reading old books published in the 1700's that prove the real pioneering progressive spirit of our family ancestors.

Very notable is the fact.
MAMIE Y. PRATHER.

DR. GEO. JUNKIN (YOUNKIN)

Dr. George Junkin (Younkin), son of Joseph and (Eleanor Cochran) Junkin (Younkin) of Cumberland County, Pa., founder and first president of Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., 1822, and of the Miami University of Oxford, Ohio, president of Washington College, Washington, Pa., 1846-1851, was born November 1, 1790, died May 20, 1858, buried in Philadelphia, Pa., and later removed to Lexington, Va. William Finney Junkin (Younkin), son of George Junkin (Younkin), D. D., L. L. D., born 1831, died 1900, and Rev. E. D. Junkin (Younkin), D. D., born February 2, 1829, died July 31, 1891, for 27 years a minister of the Gospel. This is all we have regarding this branch of Junkin (Younkins). Perhaps they are direct descendants of Peter Junkin (Younkin), the immigrant of 1733, and of Peter Younklin, 1789-1851. This latter named Peter Younklin is buried in an old cemetery in Easton, Pa. The above named Peter Younklin being the great-great-grandfather of James and Edward Younklin of 32 North 11th street, Easton, Pa., and great-grandfather of Mrs. Clyde Kiehl of Darrington, Wash., whose letter appears in this issue, and as you will note when and how the change in the name, from Junkin to Younklin. This collection of information from Glenn, Edward and James Younklin and Mrs. Clyde Kiehl, and for the information of all Younklin. Peter Junkin (Younkin), the pioneer of 1733, arrived on the same vessel as Johan Heinrich Junghen (Younkin). Their relationship has never been proven, and their descendants are many throughout the land.

Easter Morning

By BETTY BENSON

Great-granddaughter of Edwin Y.

All through the night they waited,
All through the long dark night;
Then early in the morn, Mary went to the tomb,

Early in the morning light,
And seeing the stone had been taken away,
She ran into Peter and John,
"They have taken our Lord from where He lay,
And I know not where they have gone."

Then Peter and John did run there,
And looking into the tomb,
Found his clothes were neatly folded,
Where
Christ had been in that holy room.

"He is not here, He is risen,"
Bright angels to them said;
"Hallelujah, Christ is living—
He is risen from the dead."

While they hastened back to tell the news,
Mary wept in the garden alone,
Till the Master came, and spoke to her.

In His gentle soothing tone,
And the world in a waiting slumber
In the years that man hath trod,
Has not seen the glorious vision
Of our Savior at home with God.

So the story of Christ ascending
Must be told again and again,
Till all mankind is awakened
And Christ in the hearts of men.

CONFLUENCE

Younkin Pays $25 To Get County Payless Job

PAYS $25 TO GET PAYLESS COUNTY JOB

COLWELL S. YOUNKIN HAS BEEN COUNTY SURVEYOR 16 YEARS; NEVER COLLECTED A FEE; IS CANDIDATE AGAIN.

FIRST NAMED IN 1924

By CHARLES A. WELSH, Jr.

Twenty-five dollars is a lot of money to an 86-year-old man, who has worked for his living with his hands and head since boyhood. But Colwell S. Younkin, of Confluence, decided last month that it wasn't too much to pay for the honor of retaining his title of county surveyor.

So two weeks ago Mr. Younkin walked into the office of the county commissioners in Somerset and handed to Miss Elsie Doppstadt, clerk, a set of nominating petitions bearing more than 100 names. Attached to the petitions were two crisp ten-dollar bills and one five-dollar bill, the amount set by the 1937 legislature as necessary for primary candidates.

If he is re-elected this year, and Mr. Younkin is very confident that he will be, the aged but active Confluence surveyor will almost certainly become the record officeholder for continuous service in an elective county office in Somerset county. Next February 1 he will complete 16 years in the position to which he seeks re-election.

And in all those 16 years, Mr. Younkin has never received a cent of salary or fees, has in fact performed no service for the county.

Appointed in 1924

The record books show him as having held the office since being appointed by former Judge John A. Berkey in 1924. He served only a month less than four years under the appointment, was elected to the office in 1927, again in 1931 and 1933 will be his fifth candidacy.

Originally, Mr. Younkin says, he sought the office because the title brought him prestige and business. Today, although he still is an active surveyor, he retains the office, and is a candidate again "just for sentimental reasons."

The office of county surveyor was created by the Pennsylvania legislature many, many years ago, when there still was much vacant land in the commonwealth. The county surveyor worked under a fee system, and whenever any vacant land was found in the county, land not claimed by any owner and not producing tax revenues, the county surveyor was sent to inspect it, plot it, and make preparations for the county to claim title.

Little Unclaimed Land

Today, there is very little or no unclaimed land in Somerset county. None has been reported for nearly a decade, Mr. Younkin says, and the last time a survey of that type was made Mr. Younkin was ill and unable to function. So the survey was turned over by the county commissioners to Frank B. Pluck, venerable Somerset engineer, and Mr. Younkin missed the only chance he ever had or likely will have to "cash in" on his office.

Two decades ago the office was much sought after by engineers and surveyors. Strangers from other sections came or wrote to county officials asking the name of the county surveyor, because they needed some engineering work done in the county, and knew no capable man. The authorities always promptly replied with the name and address of the official, and in this way the title brought considerable private work to its holder.

It was this business that Mr. Younkin sought when he first became a candidate in the Republican primary of 1923. But his first venture into politics was unsuccessful, when the nomination went to one Irenus S. Pile, of Black township, the incumbent. However, Mr. Younkin did win the Democratic nomination but was beaten in the general election, 1835 to 1831. That was the only election he ever lost.

But about the time the biennial session of the legislature passed an act requiring that all county surveyors must be registered engineers or surveyors. And when Mr. Younkin discovered that Mr. Pile was not registered, he filed a petition pointing out this fact, and asking that he be appointed to the office.

Judge John A. Berkey received the petition February 1, 1924, and after promptly examining the law disqualified Mr. Pile and forthwith appointed Mr. Younkin.

In 1927, Mr. Younkin again sought election to the office and this time he was completely successful, winning Republican, Democrat and Prohibition nominations in the primary, and polling 12,103 votes in the general election. In 1931, Mr. Younkin was renominated by the Republican party, and in the general election defeated Mr. Pluck, 8089 to 3607. Marshal Lowery, Socialist candidate, polled 303 votes. Again in 1935 Mr. Younkin won the uncontested Republican nomination, and rode through to victory in the general election, polling 15,802 votes against 11,437 for F. R. Boyd, the Democratic candidate.

Looks Much Younger

An average sized man physically, Mr. Younkin's appearance and activity belie his many years. He strides rapidly when walking, his shoulders erect and enjoys walking more than a mile from Confluence to his farm home even with a heavy load of groceries for himself and his wife.

His sparkling blue eyes and sun-tanned face, the brown spots showing through his thinning gray hair, indicates a man who has spent much of his life in the open. He still is active in surveying, and doesn't shy away from the steep hills and hard work to be found in the mountainous sections of the county. Only a few weeks ago he spent two days surveying a large tract of land atop Allegheny mountain near Sand Patch, one of the wildest sections in the county.

Mr. Younkin never had much formal schooling, but his pronunciation and vocabulary are those of a man who has read much and remembered well. When he talks, and becomes interested in his subject, he has a habit of frequently snapping his fingers as he gesticulates. His hobbies are many, but first and foremost is his work. Next he likes astronomy and mathematics, and he is somewhat of a linguist, speaks fluent German. Like his engineering, he learned German from a brother-in-law who studied at a German university before coming to America as a railroad engineer when the Baltimore and Ohio was building between Cumberland and Connelville.

Learned Under An Engineer

Only a boy of 15 then, Mr. Younkin was fascinated by the work of the men who dictated where the road should be built, and under the tutelage of the university-school engineer he learned quickly and well.

But all his life hasn't been spent looking through a transit and measuring feet and perches with a surveyor's chain.

Many years ago he was struck by the glamor of the footlights, and toured vaudeville circuits for a half dozen years as a ventriloquist and sleight-of-hand performer, interspersing his performances with discussions of astronomy. He still saves and treasures handbills advertising the appearance of "that great ventriloquist Colwell Younkin" in towns and cities throughout the east. At one time he had his own show, Mr. Younkin often talks about those days, but he is satisfied as he is today, with no longing to go back to the footlights.

He isn't worrying any about re-election. "I filed as a Republican, have always been a Republican, and of course we're going to win. I don't even expect the first time."

And he isn't worrying any about Father Time catching up with him either. "I'll serve out this term but I don't expect to be a candidate again in 1943."

"Twenty years in one office is a long time," he says with a proud smile.

Poems Written by Minnie Younkin Hall

OUR BABES

(Written about 1890.)

Ah! These tender flowerets, trusted to our care!

How much we need the guidance found by prayer

To shield them from the blight!

How little time it seems since we were flowerets innocent as they

Of the world's erring ways.

How little time! Ah, can it be

That now, thus early in our lives

We are guardians made

Of these bright gems from Heaven!

Lord, give us strength of heart and mind.

A comprehension of mankind

To inclinations given.

That we may mould their hearts aright

And make them perfect in Thy sight.

Fit offerings for Heaven.

Our strength but slowly grows, it seems,

To put in practice all our dreams.

Our many hearts' desires.

We fain would reach the top-most round,

Ever yet we seem to have left the ground.

So high the soul aspires!

Lord, Father of the human race,

Who sends each soul into its place,

Its mission to fulfill.

Look down in mercy on us here,

Send us thy help, our way to cheer.

Thy help to lead the way.

For little feet that all alone

Would bruise be on many a stone

Uprising in the path.

We feel so much, oh, Lord, the want

Of rapid growth of mind and heart.

To keep apace with Time,

Who brings bright jewels to our feet.

So bright, so beautiful, so sweet,

For us to shelter here.

Our home's a workshop, filled with rarest gems.

Brought down from angels' diadems.

By baby souls to earth.

For us to wonder and admire.

To give us glimpses of "Up, Higher."

Where glory fills all space:

A workshop where we place

A coronet to crown the man

Who now stands at our knee.

Our every thought and prayer shall be.

Oh, Lord, enable us to see and plan our work aright.

That when Thou callest for return

Of jewel caskets, which we've learned

To love so well on earth.

They may be worthy of a place

At Thy right hand, by the throne of Grace.

To shine as stars in Heaven.

THE SWEET INVITATION

(Written January 31, 1884.)

"Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

Hear the voice of the Saviour.

As sweetly he calls,

To all who are weary

The loving word falls.

Come ye, all that labor,

Your helper is near.

Your labor to lighten,

Your sad hearts to cheer.

Have crosses too many

Your shoulders weighed down?

Has the road been too rough

That leads to the crown?

Are your feet torn and bleeding.

Your eyes dim with tears.

Your head bowed in sadness,

Your heart racked with fears?

Then come to the Saviour.

His free gift to receive.

For all who believe Him

He'll quickly relieve.

For, has He not said

In the Book, true and bless'd,

Come, come, all ye weary

And ye shall find rest?

Then why not return

To Christ who has loved you.

And at his feet learn.

How the cross may be lightened

By worship and prayer,

The way may be brightened

Though grievous the care!

He has promised to aid you

In trouble and grief;

His arm will uphold you,

He'll whisper relief.

Oh, rest he has promised!

Sweet, blissful, and long.

With never a murmur

The whole way along.

If only we'll trust Him

And aye to him bear

Our every affliction

In sincerest prayer.

"My yoke is easy,"

"My burden is light,"

Oh, do not reject it!

Oh, how can you slight

The offer so gracious

Your burden to share.

The road to make easy

To Canaan so fair?

Oh, heart-lifting promise!

The Saviour of love

Will strengthen you, aid you,

And lead you above

To the mansion, which Jesus

Has gone to prepare

For all who will fervently

Trust in Him here.

RECOMPENSE

You're the oil on troubled waters

That my sinking soul desires;

You're my spirit's satisfaction,

Lighting up its latent fires.

You're the sunlight's golden rays

And the peaceful moon's calm light,

You're the light of all my days

And my blessing in the night.

You're the one I'd trust and die for.

You're my lone ship out at sea.

You're the lover that I sigh for.

You are everything to me.

MEMORIES OF COLORADO

Dancing leaves and snow-capped peaks,
Gleaming lake and sunlit sky,
These each day my memory seeks,
And bright clouds go floating by.

Tall dark pines and waterfalls,
Broad, smooth roads to mountain heights,
Aspen shadows on a rock,
Colors dancing in our sight.

Star-decked sky and shadows deep,
Trails so steep, of wondrous height,
Hours of sweet companionship,
Brooks that babbled in the night.

White mists softly cuddling lie,
Strange flowers peeping in and out,
Yellow roads that gleam and die,
As they wind and trail about.

Pearls of memory are these now,
And we cherish every one,
Days of happiness we knew,
And new joys of life begun.

As of gold and precious stone,
Jewels rare beside us here,
Are these thoughts of days ago,
That by us are held most dear.

Plant Eats Hamburgers

Special diet of hamburger is the requirement of the "Darlingtonia Californica" shown receiving its weekly portion of ground steak from Will Curtis of Sudbury, Mass. A rare sub-tropical plant, this is one of several carnivorous varieties grown by Mr. Curtis. Plant prefers a dash of salt, no onions.

Eleanor Younkin
Is Bride of
Geo. C. Fretts

SCOTSDALE, Pa., 1939.—Saturday evening, December 16, at the Owensdale United Brethren Church Miss Eleanor M. Younkin, daughter of Mrs. Audith K. Younkin, of Owensdale, became the bride of George C. Fretts, son of Mrs. A. G. Fretts and A. G. Fretts, late of Scottdale. Rev. W. V. Barnhart, pastor of the church, read the impressive ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock before an embankment of palms and ferns.

Prior to the ceremony, Miss Edna Shallenberger gave a short piano recital and as the bridal party came into the church she played Wagner's wedding march from "Lohengrin."

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, James W. Younkin, appeared in a gown of white allover satin, styled with puffed sleeves and a square neckline. Her shoulder length veil of tulle fell from a wreath of tiny gardenias and her bridal bouquet was of Madonna lilies.

Eleanor Gething of Owensdale, the bride's only attendant, wore an ice blue taffeta gown, princess styled, and carried an arm bouquet of sweetheart roses.

Gilbert Weisel of Scottdale was Mr. Fretts' best man, Sanford Younkin, brother of the bride, and Clarence Brown, Jr., ushered.

The ceremony was followed by a small reception at the home of the bride.

On their return from a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Fretts will be at home near Scottdale.

Mildred Ward Is Recent Bride of Delano Younkin

ASHVILLE, O.—Miss Mildred K. Ward, daughter of Mrs. Lawrence Ward, of Madison Township, and Delano D. Younkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Younkin, of Ashville, were united in marriage at 8:30 o'clock, Saturday evening, September 23, in the home of the bride's mother.

The Rev. E. H. E. Winterhoff, of the St. Paul Lutheran Church, read the single ring ceremony before an improvised altar of palms, ferns, white chrysanthemums and blue asters. The only light in the room was the glow of two seven-branch candelabras.

To the strains of Lehigh's Wedding March, played by Mrs. Cecil Ward, the bride, gowned in delicate pink organza, entered the room carrying a white prayer book with ribbon sprays of pink rose buds and lilies of the valley, and wearing a gardenia in her hair.

Members of the immediate families and few close friends who were present for the ceremony, were entertained at an informal reception and buffet supper following the wedding.

Ira D. Younkin Entertains Women's And Men's Classes

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 14, 1939.—Mayor Ira D. Younkin was host to the Goodfellowship Class and Mrs. Younkin was hostess to the Royal Circle Class of the First United Brethren Church on Thursday night at their home in West Peach street. Miss Younkin held a separate meeting.

The usual business was transacted at the meeting of the Goodfellowship Class and Rev. Elmer A. Schultz, church pastor, spoke concerning the coming evangelistic campaign scheduled to begin December 31, and expressed a desire that members attend all meetings possible. William M. Fox stated that a goodly number of the class, as well as other men of the church, will attend the Town Hall meeting and banquet of ministers and laymen of the Greensburg District, at the Youngwood United Brethren Church tonight. Thirty-three churches are included in the Greensburg district and a fine banquet and program have been arranged. Nelson Lyberger gave a short talk. The meeting closed with prayer by Rev. Schultz.

The theme for the Royal Circle Class, of which Mrs. Younkin is president, was "Rebuilding Rural Communities." Mrs. W. N. Laughrey conducted the devotionals and Mrs. J. R. Bailey offered the opening prayer. Scripture was read by Mrs. H. S. Secher and a duet was sung by Dorothy and Jean Osterwie, accompanied by Miss Grace Younkin. A Christmas poem was read by Mrs. O. O. Osterwie and L. G. Hoover, teacher, gave a talk. Rev. Schultz gave the closing prayer.

At the close of its session the Goodfellowship Class joined the Royal Circle Class in devotionals and a Christmas party.

The December committee of the women's class consisted of Mrs. W. N. Laughrey, Miss Jane James, Mrs. Anna Brooks, Mrs. Alice Osborne, Mrs. E. C. Henry and Mrs. Herbert Perdue. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Graft in Spessard street.

Mrs. Clark Jones Entertains Club

WIND RIDGE, Sept. 27.—Mrs. Clark Jones, of Graysville, R. D., entertained the Community Club, of the South Ten Mile Baptist Church, Thursday, September 21, at her home for an all-day meeting. A covered dish dinner was served at noon to 22 persons. A business meeting was held in the afternoon with the president, Mrs. Laura Leslie, in charge, after which a program was presented. The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Irene Harvey. Those taking part in the program were: Mrs. Snoddy Parfitt, Miss Alma Webster, Miss Leslie Leslie, Mrs. Lida Knight, Mrs. Bert Ross, Mrs. Anna Goodwin, Mrs. Elsworth Fox, Mrs. Laura Leslie, Mrs. Margaret Scott, Mrs. Viola Scott. Visitors present were: Mrs. Netta Smalley, Mrs. George Stiles, Mrs. Snoddy Parfitt, Mrs. Harvey Baker, Mrs. Leslie Leslie, Mrs. Gertrude Burns, Mrs. Anna Stiggers. The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Irene Harvey.

Crops Go 'Round and 'Round As Farmer Takes It Easy

Hit your tractor to a stake, then sit and watch the crops rotate. Inset shows spiral cornfield as seen from air.

ARMCHAIR farming is proving successful for Frank W. Andrew of Palmyra, Ill., and when his crops rotate, they really go around in circles.

The young farmer plants his disc-shaped fields in corn, wheat and oats, and lets the tractor do all the work. Rows of grain are really spirals, as they wind round and round from outside of circle to its center.

It wasn't circular letters from a correspondence farming school that inspired Andrew's novel method of agriculture. He studied the subject at the University of Illinois, and graduated with both a diploma and an idea.

HE figured it would be a fine thing if farmers could grow their crops without spending so much time driving back and forth across dusty fields, plowing, preparing seed beds, planting and cultivating. So Andrew rigged up a method for automatic circular operation of his tractor.

An old barrel served as pivot post for the tractor, to which he attached a length of piano wire. It was a simple matter, he says, to start the tractor, let it spiral around the field, winding the wire around the barrel as it went. The wire grew shorter with each turn until the tractor finally coiled the end of its loop at the barrel.

Light machinery hitched on behind the tractor prepared the seed bed and drilled the wheat in one operation, stopping automatically when it had wound itself into the barrel. All Andrew does is connect the wire, start the tractor, hop off and let the law of diminishing length go to work.

ANDREW'S merry-go-round plowing device has run for hours at a time, both day and night, with no one around. The inventor can curl up with a good book or go into town, leaving the whirling tractor in the field plowing, disking or cultivating.

Not foolproof, the device sometimes runs foul of weeds or stalks. It probably wouldn't be adaptable to hilly land, for whirling crops and rolling fields don't mix.

Then, too, there are old-shaped strips of land left in between the circular planted patches. Unable to gather them up as would a bicusulmester with dough, Andrew plants them in soy beans and hay.

His device is simple, cost only $10 to build, and differs from similar contraptions in that it works, while others did not. As yet, Andrew has not tried harvesting with automatic equipment, but pretty soon he'll find a way and circular farming will become the easiest job in the world—and the dirtiest.

Spend Christmas In California State

1375 E. Anaheim St., Long Beach, Calif., Dec. 14, 1939.

Mr. Chas. A. Younkin, Charleroi, Pa.

Dear friend:

The Christmas season is finding us in "sunny California," as you see. We are enjoying California very much, though miss our Texas friends. We have a few friends here and will find new ones, no doubt.

Last September, we went up into Canada to visit my Uncle Will Younkin and his good wife. We found him in quite bad health. In fact, not able to be up all day. He never complains and is quite cheerful. It is hard to see him suffer so much. I shall inclose a "snap" of them. It is quite good, we think.

Wish you could enjoy some of our beautiful warm days here. We came into California three weeks ago, and every day has been lovely. You remember we spent the summer in Washington, and we stayed into the rainy season and hence we appreciate the sunshine. However, we had a fine summer. Fresh fruits and vegetables are cheap here and so good!

Mrs. Wm. Younkin (my aunt) at Rock Creek, B. C., would like to know if there is a "key" to the picture of the "coat of arms" of the Younkin family. Do you know where it can be obtained, if there is one? She is very much interested in it.

Wishing you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, we are,

MR. & MRS. E. R. TANNENHILL.

Obituaries

DOROTHY YOUNKIN

Dorothy Younklin, daughter of Samuel and Rebecca Thrush, was born in Pickaway County, June 6, 1864, and departed this life May 16, 1939, at her late home in South Bloomfield, aged 74 years, 11 months and 10 days.

On September 25, 1884, she was united in marriage to Horton H. Younklin. To this union were born eight children—four sons and four daughters, the youngest daughter, Bernice, having preceded her mother in death about fifteen years ago.

The living children are Earl and Everett, of Columbus; Fred and Howard, of Ashville; Mrs. Nora Crable, Mrs. Edith Mithoff, of Columbus, and Mrs. Mildred Hoover, of Lockbourne.

Shortly after her marriage she united with the M. E. Church of Pherson, Ohio. In later years her membership was removed to the Benick M. E. Church, finally transferring to the Scola Chapel U. B. Church of Robtown, Ohio, of which she was a member at the time of her death.

When health permitted, she loved to attend the services of this little chapel, but in her declining years she gained much spiritual strength and comfort listening to the beloved hymns and sermons on the radio by one of her former pastors, Rev. D. S. Mills, and wife.

Her life was centered upon her home and children, never too busy to lend a helping hand to one in need.

To her faithful companion of over 54 years, as well as to others, she stated that her work on earth was finished and she was ready and willing to go. She was an indulgent and helpful wife and mother and was highly esteemed by her friends and neighbors.

She leaves to mourn their loss, her devoted husband, four sons and three daughters, 25 grandchildren, six great-grandchildren, many nieces and nephews and a host of friends. She will be sadly missed by all but we feel that our loss is her gain, for she has gone up higher where pain and sorrow are no more.

"Now the busy hands are folded,
And her task on earth is done.
She has gone to claim his promise,
And in Heaven a crown has won."

CARD OF THANKS

The family wishes to thank all who in any way assisted in the death of wife and mother; Mr. Finch for his efficient service; Rev. Smith and Rev. Wright for their consoling words; Rev. Mills for the beautiful hymns, and neighbors, relatives and friends for the beautiful floral offerings.

H. H. YOUNKIN,
Sons and Daughters.

MRS. JOHN MORRISON, JR.
CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 27, 1939.—Mrs. Annabelle Showman Morrison, 30 years old, wife of John H. Morrison, Jr., died suddenly at 12:15 o'clock this morning at Connelville State Hospital where she had undergone an emergency operation for acute appendicitis late last night. She became ill yesterday, and after examination by her physician was ordered to the hospital.

Mrs. Morrison was born September 16, 1909, at Normalville, a daughter of the late John W. and Mrs. Ella Kearns Showman. The family moved to Untown where she received her education in the public schools and then came to Connelville in 1929 where she had since resided. She was married December 21, 1935, to John H. Morrison, Jr., of this city, at a ceremony performed at Hagerstown, Md. She was a member of the United Brethren Church of Untown. The Morrison home is at 604 South Arch street.

Surviving, in addition to her husband and mother, are these brothers and sisters: James, William, Clarence, Jerry and John Showman, Mrs. Bert Work and Mrs. Henry McDowell, all of Connelville and Mrs. Barnes Harshman and Mrs. Margaret Harshman, both of Everson.

The body was removed this afternoon to the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Morrison, 414 East Washington avenue, where the funeral service will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. Nicholas P. Richards, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in the Morrison family plot at Hill Grove Cemetery in charge of Funeral Director Charles A. McCormick.

SAMUEL COSSEL

September 14, 1939.—

Samuel Cossel, born and reared at Broad Ford, died Thursday at his home at Indiana, Pa., after a short illness. He was 60 years old and had resided at Indiana for about 18 years. Besides his wife, the former Miss Mary Flanigan, of Broad Ford, he is survived by a daughter and one grandson, at home; two brothers, James Cossel of Broad Ford and William Cossel of Dawson, and two sisters, Mrs. S. T. Ervin and Mrs. Etta Cole, of Connelville.

The funeral service was held Saturday afternoon at the home. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery, near Indiana.

MRS. RUTH WILTROUT

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., June 10, 1939.—Mrs. Ruth Wiltrout, 28 years old, wife of Clyde Wiltrout of South Connelville, died at 10:05 o'clock this morning at her home in Gibson avenue, after an illness of two months.

Mrs. Wiltrout was born June 19, 1911, a daughter of Charles and Elizabeth Brerly of South Connelville. She was educated in the public schools there and was a member of the Church of God. In addition to her husband and parents, she leaves an adopted son, Junior Wiltrout, and these brothers and sisters: Raymond Wiltrout of Clinton, N. J.; Mrs. Daisy Trump of South Connelville and Harry and William Wiltrout, both at home.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

DEATH TAKES CHARLES

ELBERT YOUNKIN AT 78

SCOTTS BLUFF, Neb., Nov. 26, 1939.—Charles Elbert Younklin, 809 West Eighteenth street, retired, died of a heart attack at 6 a. m. Sunday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. J. F. Carland, two miles north of Lyman. Had Mr. Younklin lived one more day, he and his wife, Nellie, would have celebrated their 52nd wedding anniversary. Funeral services will be held at Read's funeral home here at 2 p. m. Wednesday with Rev. George Marrel, pastor of the Methodist Church here, officiating. Burial will be in the Fairview Cemetery.

Mr. Younklin was born November 26, 1862, at Kewanee, Ill. He was an early day pioneer and rancher near Kimball, Neb., later moving to Alliance, Neb., where he engaged in the transfer business for nearly 20 years. He retired about three years ago. He was visiting at the home of his daughter and son-in-law at the time of his death.

Surviving include his wife, to whom he was married November 27, 1887, at Orient, Iowa, and six sons and daughters, namely, Mrs. Carland, near Lyman; Lloyd Younklin, Gunk, Wyo.; Glenn Younklin, Alliance, Neb.; Mrs. Dewey Jones, Scotts Bluff, Neb.; Mrs. W. E. Le-masters, San Fernando, Cal.; R. A. Younklin, Denver, Col.; one brother, George Younklin, Elk City; 14 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

MAYOR YOUNKIN PROCLAIMS NAVY DAY

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 27, 1939.—Mayor Ira D. Younklin, in a proclamation today, called upon the people of Connelville to join in the observance Friday of Navy Day. The Mayor urged the display of the American flag in the downtown and residential sections and appealed to the citizens to pause and give serious thought to the part which an adequate navy might play in the safeguarding of representative government in this hemisphere.

Navy Day is observed annually on the birthday anniversary of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, "whose efforts on behalf of an adequate navy should no more be forgotten than should his wise words—speak softly but carry a big stick," the Mayor pointed out.

"Present conditions abroad should keep constantly in our minds the spirit of thankfulness that our isolation from Europe permits us to enjoy and to perpetuate the ideals of democracy and freedom of thought upon which this country was founded," Mayor Younklin declared. "At such a time it is altogether fitting and proper that we should join with the Navy League in taking stock of our situation, and should embrace the opportunity to learn more about 'The Navy—Defender of Our Sea Frontiers.'"

"The least we can do," Mayor Younklin said, "is to observe Navy Day by displaying the American flag and to pause and give serious thought to the part the navy plays in our daily life."

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 12, 1940.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Santore of Untown spent Sunday with the latter's sister, Mrs. Glen Younklin, in Highland avenue.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 20, 1940.—Dr. and Mrs. Robert P. Herwick of Washington, D. C., arrived here Friday night to visit the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Herwick, of South Pittsburgh street. They are enroute to Madison, Wis., to visit Mrs. Herwick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson.

BIBLE CLASS ENTERTAINED BY MRS. WILLIAM STALKER

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 12,

1940.—The Adult Bible Class of the Christian Missionary Alliance Church met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. William Stalker, at Wheeler, with Mrs. John Homer as co-hostess. Thirty-five members and one guest, Mrs. Charles Pogue, were in attendance.

The president, Huey Gillespie, presided over a business session of a routine nature. The entertainment committee had charge of the remainder of the evening.

George Richter, chairman, led singing and a Bible contest. Mrs. Roy Turns was the winner of the contest. Lunch was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. John Mitchell.

The evening was closed with prayer led by Grant Younklin. The date and place of the next meeting will be announced later.

LOST

Lost in a world of the Saviour's love,

I am safe, safe with Him.
Troubles and griefs cannot alarm,
I am safe with Him.
Only to trust and obey His word
Every day, all the way—
Storms may arise and my soul be tried,

I am safe with Him.

Lost in a world of the Saviour's love,

I abide, safe with Him,
Blent in my soul with peace and rest,
I am safe with Him.
Casting my burden down at His feet
I am safe with Him.
Looking to Heaven in the trials we meet,
We are safe with Him.

Come and forget the cares that weigh
On your heart heavily.

Love that is His will you sustain
All the weary way.
Oh, that we may gather strength from Him
For the long, hard road.
Oh, that our hearts may these riches glean
And be safe with Him.

MRS. E. M. KELLER FETED AT FAMILY GATHERING

Scottsdale, Pa., Sept. 3, 1939.—A pleasant family gathering was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Medger, near the Pleasant Valley Country Club, in honor of Mrs. Etta M. Keller, mother of Mrs. Medger.

Present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Medger, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Medger and Mrs. Etta M. Keller, of near Connelville; Mr. and Mrs. Orlo K. Medger and daughter, Barbara Lou, Dayton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Rush, Miss Thelma Rush, Karl K. Rush and son, Karl C., Syracuse, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Keller, William and Ruth Keller, Kokomo, Ind.; Mrs. Audith Younklin, James, Eleanor, Sam and Irvin Younklin, Owensdale; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Keller and daughters, Nancy and Ann, Grove City; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Torrence, Dorothy, Catherine Mae, Kenneth and Thelma Grace Torrence, Owensdale, and George Pretta, Scottsdale.

DEAR ONE

Once I thought I loved you,
When stars shone in the sky,
And mystic lights around us
Sang nature's halleluy.

Once I thought I loved you,
When dawn came o'er the hills,
And the changing scenes of every day,
With thrills our beings filled.

But now those days are gone, dear,
My love seems but a dream,
So vastly grander, sweeter,
Does this later loving seem.

And as the years go on, dear,
And Time draws all his fee,
May that love crown with joy, dear,
All days for you and me.

MINNIE Y. HALL.

JUST RIGHT!

Liza, the negro cook, answered the telephone one morning and a cheerful voice inquired, "What number is this?"
Liza was in no mood for trifling and said with some asperity, "You-all ought to know. You done called it!"

John Younkin Laid To Rest

Funeral Is Held Wednesday Afternoon
For 80-Year-Old Resident

RIVERSIDE, Iowa, April 4. — Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon in the Riverside Methodist church for John H. Younkin, whose death took place Monday morning at his farm home just east of Riverside.

Mr. Younkin had been a member of the Odd Fellows for many years, and pallbearers were chosen from the Kalona lodge of that order to which he had belonged since the Riverside lodge merged with the Kalona lodge last year. They were Fred Burgeots, T. Reagan Adams, Geo. Beck and Bert Britton of Kalona, and Roy Flynn and Charles Havel of Riverside.

Rev. S. C. Peterson, pastor of the Riverside Methodist church, was in charge of the services, which were largely attended.

Mrs. H. E. Doud, Mrs. L. R. Bates, Mrs. R. I. Marner and Mrs. C. W. Ingram sang "Asleep in Jesus, Blessed Sleep," "The Old Rugged Cross." Mrs. Harold Cress was at the piano.

Burial following in the Riverside cemetery.

John H. Younkin, son of Joseph and Eliza Jane Younkin, was born on July 30, 1859 on the same farm in the Riverside community on which he passed away at 6:45 A.M. Monday, April 1, 1940. He was born in a log house which many years ago sat directly in front of the present Younkin residence, and he spent his entire life on the home place. He was eighty years and eight months of age at the time of his death.

On December 5, 1900, Mr. Younkin was united in marriage with Miss Anna Ford in Iowa City and they established their home on the farm east of Riverside. Five sons were born to this union.

Mr. Younkin was a faithful and loyal member of the Methodist church since his early youth. As a young man, he sang regularly in the choir. He was also a member of the Board of Trustees and the Official Board of the church and active in many other ways in supporting the work of the Kingdom in this community. Mr. Younkin was also very active in the life of the

Had Planned To Come To Great Reunion At Kingwood, Pa.

Inglewood, Cal.
10002 Greivellia Ave.

Dear Mr. Younkin:

Just received the card of invitation to the Younkin reunion, and it almost got me down. Norman passed away the 19th of May and he and I had planned to come to the reunion this year. We were buying a new car and taking what we called our honeymoon trip after a delay of forty years (we were married 40 years the 19th of Jan.) so you see we plan but God disposes and so I am left to battle the rest of the way alone, however I hope you all have a grand time. Wish I too could be there.

Sincerely,

Edith M. Younkin.

BIRTHS

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Prather, 221 1-2 Vallejo, Cal., the first of September, baby has been named Thomas Allen. Mrs. Mamie Prather, of Garden City, Kansas, is the grandmother.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Frank of Herndon, Kan., a son, Vernon Claude, June 5, 1940.

Born to Rev. and Mrs. Francis Tannehill of Preston, Minn., a son, John Ernest, May 30, 1939.

The two above are grandchildren of Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Tannehill and were reported by the grandmother, Mrs. E. H. Tannehill.

community, taking a responsible part in the life of its various organizations. He was a charter member of the Odd Fellows Lodge in Riverside and active in its affairs. He was secretary of the School Board of the "Y" school district for fifty years, resigning in 1938 because of ill health, and he was clerk and trustee of Iowa township for many years.

He is survived besides his wife, by five sons, Everett, Verna, Allan, Harold and Glen, all at home, three brothers, Samuel of Cedar Rapids, Morris of Eugene, Ore., Alfred of Riverside and a sister, Mrs. Laura Smith of Plainview, Texas. Two sisters died some years ago.

In the death of Mr. Younkin, Riverside loses a man who was universally esteemed as a good neighbor and friend. He will be missed by a host of those who knew him.

Three Grand Old Men Present
Ages Total 260 Years.

MANY STATES REPRESENTED

Near 1,000 numbers and friends present at the seventh annual national reunion held at Kingwood, Pa., Sunday, August 18th, 1940. A beautiful day, ideal for a gathering of this nature. A representative of many branches from many states and places around the place where once each year all Younkens gather and make merry.

States represented are as follows: Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, West Virginia, Georgia, Indiana, Illinois, Oklahoma, Michigan and Puerto Rico, many old members were present, several of them newcomers, three old members present whose ages totaled 261 years, Colwell, 87 years; Henry, 77 years; Fremont, 86 years. All three reside in Somerset County (see photos in this issue), many other old members were present whose ages have not been checked. The morning program was omitted and the time was spent visiting and receiving new members. The noonday meal was a bounteous one.

The afternoon program which started at 2 p. m., was short and appropriate. Frank W. Younkin, master of ceremonies, officiated; speaking by O. H. Younkin, F. E. Younkin, C. H. Younkin, "God Bless America" sung, "The Blue Angel" song, dancing by Lincoln Sisters, and music by Galuci Brothers orchestra followed by election of officers and adjournment. The balance of the day was spent in visiting, far too short, but ere we will meet again another year.

RETIRES AFTER FIFTY YEARS

Fifty years is a long time in any man's life—it was not too long for Mr. John Younkin of Riverside, Iowa. For fifty years he served as secretary of school district No. 1 in Washington County, Iowa, of which Washington is the county seat. He retired July 15th, 1938. See Bulletin of December 20, 1938, father and son hold same office for 90 years, the accompanying photo was taken in the Court House at Washington, Iowa, on the date he retired. He is being congratulated by the County Superintendent of Schools, Mr. L. H. Krabill, for his fifty years service the photo is a picture story in itself, the sincerity of Mr. Krabill in his handshake, the broad smile of Mr. Younkin, tell a real story of friendship much louder than words.

This father and son record of 80 years service in the same position is one that cannot be beaten and seldom if ever equalled.

Benton Younkin lives in Rockwood, Pa.

Recent Travels of Grover C. Younkin

Wichita, Kansas,
September 20, 1940.

Dear Cousin Charles:

I certainly thank you for the names and addresses of relatives, which were indeed a great help in locating good folks. I did succeed in calling on good folks and met some of the best people in the good old U.S.A. I know this sounds conceited, but I think the Younkins and their kin are really some of the very best.

I never gave a report before, but here's my first try. We left Wichita Saturday evening about 5 o'clock August 31st and headed west on Highway 54 toward Pratt, Dodge City, and Garden City, Kansas, on our way to the Rockies in Colorado.

Arrived in Dodge City about dark, where we ate our supper, thence drove on to Garden City, a distance of 217 miles north from Wichita. A change of time from Central to Mountain time gave us an hour. Well, we stayed Saturday night with Mrs. Mamie Prather and her daughter (Leva) Mrs. Gaye Smithe and family who live out of town about 3-4 mile and in a very nice home, and Charles, you should see some of Mamie's flowers. One Kansas sunflower had about 150 blooms, nice blossoms on it. Oh, by the way, I should tell you who were in our party—my mother-in-law, Mrs. Geo. Parr; my wife, Verna; son Paul, about 16, and our daughter, Ruth, 7 years of age.

We left Garden City Sunday forenoon and drove on into Colorado to Pueblo, where we met some more fine folks, Mrs. Reid, a sister of Dan Younkin, of Wakefield, Kans.; her daughter and family, Mrs. C. D. Harrel; her husband is connected with the police department. You see, we folks enforce the laws as well as help make them.

Then on to Canon City, Colo., and on out 8 or 10 miles in the mountains, where we saw the highest suspension bridge in the U. S., 1,058 feet above the Arkansas river bed. Down at the bottom of the canyon flow the headwaters of the Arkansas river, not large here of course. Also is the Grand Canyon Railroad. Ruth, Paul and I rode down to the bottom and back up in the cable cars. Not straight down but plenty steep. We stayed all night September 1st in Canon City, Colo., where I had a niece living. She and her husband certainly showed us around Monday and Tuesday. Monday we drove out to Manitou, a city, out through the Garden of the Gods (mountain scenery), Cave of the Winds—long drive over new highway, the Ranyard Range Road, from which coming back 25 or 30 miles up on the highway we saw Manitou and Colorado Springs in the valley in the distance, fine panorama view ended—Sept. 3rd. Tuesday, we took a trip up old Pikes Peak, a 20-mile or over climb. Elevation about 14,110 feet. We did not care to take this trip Monday, Labor Day, because amateurs have no business on that place, where speed fiends are breaking records, 50 to 65 miles per hour around short curves, called hair pin and switch back. Going up 10 to 20 miles per hour in low gear suited me better, just too far to the bottom of the old mountainsides. I would prefer to do an old fashioned dutch roll on a pair of ice skates myself. Occasionally, when climbing, I heard the women folks in the back seat say, "My—don't drive to close to the down edge of the road"—back seat drivers, ha! ha! So we climbed old Pikes Peak; not a bad climb any more, good road of course. There is a cog railroad. One can take that kind of a trip, or if not inclined to drive your own car, hire guides to drive your car, as well as explaining and pointing out lakes, points of historical interest and so on. One climbs above the timber line up beyond vegetation, even where we saw snow lying, in shaded places, between mountain peaks, etc. We also drove up South Cheyenne Canyon and saw the Seven Falls, where the author, Helen Jackson, received her inspiration to write "Romona" and other good works. At the bottom of the lower falls is a pool of fine rainbow mountain trout, in clear water, such a sight gives us fishing lovers the itch or fever to go a-fishing. Also near Colorado Springs is a fine zoo, where one can see nearly everything from a prairie dog, rattlesnake, up to polar bears, elephants, birds, eagles, etc.

Wednesday we drove up to Denver. I looked up and visited with John Henry Clay Younkin, who is with the Texaco Oil Co., occupying the ninth, tenth and eleventh floors in the University Building in the center of the business district of Denver (population 350,000). A fine man, 60 years old, his hair is greying, and his height and build are the same as that of yourself, Charles, or Tom Younkin of Waynesburg, Pa. His father, or rather his grandfather migrated from Pennsylvania to Ohio—to Texas years ago. We learn our father's grandparents and so forth were people who believed in and lived lives of Christian service, builders of communities, etc.

I had old friends in Denver so we saw quite a number of interesting places, State Museum, etc. Here the women folks went shopping and souvenir buying too. Friday we drove on to Boulder, Colo., where that afternoon, late, we visited Mrs. G. D. Kaye; her married daughter, Mrs. Helen K. Rohwer, and part of her family—more fine folks. Sure cool at nights, 50-60-70 degrees, so one gets up feeling like doing things, so Friday forenoon we headed into more mountains, into Colorado National Park, out to the west side, to see the grand lake; more long drives up along the timber line, up where we again saw snow, but to our regret none was close to the roadside. So Ruth, Paul and I could not have a good snowball fight. Five years ago only a few buildings were along the mountain lake. A dude ranch was one, and some interesting yarns are told on Easterners, who learn how to become cowboys and cowgirls. I mean no slam or hurt by this remark. You know we are kin so we stand together. We folks here, and back East, get the laugh on Western folks, too.

Today, Grand Lake is becoming much better, no tall pines are on its shores, boat landings are. You can either row in an ordinary boat, or rent a small motor, large size, or even sail the lake. Fine fishing, swimming, etc. The small town is near 600 inhabitants. Town lots cost $150 to $300 a lot. We retraced about 30 miles, then from Estes Park, thru Thompson Canyon, towering walls, about 700 to 800 feet high, good highway, a dashing mountain stream alongside. Drove on east to Loveland, Colo., thence 13 miles north to Fort Collins, Colo. Loveland, Greeley, Ft. Morgan, Colo., the people irrigate, bringing much of the irrigation water from the mountains. Country lays nice, I liked that part of Colorado. They raise many acres of sugar beets, some grain, dairying, fruit, potatoes, etc. Farther south around Rocky Ford, Lamar, La Junta and Los Animas, is quite a melon country and also for beets.

Saturday morning we headed home from Loveland on highway 34 toward Greeley, Ft. Morgan, Wray, Colo., into the southern corner of Nebraska. Ate dinner at Heighler, Nebr., thence south on into Kansas, east on Route 36, Lincoln Highway, about 200 miles south of Hayes, Kans., to Great Bend, Kans., where we stayed all night with J. K. Younkin. Drove home Sunday, Sept. 8th, afternoon, arriving home safe and sound, with many a thrill and laugh in eight days, covered 1,935 miles. Busy now again and children back in school again.

Please excuse this hit and miss letter and many mistakes. Sorry I am so late. Boys down here, in this part of Kansas, put me in as secretary of the Fifth district, and I have written about 135 cards, nine or ten letters, all by long hand, last four or five nights. We rural carriers and auxiliary will have a fine meeting next Saturday evening—only one this fall.

With very best wishes,

GROVER C. YOUNKIN.

Letter By

Mrs. G. D. Kaye

Boulder, Colo.,
9-21, 1940.

Mr. Chas. Younkin:
My dear sir:

Yours of 9-20-40 came to me and was pleased to note its contents, and am anxiously awaiting my copy of the P. N. B. I feel I could hardly spare the price of the complete set of the back numbers. In these days of uncertainty I find it necessary to watch. But my son from Alliance, Nebr., came to visit me and when he got into the meaning of it all, and became very much interested, so handed me a dollar bill to send for the complete set of back numbers, and I am delighted to think they will soon come to me. When he met Dr. Noble Younkin at Indianapolis this summer and was invited to go to the reunion, it did not come to him that he belonged to the clan, and was very much chagrined when he found out, or rather it came to him, that he did, for he found the doctor to be a fine fellow. All my friends to whom I have mentioned the facts of the family organization think it is a most wonderful idea carried to the extent you have it.

I am glad to know all things have been in having a fine time August 18 and hope there may be many more.

Yes, Mr. Grover Younkin of Wichita called to see me. It was such a complete surprise to me and his stay so short. I felt the impression was not first class. However, I was honored anyway to have him call. I find that a near neighbor of my son at Alliance is a member of the family, name is Glen and a farmer, cattleman.

Sincerely,

MRS. G. D. KAYE,
1445 Pine St.,
Boulder, Colo.

Letter By

Mamie Y. Prather

Garden City, Kans.,
August 1, 1940.

Dear relative:

I was certainly pleased to receive your two (2) letters and to know that you had come out of your sick lethargy with renewed energy and determination to press onward with the great work you have been doing the past few years. I know the many, many Younkins in America have been helped by receiving the family paper and attending the different home comings, getting their ambitions renewed by learning and having impressed on them what our pioneering ancestors stood for and the priceless heritage they left for us.

Speeches by such as P. E. Younkin create a new desire to be loyal to the principles for which they fought and awakens the inborn desire to cultivate and maintain them forever. Critics that knock only drive in nails to strengthen and hold us together. Don't let them annoy you in any way.

At present writing I do not expect to be at the National Home Coming this year. I will be there in spirit, hoping for a great crowd, a great day and good time for all. We are all well so far as I know, and best of all everybody is busy—"no summer slump."

I am planning to go West soon and will meet as many Younkins as possible and will work for your success all along the line.

Read this at home-coming or publish in paper. Use your own judgment.

Greetings and love to all.

MAMIE Y. PRATHER,
Box 336, Garden City, Kansas.

Mrs. A. D. Soisson Chosen President Of Missionary Society

Jan. 4. — At its first meeting of the new year Thursday afternoon, the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Christian Church elected Mrs. A. D. Soisson president and Mrs. M. R. Younklin, vice-president. Other officers will continue to serve. The meeting was held at the church parlor and was unusually well attended, despite the inclement weather.

Mrs. M. R. Younklin conducted the devotionals and Mrs. J. Frank Rust had charge of the program, the subject being "The World Need for Peace." Rev. Merrill L. Cadwell, church pastor, was guest speaker. He gave a fine talk on "Missions." Mrs. J. D. Mortimer presented a splendid paper on "I Cannot Go to Far Off Land" and Mrs. Soisson, who presided, closed the meeting with a prayer of faith.

The society will have charge of the brotherhood dinner Wednesday evening, January 17, at the social room of the church. Mrs. Soisson appointed Mrs. W. H. Berger, Mrs. Earl C. Gibbons and Mrs. Jesse Barnes a committee in charge. The dinner is for all members of the church.

Hostesses, Mrs. J. B. Kerns and Mrs. George Freeman, served a tasty lunch.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all of those who were so kind to us in our recent bereavement, and to those who gave so many beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. John H. Younklin and sons, Sam and Alfred Younklin. Riverside, Iowa.

MEDIUMS!! Cast Not Your Pearls . . .

LILLY DALE, N. Y., Mar. 10. — In the article below, Mr. Younklin, a man of "letters" and one of Spiritualism's outstanding scientists, outlines several suggestions which he feels that mediums in all parts of the country should follow. He says:

"If I Were a Medium—I Would—"

1. NOT demonstrate my Divine Gift of mediumship in the presence of scoffers.

2. NOT go out of my way to attempt to give spiritual help to those who just WOULD not receive the TRUTH; but only to those who seek comfort and the knowledge that their loved ones are with them—ALWAYS.

3. Suggest to my guides, teachers and spirit helpers that they manifest through me ONLY to give joy and gladness to those who grieve and those who are weary and heavy-laden.

4. Make every effort to help those who are poor and discouraged.

5. Acquiesce and lend spirit guidance to the pious and overlaid with worldly goods ONLY if such people gave me ample proof that they desired to be HUMBLE.

6. NOT tolerate the least disrespect of the GREAT SPIRIT nor would I allow anyone to cast aspersions toward my chosen mission as a message bearer. (Does not the GREAT SPIRIT send forth a comforter to those who receive TRUTH as tidings of great joy—Ignorance excepted.)

7. Give a short instructive and explanatory talk before opening my seance so that the "uninformed" would have some idea as to what type of phenomena to expect.

8. Exact proper behavior and admonish the sitters not to interfere while manifestations are taking place.

9. Point out the dangers a medium encounters when the sitters indulges in mental or physical overt acts.

10. Give scientific reasons for the phenomena or have someone present who is competent to present this information.

All of the above suggestions are given to the medium in all sincerity because I have found, after years of careful investigation and study of psychic science, that mediums subject themselves to great risks by the unnecessary neglect to their own well being by ignoring the importance of implicit instructions to the sitters before the seance begins.

I have always said and still say that "scoffers" should be asked to leave the circle. Did not Jesus of Nazareth request those of no faith to leave? Verily, where the Spirit manifests—is a HOLY PLACE.

This force — Natural Law — is both centripetal and centrifugal—both positive and negative—both good and evil; yet can be used wholly for advancement and benefit, leaving the evil in an innocuous and non-existent state until it is again potentiated by an untrue act of will.

This untrue act of will subverts natural law and brings about destruction upon ourselves and others, both physical and spiritual—thus delaying unfoldment both on the physical and spiritual planes.

There is but one natural law, but having a diversity of properties covering everything and omitting nothing.

This natural law when "tuned-in" for physical phenomena, as trumpet and materialization and levitation exuding from the medium, is analogous to a broad band of rubber—as for example—eight inches wide and one-half inch thick and six feet long, stretched to, say, thirty feet, and then let go at once into the medium, thus causing serious injury or bodily death, if during a seance a short circuit is made—such as a sudden flash of light, or physical interference, such as a malicious assault upon Materialized Spirit bodies or levitated objects.

The above act causes a solution of continuity of this force, and a rebound — a lightning-flash rebound back through the medium, and thence, from whence it came—Great Spirit, its source.

Funeral Held For Boy Drowned In Laurel Hill Creek

CONFLUENCE, April 8.—The funeral service for Harry F. McCullough, nine, of Ursina, who was drowned a week ago in the flooded Laurel Hill creek near his home, was held this afternoon at the Ursina Church of God. Rev. H. H. Hull officiated. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

The boy's body was found in the Casselman River, near the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad bridge, having been carried downstream a distance of nearly nine miles.

Mrs. Ina Belle (Younklin) Weisse, deceased (obituary).

Manhattan, Kan., August 10, 1940.

Dear Mr. Younklin:

My mother, Mrs. Henry Wiese (Ina Belle Younklin), passed away suddenly early this morning as the result of a heart attack at her home at 801 Laramie, Manhattan, Kansas. She was born at Wakefield, Kansas, on October 6, 1869, the daughter of William and Ruth Younklin. She was married to Henry Wiese in Wakefield on March 9, 1892. She is survived by her husband and five children: William H. Wiese and August Howard Wiese, Wakefield; Clara Edith Wiese, Denver; Mrs. R. H. Helvey, Mankato; and Mrs. J. W. Scheel, Manhattan. Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. N. P. Gleason, Cottage Grove, Oregon, and a half-brother, Jesse Younklin, Wakefield.

MRS. ADA (WIESE) SCHEEL.

COMMERCE DINNER AT COUNTRY CLUB THURSDAY NIGHT

Dr. Wunder, Meeting Community for First Time, Will Give Reports on Visit to Washington This Week.

2-MINUTE TALKS LISTED

Connellsville, Pa., June 29, 1940.—A complete report of the activities of the Chamber of Commerce since it began its first fiscal year in February; an up-to-the-minute review of the relationship of the Chamber and the Government's national defense plans, together with a symposium of "Connellsville, a Natural and Logical Center for War Industry and Peace Time Manufacturing" will feature the dinner to be held at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening at Pleasant Valley Country Club.

Nine two-minute speakers will participate in the symposium.

Dr. Clinton Wunder, executive secretary, will be formally presented to the community and talk on "Connellsville's Tomorrow."

The executive secretary is in Washington today completing conferences with Government officials relative to using some of the facilities of this community in connection with war industries. He will be able to bring last-word reports of those meetings.

Mayor Ira D. Younkin will be honorary chairman of the dinner and introduce J. V. Solson, Chamber president, who in turn will present Judge Ross S. Matthews, toastmaster.

The dinner is somewhat different in type than any similar event ever arranged. It has been made low-cost so that it will be attended by a capacity crowd. Every indication this morning was for a sell-out.

Sidelights and Comment on Happenings Here and There

Younkins Come From Afar

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 10.—Of the numerous family reunions which run through the summer season in ever increasing numbers, that of the Younkins is one of the few which take on a national scale. It is held each year in the Odd Fellows Grove near Kingwood, Somerset county, attracting around 1,500 persons annually. According to Attorney Fred E. Younkin of this city who has been vice-president since the organization was formed, they come all the way from California and Maine.

The association has a national printed bulletin, prepared by Secretary Charles A. Younkin of Charleroi, a brother of our Mayor Ira D. Other officers are: President, Otto R. Younkin of Masontown; treasurer, Milton Bruce Younkin of Rockwood; assistant secretary, Mrs. Nellie Wiley of California, Pa. The usual big gathering is anticipated for the reunion August 18.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., June 24.—Miss Grace Younkin of West Peach street visited Monday evening with Miss Thelma Wheeler at Brownsville, returning here Tuesday.

March 22—Harry A. Kingley, L. Dale Johnson, Jr., Robert Younkin, students at Washington and Jefferson College at Washington, Pa., are spending the Easter holidays at their respective homes.

May 16—Mayor and Mrs. Ira D. Younkin and daughter, Miss Grace of West Peach street, went to Frederick, Md., this week-end to attend the graduation exercises at Hood College. A daughter, Miss Ann Younkin is a member of the graduating class.

April 30—Mrs. Glenn Younkins of Highland avenue visited Sunday with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Santore, at Uniontown.

February 22—Connellsville High School—Claire Vernon, chairman of the program committee in Junior Homeroom 39, arranged a program on good manners for Tuesday's homeroom period. Younkin Family Reunion

JUNCTION CITY, Kan., May 27—

The Kansas Younkin family reunion was held Saturday, May 25, at Junction City in the Municipal Building. Registration was held from 10 until noon. The Rev. M. Tannehill of the Younkin family delivered the noon blessing, after which a bounteous basket lunch was served.

The afternoon program was as follows. Opening address of the Master of Ceremonies, Walter Younkin, of Junction City, followed by an address of welcome by Mayor Eli Trosper. Next was an address by Dr. Noble Younkin of Decatur, Ind., who has traveled to foreign countries and done much research work. He also spoke in Pennsylvania Dutch, which originally was the native tongue of the Younkins.

Mrs. Ella Price, who was the first white child in Ft. Riley, Mr. Grover Younkin of Wichita, who is state president, and Mr. Myers of Junction City, each gave short talks. George Parr, father-in-law of Grover Younkin, of Wichita, and Ed Liston of Junction City spoke a few words followed by a talk by Mamie Younkin Prather of Garden City. Dr. Noble Younkin said a few words about the family newspaper.

James Younkin of Junction City gave a short address followed by special music by his grand-daughter, Norma Gene Younkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Younkin of this city, who boast the youngest Kansas Younkin, a four-weeks-old child. It was voted to send a word of greeting to William Younkin of British Columbia, Canada, and to Robert Younkin of Wakefield, who are two of the near descendants of Moses Younkin and who were unable to attend the reunion. Mrs. Catherine Elias, of Oregon, a daughter of Moses Younkin and the first white child born in Clay county was also remembered. It was voted to have the reunion next year as near the last Sunday in May as possible and to have it on a Sunday. Also to keep the same committees for next year.

Among those present were: Lawrence Younkin, Walter Younkin, Clarence Myers, Edgar Myers, Charles Ronesberg, Mrs. Ben Kerby of Junction City; Dan Younkin, Ed Hannah, Alek Paidley, Ray Gingrich, B. A. Out-of-Town Couple Married In Local Christian Church

CHARLEROI, Pa., Mar. 25.—An out-of-town couple motored here from the Johnstown district Saturday afternoon to be married by the Rev. Byron R. Mahan, pastor of First Christian Church.

The ceremony was solemnized at four o'clock in the local church with Virginia Younkins, of Central City, becoming the bride of Kenneth Shaw, of Gettysburg. Attendees were the bride's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Younkins of Johnstown.

After a brief wedding trip the couple will reside in Johnstown. Rev. Mahan formerly served as pastor of the Christian church in Central City.

CHARLEROI, Pa., Aug. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Jay Younkin, of Russellville, Ind., and Mrs. Sylvia Johns and son Gerald of Flora, Ind., visited over Sunday with their cousin, Mrs. Loretta Shepard and the Charles Younkin family of Fifth street extension. U. S. Marine Band Scheduled To Play In Connellsville In Sept.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 25—

The long and distinguished history of the United States Marine Band all but parallels that of the Federal Government itself. In September the band will tour 30 cities with a program of popular and classical music tuned to stir the patriotism of the large audiences which greet Capt. Wm. P. Santelmann in every city visited. This year the only stop between eastern Pennsylvania and Cleveland, Ohio, will be in Connellsville, Pennsylvania, on Tuesday, September 17.

That afternoon the Band will play a special matinee for school children and high school students and parents. Mayor Ira Younkin will greet the bandmen who will parade through the streets. A second concert will be played at 8 o'clock that night.

The Marine Band has played at every inaugural ceremony since that of Thomas Jefferson. It has performed for all White House weddings and entertains visiting royalty and foreign dignitaries who visit the national capital. This band has beat the tempo of the American heart for nearly 150 years, in times of peace as well as in times of war. Its scarlet and blue uniforms have become familiar to millions of Americans. The great Sousa was once its leader.

The Connellsville Concert is under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and will be played in the Campbell Field Stadium of that city.

Effie Kooser Is Wed to A. N. Lyberger, Former Ohio Man, at Church Ceremony

Charming simplicity marked the marriage of Mrs. Effie Kooser, daughter of E. C. Henry of Snyder street, and A. N. Lyberger, also of this city, which took place at 8:30 o'clock this morning at the First United Brethren Church in Lincoln avenue. Rev. Elmer A. Shultz, pastor, performed the ceremony. There were no attendants.

Miss Kathleen Barnes, niece of the bride, played the nuptial music, using Wagner's wedding march from "Lohengrin" as the processional. During the exchange of marriage vows Miss Barnes played softly "O Promise Me" and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," and immediately afterward Mendelssohn's wedding march from "Midsummer Night's Dream."

The bride wore a navy blue suit with white accessories, and a shoulder corsage of American Beauty roses and baby white carnations.

Mrs. Lyberger is well known in Connellsville, having been a clerk on the main floor of the Trostman Company store for thirteen years. Her fellow employees presented her with a lovely lace table cloth.

Mr. Lyberger is a former conductor on the New York Central Railroad and was residing at Elyria, Ohio, at the time of his retirement.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a wedding trip to Boston and Plymouth, Mass. They will return by the way of Buffalo, and New York City and will be at home after July 1 at Poplar Grove.

David F. Younkin Died Monday April 30, 1941

DAVID F. YOUNKIN

MEYERSDALE, Apr. 30.—David F. Younkin, a native of Meyersdale, died Monday afternoon in a Johnstown hospital on his 67th birthday anniversary. He had lived with two sons on the Somerset pike.

He was born here in 1874, one of 11 children, and was engaged in civil and mining engineering until 1904 when he entered the Lorain Steel Company engineering department. Surviving are three sons, three brothers and one sister.

The funeral service will be held Thursday morning.

DAVID FRANK YOUNKIN

It is both with a feeling of grief and with a sense of the distinct loss involved that we report the death on April 28th, of David Frank Younkin of Johnstown, Pa., who expired in Memorial Hospital in that city on the afternoon of his 67th birthday after suffering severely since Good Friday of a complication of gall bladder and liver disturbances.

David Frank Younkin will be remembered to many of the members of the Younkin family group because of his enthusiasm in the researches of the group, but he was never one of the publicly active individuals in family historical research. Conservative and retiring by nature, he preferred to permit the publicity to go to others better suited by nature to conduct the public contacts, while he took pleasure in meeting in program committees and informal gatherings. At the reunion he could be found circulating widely among his host of acquaintances. He was faithful and liberal in his financial support.

He was born on a farm near Meyersdale, Pa. on April 24, 1874, the fourth child of Elias V. and Emma Jane (Hornor) Younkin, and grew to manhood in Meyersdale-Stockwood area. He was one of a family of eleven, being preceded to the grave by one sister and five brothers, also his father and mother. Surviving him in his own family are a sister, Mrs. C. W. Ferner of Washington, D. C., and three brothers, Roy E. of Erie, Pa., Henry C. of Meyersdale and Charles H. of Norfolk, Virginia.

David Younkin was married on December 21, 1901 to Margaretta (Krisinger) daughter of Geo. W. and Mary (King) Krisinger of Erie, Pa., and was preceded in death by his wife by six years, she having expired in the same hospital March 23, 1935. To this union were born three sons, Frank W., Charles E. and the former of whom Mr. Younkin made his home, of Hollisville, Pa., R. D. 1, in what amounts now to San Johnstown. His further survivors include five grandchildren, two aged uncles, Benton and Fremont Younkin, whose pictures and biography appeared in the Younkin Family News last summer, and an aged uncle, Milton C. Glorner of Meyersdale, a brother of his mother.

David Younkin was usually regarded as a Johnstown, having made his home there for the past thirty-five years, his children all being born there and reared in the Johnstown schools. He started to work in 1905 for The Lorain Steel

Passes Away in Her 89th Year At Her Home

NANCY Y. FORSYTHE

Jan. 21, 1941.—Mrs. Nancy Younkin Forsythe, 89 years old, died at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at her home along the Connellsville-Vanderbilt road, of complications.

Mrs. Forsythe was born near Ursina, Somerset county, a daughter of the late John H. and Lucinda Switzer Younkin. In 1874 she joined the Turkeyfoot Baptist Church but of late years had been a member of the First Baptist Church of Connellsville. On October 7, 1879, she was united in marriage with John C. Forsythe who preceded her in death October 5, 1933. The couple celebrated their golden wedding anniversary October 7, 1929. Mrs. Forsythe had the distinction of being the oldest member of the Magic Sisters Council of the Daughters of America.

Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. Carole Forsythe Earle at home. She also leaves a grandson, Elmore Browne of New Kensington, two great grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Minnie Meyers of New Bloomfield, Pa.

The funeral service will be held at the home at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. Burial will be made in Hill Grove Cemetery. Friends are asked to please omit flowers.

Company, later Carnegie-Illinois, as a draftsman, and worked at this line of endeavor for thirty-five years, retiring in 1940 from his last position of Foreman of the lay-out floor. Upon the death of his wife in 1935, he gave up the large home in Johnstown and moved about eight miles out of the city with his two sons John and Charles.

Early in life David Younkin had united with the Brethren Church, his funeral service, however, being conducted by Rev. C. W. Raley, of the Centennial Evangelical Church, pastor of the children with whom Mr. Younkin made his home. His retiring nature again showed to the fore in his reticence toward joining fraternal and such other organizations; excepting only the Veterans Employees' Association of the steel works by whom he was employed, the Younkin Family Association was the only organization to which he subscribed or in which he was ever interested.

Only self-trained and yet far more than usually skillful in many of the familiar lines of applied mechanics, David Younkin practiced civil and mining engineering, surveying, brick-making and farming; he also was adept at steam fitting, electric wiring, framing carpentry, cabinet-making and plumbing, having built several houses in their entirety from the ground up. His interest in local geography was on a par with his interest in early history and the Younkin family derivation, and he possessed valuable maps of the greater part of Western Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia, certain good portions of which he had at one time or another surveyed or scouted on foot. He was regarded as an authority work in 1905 for The Lorain Steel

John M. Younker Dies in Hospital At Uniontown

JOHN M. YOUNKER

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus W. Younkin and daughter, of Paris, Tenn., made a short visit to Maabtown and California, Pa., friends a short time ago.

IS YOUNKER, "YOUNKIN?"

In this issue of the Bulletin there is an obituary and photo of one John P. Younker. The news that has been gathered to date of the Younkens is that they are descendants of a very old Pennsylvania Dutch family. It is possible that they are Younkens who still retain the old way of spelling? It is very true that the name Younkin has gone through many variations of spelling through the generations such as Youker, Yunker, Youkin, Yuncan, Jonker, Junker, Younk and many others. Present day spelling has as many variations as that of years gone by. Is it still possible that Younker is Younkin? Who knows?

Letter By D. G. Younkin
Mess Arizona, April 10th, 1941
Charles A. Younkin, Secretary of The Younkin Family Association;
My Dear Secretary:

In days such as now face us it is vital that we take an impartial inventory of ourselves and our public accounts in order that we may discover who is responsible for the conditions which are, or are about to be forced upon us; we should try to understand the conditions which may have driven us to the brink of disaster.

Perhaps we ourselves have not been loathly alive to the possibility that old world conflicts and alien philosophies have all but engulfed us in the century, in making abroad; perhaps many of our leaders have been both to accept at its face value the threat which since 1913 has been repeatedly hurled at Aids, from peoples that "discontented democracies" are incapable of prompt and decisive action and are therefore unfit to continue in "the new world order!"

I do not know the answer; what I do believe is that REWARDLESS OF WHAT TRIES ANSWER IS the fact exists that the way of democratic life has been challenged and regardless of who of us is to blame, if any of us the challenge must be met in SOME way.

I doubt whether ANY leader regardless of his wisdom or foresight could have avoided the challenge and it now becomes our duty, of Wellman, Mrs. Ruth Schoenfeld, of Iowa City, Mrs. Dorothy Sefourek, of California, and Mrs. Elsie Wieland, Mrs. Maude Gray and Mrs. Ethel Noble, all of near Riverside; three sons, Oran, Lloyd and Marion, and 21 grandchildren. Mrs. Thompson was a Gold Star mother, a son, Harry, having died in the World war. She was president of the American Legion auxiliary and a member of the ladies' aid of the Methodist church. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

We have been informed that the boys now in camps or soon to be called may fairly ask whether a people so mercenary deserve the service which THEY are being called upon to make.

Letter By Helen B. Younklin

San Diego, Calif.
May 3, 1911

Dear Mr. Younklin—
I am so sorry your letter of early April was delayed in reaching me. Through some error of the post office—according to note on the envelope—it was mislaid to Long Beach, and I was neither there nor in San Diego, but again in a few days, but still keep my permanent address as 2137 Grand Ave., San Diego.

Am sorry I do not have any news of interest for your Bulletin.
My brother Will was born January 2, 1856.

Cordially yours,
Helen B. Younklin.

Letter From Mrs. Anna Younklin

Riverside, Iowa.
Oct. 31, 1910

Mr. Younklin,
Dear Friend:

Your letter and Family Paper rec'd., and am more than pleased the way you wrote up the piece of my late husband. The photo was sweet. Everything is fine in your little paper and every item should be read and taken to heart. The Younklin family are sure a long life people. Uncle George Younklin of Mason City is OK as far as we know. Was sorry not to see in print an account of our reunion of Aug. 14. I suppose during your sickness I was mislaid. Better luck next time. I gave a birthday party for my boy Glenn who was 27 years old Oct. 22nd. Corn husking is the chief occupation at present, and Iowa came in 2nd for the National corn husking contest at Davenport, Iowa is where the tall corn grows. I wish you all the success the world can give and many thanks for what you have already done.

As Ever a Friend,
Mrs. Anna B. Younklin,

Chas. A. Younklin,
Box 170,
Charleroi, Pa.
My dear Friend:

In reply to yours of the 26th that statement of yours that unless some miracle happens the present issue of the News Bulletin will be the last ever to be published strikes me with some pain and much concern.

I hate to see the little paper write its valedictory so soon, and would be willing to have it go on its way for a long time to come, giving news of the Younklin people, bits of interest, history of its branches, personnel of its migrations, wanderings of its families, chronology, family trees, its nomenclature and centennials, its hopes and fears, trades and professions, settlements and rhodes, pioneering and wanderings, births and deaths, successes and failures, joys and sorrows, of the ancient family generally, and the different members of the family of Younklin blood in particular.

The Bulletin has been the means of holding together the parts of the whole, and cementing the individuals of the tribe called Younklin into one entity. In union there is strength. I have for some time had a vision that sometime along the way a talented Younklin would rise up and with journalistic instinct, and true writer skill write a history of the whole Family since coming to America, or in other words—make a substantial contribution to genealogy by emphasizing our Younklin people, their common and particular gifts to the building of these United States from their earliest landing on these shores to the present time.

One way to accentuate and interest would be to classify the individuals as to trades and professions and especially name the several contributions material, mental, spiritual, social, made by them to the erection of our common country.

You personally are to be commended for the part you have played in this Editorship of the Bulletin, as well as other favorable and worthy things you have done and

LETTER FROM MAMIE Y. PRATHER

309 1/2 Bernicia Road, Vallejo, Cal.
March 5

Dear Relative:
Breaking a long silence, I will attempt to give you the highlights of my journey to this point.

My journey westward was very delightful, weather was perfect, scenery was wonderful and experiences were enough varied to keep one interested all the time.

Coming west of Prescott, Arizona, we were 8,000 feet above sea level on a very mountainous highway. We took 2,000 curves in 14 miles. Then came down 1,100 feet in one mile. I arrived in Pomona, Cal. 26 hours after we left Garden City, Kans. I enjoyed a wonderful visit to my brother H. A. Younklin's home in Pomona and with his children's families, who live near. All of whom are typical progressive citizens and alive in all enjoyments of life. I enjoyed them greatly. Met and enjoyed many relatives of the maternal side of my home and then on to Los Angeles where I was entertained in Stephen and Margarette Schmitt home. Edna Schmitt is my oldest brother's child.

My one great disappointment was the fact that I found a disconnected generation of my own family. They have lost themselves to each other. A great many Younklin families here are enjoying reunions of close relatives but it would require time and apparently time to organize a state meeting in California.

While in Los Angeles I had my first experience with an earthquake. Italy season was a reality here this year. Everyone says the sun bled pale for a chance here now to shine for awhile. (I truly hope so) I am enjoying travel, scenery, flowers galore, also have had some very outstanding pleasures while here, and truly hope rain will come for awhile so that I may enjoy many more lovely times and meet many of the Younklin clan.

Respectfully,
Mamie Younklin Prather,

LETTER FROM MRS. ANITA L. EYSTER

Philadelphia, Pa., April 10, 1911

Dear Mr. Younklin,
I have received your letter and I am certainly sorry to hear that you are laid up. I am afraid you have always worked too hard. Undoubtedly you have done a tremendous amount in getting up the whole Younklin history as you have. I wish I had something that could be of use to you in the News Bulletin but I know of nothing that would help.

Of course my personal interest in the family starts with the death of my great-grandfather's wife, Elizabeth Younklin, in 1811. I covered pretty well the Bucks County families and have done nothing further on them. The Peter Younklin line is, I am sure, no connection.

I hope you are working in some other member of the line to be your assistant. My activities in the past few years have been largely in lines far removed and not often amongst the German element. Really genealogical work is very slow at present and when I have no very active clients I busy myself with research in Philadelphia and nearby. I live very quietly since my children are all married and out of the city but I have a comfortable house and few cares and I take life easy and try to view approaching old age with equanimity. In other words, I am resting on my laurels and perhaps that is what you should be doing too.

I wish you every success with the next number of the Bulletin and if it were possible would gladly be of help to you.

With kind regards, believe me very sincerely yours, accomplished for the Association in the pursuance of your several duties.
Anita L. Eyster.

Any one who does this work must do it for the love of the game, and not to profit financially—but must give himself unreservedly to the task and spirit.

Herewith find my check account of expenses getting out the next issue of the paper, and for the general fund of the society.

With kindest personal regards,
I am,
Very truly yours,
Fred E. Younklin.

CONTRIBUTED BY J. K. YOUNKLIN

Great Bend, Kansas.

St. Louis, Mo., July 31, 1878.

Dear Sir and Relative: Your letter of the 29th is before me. Glad to hear from the Younklin blood. I do not know that I can trace the pedigree sufficiently to give our place and relationship in the stock, but evidently we are from the same family originally. There are none of the name in the United States but what are related in some way.

I understand that originally there were three brothers who either came from Germany or whose father came from there and located, I think, in Clarke County, Pennsylvania. From there across a large progeny, mostly settling in Somerset County, Pennsylvania. My father's name is Jonas who practiced medicine in Somerset County for 25 years and in 1859 moved to Illinois—there in Iowa. He had seven sons and ten daughters, the same number old John had. I do not remember his father's name. I have heard him speak of Uncle Frederick and in fact I think I have seen him. I know I have been on his farm, in Turkeyfoot township, Somerset County, Pa. I have often heard him speak of Samuel. My father is yet living near Iowa City, Iowa. I have five brothers living in the west. I am the fifth son and am now 40 years old. My brothers' names are: Frank, Archibald, Walter (deceased) Alexander, Edwin and Austin. My family name departed from the original. I remember of Jacob, Samuel, Isaac, Dan and John, etc. I have found several of the name in the west, one family in Washington County, Iowa, a cousin; a family in Marion County, Ill.

I have been practicing medicine for 17 years, am professor of surgery in the American Medical College of St. Louis. Mo. Isaac Younklin, a cousin of mine, moved some years ago, to Indiana. I think I think I remember his sons pretty well. Would be glad to hear from you again. Set it down that we are of same stock. I send you a copy of Guide to Sichuan, also a catalogue of our college.

Write again.
Yours Respectfully,

Mayor Urges Attendance At Churches

CONNELLVILLE, PA.,
Jan. 13, 1911

Mayor Ira D. Younklin today called upon the citizens of Connellville to join the observance of Universal Week of Prayer, being marked by Protestant churches.

"The need of our day seems to call for a greater emphasis upon spiritual values and high moral principles," the Mayor said, urging attendance at the several churches where services will be conducted during the week. Each church is conducting its own meetings with guest speakers.

In his proclamation, Mayor Younklin urged the attention of the citizens in the week of Prayer and the union preaching mission that will be held from January 13 to 17 at Trinity Lutheran Church with Rev. Dr. M. V. Hunsicker of Greensburg as the speaker.

In his announcement, the Mayor implied his interest in the welfare of all Christian institutions and his feeling that they should have the loyal support of all people by saying "none of us would want to live in a community where there were no churches."

The proclamation follows: "Whereas, it has become customary to set aside certain weeks of special emphasis honoring worthwhile causes and institutions within the community life; and

"Whereas, the need of our day seems to call for a greater emphasis upon spiritual values and high moral principles; and

"Whereas, the Christian church through the centuries has been the chief exponent of moral and spiritual ideals; and

"Whereas, the Connellville Ministerial Association has arranged for a series of services at the several churches during the Universal Week of Prayer observance and for the union preaching mission at Trinity Lutheran Church the week of January 13 to 17;

"Therefore, he is known to all persons to whom these findings are presented that I, Ira D. Younklin, Mayor of the City of Connellville, County of Fayette and Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby during the week of January 13 to 17, inclusive, as a week of Christian observance during the observance of Universal Week of Prayer, and affectionately urge all people to render to the designated places of worship and there in a spirit of brotherly and brotherhood seek to know the Will of Almighty God for our individual and collective life."

LITTLE PATCH OF BLUE

Sometimes when the rain keeps falling

An' the road seems mighty rough

And you just can't help a thinking

That this life is pretty tough.

Just you smile and keep a lookin'

What I'm telling you is true,

Somewhere people through the rain clouds

There's a little patch of blue.

Taint no use to keep a frettin'

Full of shadows, fears and doubts,

Each patch leadin' into trouble,

Is a path that's leadin' out.

If you face it bravely smilin'

Yes—I know it's hard to do,

But you'll surely find that somewhere

There's a little patch of blue.

Someone has to keep a smilin'

An' a singin' don't you see?

For if everyone looked gloomy,

What a place this world would be!

Sure! you've had a heap o' trouble

And I've had some too;

But we'll find if we keep smilin' God's own little patch of blue.

LEND-LEASE BILL

Editor, The Courier:

As a student of law and government, I am anxious about the Lend-Lease Bill written by the United States treasurer and now before Congress for the reason that it would give the President, or any successor, power to wage economic as well as military war against any nation he may select, anywhere on the face of the globe, without limitation as to time, money or the materials disposed of. He could attack any nation. He could arm Russia, or any nation. He could give the entire Navy, or any part of it, to any foreign power, as he has already done in the case of the 50 destroyers.

The number of the bill is 177. It is ironic to say the least in suggesting the year of 1776, one man would have the power to commit the American people to any war anywhere, secretly and without action by Congress. This is certainly one man rule carried to the highest degree.

All who have not read it should behold the editorial in the Saturday Evening Post of February 15, 1941, "Behold! The Brass Serpent."

The power given to the President in this bill is far greater than that given Winston Churchill, the premier of England, which country is now at war, and our country is not. England is a beleaguered fortress, fighting for her life. Mr. Churchill can be stripped of his powers over night, by a lack of confidence vote in the House of Commons. The President is checked on, by being frequently called in person before the House of Commons, questioned, and held accountable for what he is doing with the grant of powers, and certainly our President should be held to the same degree of accountability.

Of course, we all want to give aid to Britain, and there is no doubt on that point, but in order to help Britain we must transform this country into a personal totalitarian dictatorship, such as England at war would not stand for one moment. That price is too high to pay.

As a student of constitutional government, we must beware, or we will destroy constitutional government in this country, and we are wholly unprepared for a foreign war.

Congress should not shirk its constitutional duty to make a choice between war and peace, by placing that decision in the hands of one man. Look out or we are sweeping American free government for dictatorship, as we know that England will not tolerate exchanging British free government for dictatorship.

Under the lend-lease bill, that is precisely what Congress is asked to do, and once this power is placed in the hands of the Chief Executive, it will be practically impossible of taking it away from that office.

We want fullest possible aid to Great Britain in tools, equipment, financial and moral support, but we must not be required to destroy our own Constitution and set up a dictatorship here.

We earnestly urge you to tell your readers to demand of your representatives in Congress, J. Duell Snyder, congressman, James J. Davis and Joseph P. Guffey, senators, that this bill should be altered or amended, and if it is better, then the Connally amendment and the Dinkens amendment should be made a part of the lend-lease bill. It should be in line with common sense that the President should be required, personally or by a member of his Cabinet, to explain to Congress at any time at the request of 25 per cent of the members of either House, the use he is making of his powers.

This is our fight, for ourselves, our families and associates, and we are now in a hot spot in deciding whether or not these vast powers should be delegated to our President.

Should Mr. Roosevelt be entrusted with greater powers than Washington or Lincoln ever had? Why should he be entrusted with powers denied to Winston Churchill, premier of England?

HARTZELL REUNION, SUN. AUG. 10, 1941

Dear Clansman:

The National Association of Hartzells in America invite you and your family to attend and participate in its sixteenth annual reunion. We believe this year's program will hold greater interest for you than those of previous years. The success of the Association depends on the interest you manifest in the reunion each year. May we urge you to attend and participate actively in the discussions which come before the meeting.

WHERE: PERKASIE PARK, PERKASIE, Bucks Co., Pa.
WHEN: SUNDAY, AUGUST 10, 1941, 12:30 p.m. (D.S.T.)

FEATURES:

This will be a combination Luncheon and Reunion, with plenty of entertainment and plenty of time for fellowship. Your reservation must be made so that it will be in the possession of our Recording Secretary not later than FRIDAY, AUGUST 1ST. Addressed envelope enclosed for your convenience.

YOUR PART:

In order that the Hartzells of America may continue to hold their annual reunion with success the Executive Committee asks you to lend your support by enclosing at least one dollar with the blank at the bottom of this sheet in the enclosed envelope, which will help to place your Association in a sound financial position and will insure you a copy of the Annual Bulletin which will be mailed to every contributor who is unable to attend the reunion. This bulletin is devoted exclusively to news about the Hartzells in America; the history, genealogy and present activities. Also, mail with this contribution, any and all information, current as well as past, of the Hartzells in your immediate family as well as in the community, to the Recording Secretary, Miss Sarah M. Hartzell, Box 17, Enston, Penna.

May we urge you to attend this reunion of the Hartzells in America. Its value will depend on the extent to which you make use of the opportunities we are able to offer. We are looking forward to your presence.

Brownsville Girl Bride At Candlelight Service

Nov. 27, 1940
At a candlelight wedding Wednesday evening at the Central Presbyterian Church of Brownsville, Miss Ethel Louise Wheeler daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Wheeler of West Brownsville, became the bride of Al Lloyd Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Graham of Waynesburg. Rev. E. L. Stehman read the service and Miss Eleanor John presided at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white tulle gown and a finger tip veil which fell from a Juliet cap. She carried a nosegay of gardenias, white roses and baby breath.

Mrs. J. Park Williams was her sister's matron of honor.

Dr. Charles F. Graham of Pittsburg served as his brother's best man. Unkles were Nelson Wheeler, brother of the bride, and Harold Graham of Waynesboro, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception supplemented the ceremony.

The bride has been employed in the office of the Greenburg Gas Company and the bridegroom is an engineer for the same company. Miss Grace Younklin of this city was among the guests at the wedding.

Confluence Man Drops Dead After Fighting Flames in Restaurant

Special to The Courier.

CONFLUENCE, PA., Oct. 11, 1940—A heart attack, superinduced by over exertion and near suffocation caused the death of Albert Younklin, 72 years old, Thursday afternoon as he fought a fire in the basement of the Yeagley restaurant, which caused damage of approximately $3,000.

Younklin, who had been employed as a handyman at the restaurant and looked after the furnace, among other things, was eating his evening meal as were several patrons when he smelted smoke. He went into the cellar to the furnace to investigate.

A few minutes later he staggered out of the cellar into an alleyway near Dr. T. R. Shaw, Harry Camp and Melvin Hyatt where he slumped to the ground, dead. Examination of the body at the funeral parlors of Charles Humbert indicated a heart attack, superinduced by over exertion and near suffocation in the smoke-filled cellar, had caused his death.

The Yeagley restaurant, operated by G. A. Frantz and Allen Groff for the past three and a half years, was formerly owned by Winfield Yeagley. The two-story frame structure is situated between Dodd Hotel and the old Riverside Hotel building.

Fearing that the blaze may get out of control and probably sweep the downtown section of this Somerset county borough, firemen from Somerset, Meyersdale and Grantsville, Md., were called to help local volunteers. Fortunately there was no high wind at the time of the alarm.

The origin of the flames has not been determined. The fire apparently started near the furnace and may have been caused by a defective flue or chimney or possibly from an overheated furnace. The flames broke through the flooring in the restaurant and Manager Frantz and four patrons got out. However, in some strange manner the door became locked and it was necessary to break the glass for these five to leave the burning building.

Some of the furniture in an apartment over the restaurant was removed.

Deceased, who was unmarried, was born March 16, 1867, and had spent practically all of his life here. For a time he was in the lumber business but in recent years had been a handyman, looking after the furnace and otherwise helping out at the restaurant. Younklin, who roomed at the home of a sister-in-law, Mrs. Ella Younklin, is survived by two brothers, J. C. Younklin and Henry Younklin of Confluence, and two sisters, Mrs. J. W. Gerhart of Meyersdale and Mrs. Anna McClintock, of Confluence.

The funeral service will be held Sunday afternoon, the hour to be announced later, at the home of Mrs. Ella Younklin with Rev. J. O. Martin, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiating. Interment will be in Kingswood Cemetery.

Jacob C. Henry Called by Death

Connellsville, Pa., Jan. 18, 1941—Jacob C. Henry, 70 years old, of 359 East Crawford avenue, died at 2:30 o'clock this morning at Somerset County Home and Hospital where he had been a patient since Monday. He had previously been a patient for one week at Shady Side Hospital, Pittsburgh. Mr. Henry became ill last July and since that time had been failing rapidly.

Born and reared near Scotton, Somerset county, he was a son of the late Marion and Mary Henry. He learned the carpentry trade while in his teens and spent the early part of his life constructing schoolhouses in Upper and Lower Turkeyfoot townships and working on his father's farm. He was married September 22, 1890 to Miss Mary R. Younklin of near Scotton and 38 years ago came to Connellsville where he had since resided.

Shortly after moving here he became a building contractor and was in charge of the work during the construction of the First Methodist Church in South Pittsburgh street. Later he entered the coal business with J. L. Stader, having a mine near Indian Head, and upon giving this up took a position as manager of the work during the construction of the former. When the firm went out of business five years ago Mr. Henry retired. He was a member of the First Methodist Church and was active in church affairs, serving for many years on the official board of trustees.

Surviving are his wife and three children, Ray Younklin Henry, principal of Duquesne High School; Glenn Henry, head of the manual training department of Parsons, W. Excitement Blamed For Younklin Death At Confluence Fire

Special to The Courier

CONFLUENCE, Oct. 14, 1940—Coroner F. E. Sias of Boswell viewed the body of Albert Younklin, 72, of Confluence, after he fell dead in a Confluence alleyway during a fire in a restaurant where he had been employed as a handyman, and reported the death was due to over exertion and excitement. The medical examiner said that Younklin collapsed and died of a heart attack which was probably superinduced by over exertion and excitement as the result of the fire which damaged the interior of the Frantz and Groff Building, adjacent to Hotel Dods Thursday afternoon.

The coroner said Younklin was seated in the restaurant on the first floor when he smelted smoke. He rushed down the steps to the furnace room, discovered the flames and made an effort to extinguish them and then was forced to leave by a cellar exit. Upon reaching the alleyway, he collapsed.

Younklin's funeral was held Sunday afternoon.

"Wes" Younklin Is Victim of Stroke

HASKINS, OHIO.—Death came yesterday to one of Wood County's best known farmers, "Wes" Younklin, who departed this life at forty five minutes past noon at his late residence in Helena, O. He suffered a stroke on December 16th and was bedfast since January 16th. The funeral service for the late Center Township farmer will be held at the Funeral Home in Gibsonburg Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Burial will be made at the Union Hill Cemetery, four miles north of Bowling Green.

Weston Ulysses Younklin was born November 29, 1897 to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Younklin at New Philadelphia, Tuscarawas County, and was 73 years, 2 months and 4 days old at the time of his passing.

He came to this country when a young boy with the regular U. S. Army in 1927 and served for three years at Fort Douglas, in Salt Lake City. Upon being honorably discharged there he came home and married Viola Waldron in this city with Rev. L. S. Woodruff performing the ceremonies in the United Brethren Church on Jan. 18, 1929. To this union were born five children, who were reared on the farm in Center Township northeast of this city.

In 1929 he and his late wife moved to Helena to spend their remaining days with their son, James. Mrs. Younklin passed away July 31, 1934.

A former trustee of the United Brethren Church in the country northeast of here he was a very devout man. He was better known as "Wes" to his countless friends and in his later years acquired the additional popular name of "Grand dad." He had a great circle of friends and admirers who will greatly miss his passing.

Surviving him are a daughter, Mrs. Harvey (Abbie) Brim of Bowling Green and three sons, Robert A. of Painesville, N. Hamp., Russell M. of Kansas, O., and James W. of Helena. A daughter died at the age of three. Also surviving are also grandchildren and five brothers and sisters: Etta Avery and Lucy Kansas of Bowling Green; Elizabeth Dillman of Whitehouse; Jess Younklin of Ridgeport and P. F. Younklin of Haskins.
